RUSSIAN LIBERTY.

Zemstvos' Congress the First Step.

Governor-General Has Representative Present to Enforce the Rules.

Resolution Adopted for Organization of a General Zemstvo Bureau.

Only Two Speakers in Favor of Boycotting the Bureaucracy.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MOSCOW, Sept. 25.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Congress of the representatives of the Zemstvos and municipalities in the interior of Russia and of the Polish Lithuanian provinces began today at the residence of Prince Tcherbatoff, under the presidency of Count Heydon, one of the marshals of the nobility, who presented to the Emperor the petition drawn up by the last Russian Zemstvo Congress.

A representative of Gen. Durnovo, Governor-General of Moscow, was present with instructions to stop the meeting, if the provisions under which the delegates were permitted to assemble should be violated. These conditions provide that the sittings should not be public; that the president should not allow any departure from the lines mentioned in the programme, and that the speakers should not be permitted to say anything that might cause racial excitement. Representatives of the press, however, were allowed to attend, but accounts in the Russian papers will be censored.

The Congress adopted a resolution that the representatives of the Zemstvos in the city should participate in the Gosudarstvennaia Douma (the lower house of the National Assembly,) organizing therein a majority for their own interests and the furtherance of their work in the cause of liberty.

Only two speakers were in favor of boycotting the bureaucracy. Several of the Polish Lithuanian delegates made heated speeches. They declared that if the Russian intellectual classes are not to be represented in the Douma, the borderlands would be left to fight the struggle for liberty alone.

The Siberian delegates petitioned that the right of suffrage be extended to Siberia as soon as possible.

After a lengthy debate, the following resolution was adopted:

"The Zemstvo and Municipal Congress considers that the national Douma will not give national representation in the true sense. Having in view, however, that the electoral assemblies, uniting a great part of the social forces of the empire, may serve as rallying points for the general movement looking to the attainment of political freedom, this Congress recognizes the necessity for those Russian citizens who are united on the present programme formulated by the Zemstvo congresses to seek to enter the Douma in the largest numbers possible, forming there a united group with the object of obtaining guarantees of personal liberty and equality."

One hundred and thirteen Zemstvoists and sixty-six Municipal delegates are attending the Congress.

PRESIDENT AND FAMILY.

Chief Executive Creates a Forest Reserve and Mrs. Roosevelt Looks at School Quarters.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OYSTER BAY (N. Y.) Sept. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] By an executive order issued today, the President created one of the greatest forest reservations in the world; 465,900 acres of virgin timber land in Southwestern Utah are to be cared for by the United States. This vast tract lies in Washington and Iron counties. Title to about 90 per cent. of the land already rested in the government. The remainder has been obtained by condemnation. In this new virgin reservation, scientific forestry can show on a big scale the methods that should have saved the big forests of the Middle West.

RAN INTO OPEN SWITCH.

Express Crashes Into Local Passenger Train on Pennsylvania Road and Five Men Are Killed.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 25.—Five men were killed and several injured at Paoli Station, on the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, this afternoon when an express train crashed into a local passenger train. One of the dead men is supposed to be named Breslin and is said to be a brother-in-law of W. W. Atterbury, general manager of the Pennsylvania Railroad. The others killed are apparently mechanics, employes of the road. Their bodies were taken to Berwyn. The injured were brought to a hospital in Philadelphia on a special train.

The express train was the Sea Shore Limited, due in Broad Street station at 3:18. The passenger train, the last car of which was Mr. Atterbury's private car, was standing at Paoli Station, slowly filling with passengers. In some unexplained manner, the express ran into an open switch leading to the local track and crashed into the rear of the passenger train. Mr. Atterbury's car was demolished and the others damaged.

LEITER LEARNS JUST IN TIME.

ESTATE ESCAPES THE HANDS OF A PUBLIC ADMINISTRATOR.

Swedish Workman Presents a Claim for Damages, and the News Reaches Joseph, Who Has Himself Appointed — Many Family Secrets Guarded by the Action.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—[Exclusive Dispotch.] The twenty-million-dollar estate left by Levi Z. Leiter narrowly escaped passing into the hands of the public administrator, today, for the reason that it was probated in Washington, D. C., instead of Cook county, Illinois, where most of the property is located.

A Swede, who worked in one of the Leiter elevators, presented a claim for damages, and as there was no ancillary administrator appointed for Illinois, the administrator, when Joseph Leiter, warned of the danger, hastened to Chicago and had himself appointed.

Of the twenty millions at which the estate is valued, fully fifteen millions is in Illinois. Had the estate passed to the public administrator, it would have brought out many facts now guarded as family secrets.

Thomas was a foreman in Senator Clark's United Verde mines, two years ago. He came East and disappeared, presumably going to sea.

TO STOP POACHERS.

OTTAWA, (Ont.) Sept. 25.—The Department of Marine and Fisheries has referred to the imperial government the question of supplying the Canadian Cruiser Vigilant with quick-fire, 3-pound guns. Officials here believe that under the Rush-Bagot treaty of 1817 they can ship guns of that size, but it has been considered desirable to consult the imperial government before taking the step. If the answer from London is favorable, four quick-firing 3-pounders will be at once forwarded from Halifax and placed on board the Vigilant, on Lake Erie, and decisive steps will be taken to stop the wholesale poaching by American fishermen.

GREENE COPPER REPORT.

BOSTON (Mass.) Sept. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Greene Consolidated Copper Company issued its annual report here today, showing that $9,472,015 was the gross value of copper produced. The operating expenses were $6,666,628, leaving a net profit of $2,805,387. The construction account absorbed $831,000, leaving a balance of $1,974,387, of which $1,900,800 were paid out in dividends and $73,387 carried to the surplus account. A total of 62,538,812 pounds of copper were produced, at a cost of 10.6 cents per pound. Adding construction, the copper cost was 11.9 cents and the price averaged 14¼ cents.

SEPARATE IN PEACE.

Sweden and Norway Make Terms.

Principal Objects Attained by Swedes Are Arbitration and Demolished Forts.

Norway Secures What She Most Desires in Becoming Independent.

Both Sides Are Rejoicing. Text of the Protocol Made Public.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

STOCKHOLM (Sweden) Sept. 26.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Almost without a dissenting voice, the people of Sweden, so far as can be judged by the expressions of the press here and elsewhere, received with satisfaction the terms between Norway and Sweden reached at Karlstad. The general opinion is voiced by the Social Democrat's organ, which, in its leading editorial this morning, says: "Our principal objects, arbitration and the demolition of the frontier fortifications, having been attained, we trust that everybody in both countries will recognize that the two Scandinavian peoples mutually need each other's friendship, and that the agreement will bring more happiness to both."

In an interview with the Asociated Press, Christian Lundeberg, the Premier, who was one of the Swedish commissioners at Karlstad, said:

"I am satisfied that the result of the conference will be satisfactory to Sweden, as, with a few modifications, we gained almost everything asked for by the Riksdag. The result also ought to have the assurance of that independent position which has been the goal of all the efforts of all Norwegians. The concessions made by the Norwegian delegates at Karlstad were necessary. Considering everything, and in the interests of peace, it is to be hoped that the preliminary treaty will be ratified by both parties."

According to information received by the Associated Press, the neutral zone provided for in the agreement includes an area varying from three to twelve miles on each side of the frontier. On the Norwegian side, the zone runs from the northwestern point of Kirkoen to the point to where the Ulvan crosses the sixty-first meridian. The coast zones meet rather closely because of the possibility of having to fortify against a foreign enemy. The arrangement with regard to the fortresses, it is believed, will be satisfactory to all parties. Expressions of pleasure are heard everywhere because both sides have recognized the humanitarian principle to permit the Lapplanders to enjoy pasturage for their reindeer undisturbed. This is particularly pleasing to the Swedes from a sentimental standpoint, as the rights of the Lapplanders are looked upon as time-honored. The settlement of the transit question establishes a foundation for peaceful intercourse between the two countries.

TEXT OF PROTOCOL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 25.—The Associated Press succeeded in securing the text of the protocol signed at Karlstad, Saturday, by the Norwegian-Swedish delegates appointed to arrange terms for the dissolution of the union of Norway and Sweden, subject to the ratification of the Riksdag and Storthing. The historic document, which will become a treaty when ratified by the two Parliaments, consists of five main articles and two subclauses. The first article deals with arbitration; the second with the neutral zone and the demolition of the fortifications; the third with reindeer pastures, etc.; the fourth with interchange of territory, and the fifth with common waterways. The agreement provides for the compulsory arbitration before The Hague court of all disputes except matters of vital interest, for the period of a decade, and extension for other periods of ten years, unless two years' previous notice is given of an intention to abrogate it.

The treaty provides for a zone on either side of the frontier which shall forever be neutral, and for the demolition of the fortresses within that zone with the exception of the old portions of the fortifications of Fredericktson, Gyldenloeve and Overbjerget, which may remain, but which are not to be used as fortifications. A headquarter staff and garrison may be maintained at Frederickston, to the extent as prior to the erection of the new fortifications. No extensions of the Kongsvinger group of fortifications will be permitted, nor of the new forts erected within ten kilometers of the old fortress of Kongsvinger.

Article 1, relating to arbitration, is subdivided into eight clauses, as follows:

(A) The two countries undertake to submit all matters of dispute to The Hague arbitration court which do not affect the independence, integrity or vital interests of either.

(B) In the event of a difference of opinion between the two countries as to whether a given question touches the vital interests of one of them the matter shall be submitted to the arbitration tribunal for decision.

(C) Disputes in regard to the interpretation of the methods of carrying out the agreement to be arrived at in connection with the dissolution of the union shall not, however, be submitted to The Hague court.

(D,) (E,) (F) and (G.) Provide for the constitution of the court in accordance with the rules of The Hague convention, the exchanges of documents and who are qualified to act as arbitrators.

(H.) This agreement is to remain in force for a decade from the date of its signature. It may be extended for a similar period if it is not denounced by either party at least two years before the expiration of the term of ten years.

Article II. dealing with the neutral zone, is subdivided into nine clauses.

(A.) In order to insure peace between the two countries, a zone is to be provided on each side of the frontier which shall forever be neutral, and must not be used by either country for war operations, nor can there be stationed in the zone any armed military forces except as provided in clause "F," and such as are necessary to maintain order or cope with accidents. This zone shall be fifteen kilometers wide on both sides of the southern portion of the frontier of the two countries. Islands and skerries shall be included in this zone, but portions of the sea itself, with the bays within the neutral line, shall not be considered as within the zone. If either country constructs railroads through the zone, troops may be transported and people living within the zone may be collected there for military duty, but must be immediately transported away. Fortifications, war ports or depots for the army or navy must not be maintained, nor new ones established within the zone. This agreement is suspended in case the two countries assist each other in a war against a common enemy, and also if either goes to war with a third power.

(B.) Therefore, the fortifications now existing within the above neutral zone shall be demolished, viz., the Norwegian groups of fortifications at Frederiksten, at Gyldenloeve, Overjberget and Weden, and Hjelmkollen Oerje, with Kroksund and Dingarud.

(C.) The above-mentioned fortifications shall be demolished as such. The old fortifications at Frederiksten, Gyldenloeve and Overjberget may remain, but not as fortifications. Concerning the modern arrangements of the last three and concerning the action to be taken in connection with the other fortifications, more explicit agreements are related in a separate treaty of equal force with this.

(D.) The measures mentioned in clause "C" must be completed within eight months of this treaty becoming effective.

(E.) Provides that the above measures shall be carried out under the supervision of a commission composed of three officers of foreign nationality, neither Swedish nor Norwegian, each country choosing one and the two selecting the third; or in case of disagreement, by the President of Switzerland. More explicit rules concerning the control are to be contained in the aforementioned separate treaty.

(F.) Frederiksten may remain the headquarters of the staff of the district, and a place of garrison and site of the non-commissioned officers' academy to

EQUITABLE INQUIRY PROGRESSING SLOWLY.

[BY THE ASSOCIA TED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—State Attorney-General Mayer announced today that thus far he had received but one individual answer from any of the directors of the Equitable Life Assurance Society in the suits he has brought against the society and its receivers for an accounting of the Society's funds.

This director who answered took the ground that whatever wrong-doing there might have been on the part of the other directors, he, at least, was ignorant of anything wrong. Attorney-General Mayer has extended the time in which the directors may answer the suits against them to October 16.

MORTON AND THAT CAFE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Paul Morton, president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, made a statement today with reference to the society's ownership of the Café Savarin, the restaurant located in the Equitable Building in this city. The statement follows:

"There is nothing new or sensational about the Café Savarin. There has been no change in its relation to the Equitable Society, which now owns and operates it. I do not like the idea of the society being in the restaurant business, but it is a condition that I found, and we will have to continue in the business until I can make other arrangements.

LOWLY LOVE HIS UNDOING.

Young Count Erbach Deprived of Right of Succession for Marrying Washerwoman's Daughter.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BERLIN, Sept. 25.—[Atlantic Cable.] The hereditary Count Francis Von Erbach-Erbach, the 22-year-old son of the second branch of the ancient house of Erbach, in Hesse, has been set aside from the succession, according to the Tageblatt, for having married the daughter of a washerwoman of Erbach. The marriage, it is added, took place in London some weeks ago.

Count Francis having affirmed his intention to remain true to his wife, a council of all the courts of Erbach was called, the names of eight of whom are in the Almanac De Gotha as old enough to participate in the deliberations. The council decided that under the laws of the house Count Francis had forfeited his right to succeed his father and elected to succeed him Count Everard, who is 19 years old and second son of Count Arthur, the eldest living brother of the chief of this branch of the family.

ASKED MONEY FOR REVOLUTION.

GEN. MATOS APPROACHED THE ASPHALT COMPANY.

Native Venezuelan Employee Says the General Demanded Ten Thousand Dollars and He, The Employee, Was Fired for Mentioning It—Uncle Sam and Other Powers.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] W. W. Russell, United States Minister to Venezuela, in a cable dispatch to the State Department, today, said that so far as the situation in the controversy between Venezuela and France was concerned, the deadlock continued. President Castro refusing to withdraw from his position that [illegible] ment.

It is highly probable that Judge Calhoun, special commissioner of the United States to investigate the Venezuelan troubles, will include this in his programme, even if he has not already been ordered to do so from Oyster Bay. Meanwhile, it is thought at the State Department that this government will not commit itself, at least until after M. Jusserand, the French Ambassador, shall have arrived in this city. He is expected in about a week.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Testimony to the effect that the New York and Bermudez Asphalt Company did not assist in the recent revolution headed by Gen. Matos in Venezuela was taken here today. The testimony was intended for evidence in Venezuelan courts in a suit for $11,000,000 which the Venezuelan government had brought against the asphalt company for damages in connection with the Venezuela revolution.

Vencentio Leon, a native Venezuelan, said that he was an employé of the asphalt company at the time when the revolution began. He said that Gen. Matos came to him and demanded that the New York and Burmudez Asphalt Company pay to the revolutionists $10,000. He reported the demand to Maj. Rafferty, an official of the asphalt company, who declined to pay this or any other sum. For his part in making this demand, Leon said that he was discharged by Maj. Rafferty.

Leon also said that he had also received a letter from Luigi, a former sympathizer with the revolutionists, who was released from prison recently. Luigi tried to induce him, Leon said, to return to South America, as a patriotic Venezuelan, and testify in behalf of the government in the present suit, offering political amnesty in return for such testimony.

UNCLE SAM'S CO-OPERATION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, Sept. 25.—The officials here believe that developments in the Venezuelan situation await the arrival of Judge W. J. Calhoun, United States special commissioner, and Ambassador Jusserand at Washington. The Foreign Office here has been advised that Judge Calhoun and M. Taigny have gone over the case of the French Cable Company, and the officials here are not disposed to proceed against Venezuela or any other southern republic until after the fullest conference with the United States, owing to the privileged position of the United States toward South and Central America.

At the same time, it is held that this privileged position entails the co-operation of the United States toward requiring Venezuela to observe the usual obligations to other powers.

PALMA'S VICTORY.

Complete Returns of Cuban Election.

Supporters of the Government Victorious in Each One of the Provinces.

Arrest of Col. Ferrara, the Liberal Candidate for the Presidency.

Chief Leaders in Cienfuegos Dynamite Plot Were Two Italian Anarchists.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

HAVANA, Sept. 25.—[By West India Cable.] Complete returns from the entire island, which have been delayed owing to the bad condition of the telegraph service, show that in the election last Saturday for members of the election boards, the supporters of the government were victorious in every province, not having lost one important place. The victory was so complete that it is now generally admitted to mean the reelection in December of President Palma and the election to the Vice-Presidency of Mendoz Capote, the leader of the Moderate Party.

Col. Ferrara, secretary to Gen. Gomez, the Liberal candidate for the Presidency, was arrested today, charged with seditious and revolutionary utterances. This makes the sixth charge now pending against him, the others including participation in the burning of the City Hall at Vueltas. Col. Ferrara is an Italian, but he is a veteran of the last Cuban War and one of the most prominent lawyers in Havana.

Today's mail brought to the Liberals the first report from their adherents in [illegible] last, which resulted in the killing of Congressman Enrique Villuendas and Chief of Police Iliance. This report differs very little from former accounts, except that it lays on the Moderates the blame for starting the disturbances.

Additional reports from Cienfuegos received by the government say that the chief leaders in the alleged dynamite plot were two Italian anarchists named Humberto Bruni Bove and Julio Grau, who have been making seditious speeches there and elsewhere for some time past.

Order continues throughout the island.

TOM PLATT CAN TALK.

He Declares That Philosophy is the Cure for Every Evil Life Has.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Philosophy, my boy," said Senator Thomas C. Platt, of New York, today, as his special car Courier rolled into the Union Station, "is the cure of every evil life has. When discontented with any situation, philosophize. Think it over, be judicial with yourself. You can't have any too close communication with yourself at any time. When you are able to talk to yourself freely and to analyze things, you are a true philosopher. Contentment and happiness will then be yours. I'm a philosopher."

Senator Platt's body is feeble, his invalid chair is at his command in his private car, but his mind is extremely active and his eyes bright and clear. He was willing to talk on some subjects, and Mrs. Platt listened intently to every word he uttered.

"My mind never felt better, and I am returning to my duties in New York glad that I have seen a great vision of this wonderful West and that I know more about the United States than I ever did before. You are building a remarkable empire west of the Missouri, an empire in which every financier and corporation of the East is now virtually interested.

"Politics? No, it is not annoying me just now. I am going straight to Washington to see the President. He is anxious to see me, and I am anxious to see him."

VLADIVOSTOK ITSELF AGAIN.

Town Which Had Narrow Escape is Reviving.

American, Japanese and Russian Firms Busy.

Details of Naval Armistice Are Agreed Upon.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOKIO, Sept. 25.—[By Pacific Cable.] Japanese bonds have appreciated considerably, owing to heavy and continuous purchases by foreigners.

The former Russian cruiser Novik will, it is expected, be raised about the middle of next month.

KOMURA WELL AGAIN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Baron Komura, the Japanese peace envoy, has so far recovered from his illness that he will start on his journey to Japan Wednesday, via Vancouver.

VLADIVOSTOK, Sept. 25.—The old-time business activity of this city has been rapidly returning since the proclamation of peace. The inhabitants who left here during the trouble are returning, commercial and industrial life is resuming and foreign steamers and sailing vessels with freight are already arriving. Forty-five foreign steamers are expected from Hongkong and Shanghai soon.

The municipal authorities have received inquiries from thirty American firms concerning the acquirement of business quarters at Vladivostok. Japanese firms are also coming in and are preparing to lease ground on which to erect buildings. Russians are also organizing companies to deal in Far Eastern products.

STILL KICKING AGAINST TREATY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOKIO, Sept. 24, 5 p.m.—The Emperor is giving personal attention to the memorials presented to the throne against the terms of the peace arranged with Russia. These memorials now number nearly one hundred. The agitators, who are trying to interview privy councilors, advocate refusal to ratify the treaty. The public is almost unanimous in demanding the resignation of the Cabinet. Even the Moderates do not conceal their grief at the result of the negotiations.

The Russian charge that the Japanese committed murder and pillage on Sakhalin Island is ridiculed by the Japanese here. It is said to be totally unfounded in fact.

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, former Chancellor of the Exchequer in Great Britain, sailed from Yokohama yesterday morning for Singapore.

NAVAL ARMISTICE DETAILS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 25.—Details were obtained today of the naval armistice and demarcation line along the Siberian coast arranged by the Japanese and Russians September 18. The line of demarcation, which cannot be traversed by warships or vessels of either country, starts from Cape Rodsonoff, runs east and then north through the middle of the Straits of Tartary to Cape Elizabeth, thence east to near Kamchatka, thence south to longitude 50.50 North and then east again to the Commander Islands, about five degrees north of the line. The narrowest part of the Straits of Tartary is made neutral, that is to say, ships of neither country can traverse it.

At the beginning of the conference of the admirals, which occurred in Korsakoff Bay, Admiral Shimamamura, for Japan, proposed to establish a line from coast to coast about forty miles south of Vladivostok, but Rear-Admiral Jessen, for Russia, rejected the proposition.

All the details of the armistice in Korea have not yet been settled. The representatives of both armies are still working on them.

WITTE IN BERLIN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BERLIN, Sept. 25.—Chancellor Von Buelow came to Berlin from Baden this morning and received M. Witte. They talked more than an hour. The Russian statesman lunched with Baron Von Richthofen, Secretary for Foreign Affairs, the Russian chargé d'affaires, M. Boutatzel, also being present. M. Witte and Baron Von Richthofen afterward conversed for some time. They had exchanged calls yesterday evening.

Among those who saw M. Witte at his hotel was Ernest Von Mendelssohn-Bartholdy, whose house has been Russia's bankers for a century. Herr Mendelssohn called as a friend and there is no reason to suppose that the question of a loan was even mentioned. Arthur Fisher, a partner in the house, saw M. Witte in Paris and it was reported that a loan was discussed, but it is definitely stated that such was not the case.

M. Witte's comings and goings are watched for at his hotel so continuously that he used a private entrance, on a back street, today.

The future of M. Witte is the subject of much talk among his friends, to whom he says he intends, after having aided in the settlement of the questions immediately connected with the peace negotiations, to ask Emperor Nicholas's leave to retire from public service. One of M. Witte's friends said to him that Emperor Nicholas would probably say that, as a patriotic Russian, his duty was to remain in public life and give the country the benefit of his prestige abroad.

HUNS CENSURE EMPEROR-KING.

COALITION LEADERS SEVERE ON AGED FRANCIS JOSEPH.

Leaders of the Hungarian Nation in Its Public Affairs Express Deepest Regret that His Majesty Did Not Listen to Their Advice When They Went to Vienna at His Request.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BUDAPEST (Hungary) Sept. 25.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Executive Committee of the coalition parties, summoned to discuss the situation arising from the ultimatum presented to the Hungarian leaders by the King-Emperor, has passed what amounts to a severe vote of censure of His Majesty and his advisers. The committee, in the resolution, expresses the deepest regret that the King-Emperor did not listen to the statesmen summoned by him to Vienna, who represent the majority in the Hungarian Parliament and constitute therefore the leaders of the nation in its public affairs.

The committee further indignantly censures those who advised His Majesty to take such a course and approves the action of the coalition leaders in refusing to negotiate with Count Goluchowski and in declining the memorandum presented by the King-Emperor as a violation of the constitution and unsuitable for the settlement of the present constitutional conflict.

ALL PARTIES SUMMONED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BUDAPEST, Sept. 25.—The Executive Committee of the coalition parties in the Hungarian Diet today decided to summon a general conference of all the parties forming the coalition, October 3, for the purpose of arriving at a common agreement on the answer to be made to the conditions imposed by the King-Emperor.

The committee also decided to invite to the conference all deputies outside the coalition who desire to participate in the defense of the constitution.

EXCITEMENT IS INCREASING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Sept. 26.—Special dispatches from Budapest to this morning's London newspapers indicate that the excitement consequent on the strained relations between the crown and the united opposition in the Hungarian Diet is increasing, and that, while the leaders of the coalition parties are counseling the people to refrain from violating the law, inflammatory speeches are being made by prominent persons in various sections of the country.

Probably for the first time, the personal popularity of the King-Emperor is being assailed.

SOCIALISTS PROTESTING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

VIENNA, Sept. 25.—Social Democrats held five separate mass meetings today, at each of which resolutions were passed protesting against the attitude of the Premier regarding electoral reforms in Hungary. The meetings were largely attended and several violent speeches were made.

When the meetings were adjourned the Social Democrats assembled and paraded through the streets. The parade was interfered with by the police, who made a number of arrests.

MEDICAL MEN MEET IN BOSTON.

BOSTON, Sept. 25.—Physicians, surgeons and bacteriologists from all parts of the United States and from Canada and Mexico have come to this city to attend the thirty-third annual meeting of the American Public Health Association, which opened today and will continue until Friday night. A wide range of subjects for discussion touching the preservation of public health has been prepared. Section meetings were held today at the Medical Library, in the Fenway. The convention proper will hold its opening sessions tomorrow and all its general meetings will take place in the Y.M.C.A. building. A public reception will be tendered the delegates Tuesday. Wednesday and Thursday there will be excursions to points of interest, in addition to the business sessions. Friday will be devoted to reading and discussion of papers. The president of the association is Dr. F. F. Westbrook of Minneapolis.

WILL DEFEND ITALIANS' RIGHTS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—On recommendations by Count Saybaud Massiglia the Italian Consul-General, three large Italian charitable societies in this city have united for the purpose of establishing a bureau which will investigate all complaints made by Italians and all injuries done to Italians anywhere in the United States. The bureau will have the broadest possible scope, and will bring to the attention of the government at Washington all matters which may involve international inquiry. Outside of these matters, attention is to be especially directed toward relieving the great congestion of Italians in New York by distributing them among the rural communities, where work will be found for them on the farms. The bureau will be under the joint control of three charitable societies.

CATHOLIC MILITARY ORDERS ARE UNITING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—Commanding officers of the Catholic Knights of America and of the Knights of St. John took the first step, yesterday, toward amalgamating all Catholic military orders in the country under the general name of the Catholic Military Federation of America.

The federation was organized by a committee from each order at a secret meeting held here.

Harmony prevailed throughout the meeting, and officers and an executive committee for the new federation were elected, headed by Dr. Hubert Stratton of Chicago, as president.

The federation represents a membership of 30,000 men, 20,000 of whom were members of the Knights of St. John and the remainder members of the Catholic Knights of America.

The federation will hold its national encampment at Buffalo next June.

the same extent as before the erection of the new fortifications. The Konsvingers group of fortifications may not be extended, as regards the erection of armaments of the garrison, which latter hitherto has not exceeded 400 men, not counting conscripts holding their yearly exercises.

In consequence of the above agreements, new fortifications may not be erected within ten kilometers of the old fortress of Kongsvingers.

The succeeding clauses provide that, in case of disagreements, to the meaning of this clause which diplomacy may be unable to solve, they shall be submitted to the arbitration tribunal of three members, chosen in accordance with The Hague convention.

The last clause read: "This agreement becomes effective immediately. It cannot be broken by only one party to the agreement."

Article III refers to reindeer pastures, etc., as follows:

(A.) For humanitarian reasons, both countries agree to grant each country's nomadic Laplanders the privileges contained in the amendment of 1883 to the treaty of 1751, which amendment neither country shall demand to be canceled without the consent of the other.

(B.) Enumerates the conditions under which Laplanders may pasture reindeer in Norway until the end of 1917.

(C.) In ample time before the end of the year 1917 negotiations are to be opened concerning the above matter.

(D.) Stipulates arbitration in case of difference.

Article IV deals with inter-traffic, as follows:

(A.) Each country agrees, neither through prohibitory import or export laws, to in any way interfere with or make difficult the transport of goods. In case of war complications with or between other powers, or in other extraordinary cases, arms and ammunition and other war material shall be deemed contraband. Explanations may be made as demanded by international laws or the security of their own neutrality. Exceptions may also be made for sanitary regulations.

(B.) Transit goods must not be taxed with export duty or other similar charges, nor must any distinction be made in charges of transit.

(C, D and E.) Contain rules concerning the charges on transit goods. The principal effect is that no higher charges shall be made than in the case of the countrys' own subjects.

(F.) This agreement is for thirty years from January 1, 1906, and may be prolonged for a similar period if notice of cancellation is not given at least five years prior to the end of that period.

(G) and (H) contain stipulations concerning the Ofoten Railroad and arbitration.

Article V, referring to common waterways, is as follows:

"(A) If a proposition is made for the damming of waterways or similar work within one country, that country's laws shall decide the matter although the action may interfere with the water of the other country, the inhabitants of which have the same rights.

"(B) In accordance with international precedence, it is stipulated that such works may not be carried out without the permission of the other country if a change of water course should substantially interfere with the use of such water for commercial purposes, or cause great changes within an extended area." (C) and (D) concern matters of detail.

"(E) This agreement is valid for fifty years from January 1, 1906, and is prolonged for an equal period if notice of cancellation is not given for an arbitration agreement."

(F) provides for an arbitration agreement.

The protocol was signed for Sweden by Christian Lundeberg, the Premier; Count A. F. Wachtmeister, Minister of Foreign Affairs; Hjalmer Kammarskjold, Minister of Education, and Karl Staff; for Norway by Christian Michaelsen, the Premier; Carl D. Berner, President of the Storthing; J. Loveland, Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Benjaman Vogt, former Minister of the Interior.

The delegates agreed on the following order of business:

First—To each country's Parliament the above treaty shall be submitted for ratification, subject to the ratification of the other country to be mutually binding, when, as stated hereinafter, Sweden recognizes Norway as an independent country dissolved from the union with Sweden.

Second—When the Riksdag and Storthing have presented identical ratification bills, a proposition will be laid before the Riksdag asking the Riksdag: First, on Sweden's part, to cancel the Riksakt or charter of 1815, and being the fundamental laws on the terms that the union of Norway and Sweden be indissoluble and irrevocable; second, to consent that the King may recognize Norway as a separate country from Sweden.

Third—When such recognition is given, treaties will in accordance with the Riksdag and Storthing's decision, consenting to the above agreement, be signed in accordance with the usual international procedure.

Fourth—After these treaties are signed, Sweden shall immediately notify all the foreign powers with which diplomatic relations are maintained of her recognition of Norway as an independent country.

Fifth—Each country then shall request the foreign powers with whom common treaties exist to so modify such treaties that one country in no manner remains responsible for the acts of the other.

Sixth—When Sweden recognized Norway's independence and the above treaties are signed, negotiations shall immediately be opened, concerning the settlement of such matters which must cease or be changed on account of the dissolution of the union between the two countries.

CHRISTIANIA FAVORABLE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHRISTIANIA (Norway) Sept. 25.—The agreement reached at Karlstad was published here this evening. The papers got out extras and crowds thronged the streets. The impression formed was favorable to the agreement.

ACCEPTING THE SITUATION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHRISTIANIA, Sept. 26.—All indications point to the acceptance by Norwegians generally of the terms of the agreement reached at Karlstad, though at present some persons are inclined to severely criticise the Norwegian commissioners for conceding so much to Sweden. As far as the Associated Press has been able to ascertain, the results meet the approval of the great bulk of conservative opinion. The press as a whole accepts the situation, though a few Chauvinists continue to voice their opposition to the agreement. The provincial press also appears to accept the result with equanimity.

The Verdensgang this morning says: "We must acknowledge that our delegates obtained as much as possible, and that a large majority of the people of the nation agree with the delegations that the question of fortifications was of secondary importance, considering the undoubted security obtained by Norway as the result of the convention."

EPIDEMIC OF COLDS.

Chicago is in the grip of an epidemic of colds. According to physicians, a species of microbe malignancy has been aroused as a result of the unusually heavy rainfall of the last two months which has dampened the pollen now blowing about the city and suburbs. Dry pollen, the medical men say, is harmless, but when it is wet the microbes become malignant. Physicians in the down-town office buildings say they have treated more patients for colds this month than for years past. The trouble, as a rule, appears to affect the throat.

SOCIETY PLOT AND DIVORCE.

Joseph F. Callender, general agent of the Ocean Accident and Guaranty Corporation, was made defendant in a suit for divorce brought by Mrs. Florence Hewitt Callender in the Circuit Court today. In the bill, Callender is accused of having transferred his affections from his wife to another woman. Both Mrs. Callender and her husband are prominent in South Side society. A stirring revelation following the filing of the bill was the allegation that Mrs. Callender was the victim of a society plot in connection with the divorce. The broad announcement of Mrs. Callender's engagement to Dr. J. W. Coyner appeared in Peoria newspapers, it is said, before the Callender divorce suit had been hinted at. Dr. Coyner's home, as well as that of Mrs. Callender, was formerly Peoria. Dr. Coyner is now said to live in Hollywood, a suburb of Los Angeles, where, according to the Peoria announcement, the couple would reside.

ECONOMIC CONGRESS AT MONS FAVORS JOINT DIRECTION.

Motion in Favor of International Control is Signed by the Duke of Abruzzi and Others — Belgium is Invited to Take the Initiative in the Matter.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

MONS (Belgium) Sept. 25.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The International Congress of Economic Expansion at its session today, discussed a plan for placing polar exploration under international direction. A motion to this effect was signed by the Duke of Abruzzi, the Duke of Orleans, Dr. Charcot, the French Antarctic explorer, Lieut. Gerlache, the Belgium Antarctic explorer, Dr. Nordenskjold, the Swedish Arctic explorer, and many other explorers.

The signers are said to be certain to have the coöperation of Commander Peary and Dr. Nansen, and practically all the Arctic explorers. Dr. Nordenskjold, Lieut. Shackleton of the British navy, the Antarctic explorer, and W. C. Bruce, it is said, were ready to take part in an international expedition.

A motion was adopted approving the plan for international direction of polar expedition, and asking Belgium to take the initiative in inviting other nations.

The congress also considered a proposition for the creation of an international ethnographic bureau for the purpose of assembling the information gathered by all scientific missions.

Frederick J. V. Skiff of Chicago was among the supporters of the proposal to establish the bureau, which was adopted. A committee was appointed to organize it.

The political section discussed trusts and tariffs without reaching a determination.

Minister of State Bernhart addressed the marine section upon the necessity for an international agreement upon maritime legislation.

The political section discussed trusts and tariffs, and adopted a motion calling on the various governments to introduce legislation for the control of industrial combinations.

FOR NEW YORK'S MAYOR.

Republicans Nominate John Ford and Justice Seabury by Municipal Ownership League.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The nominating committee of the Fusion conference met at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, this afternoon, and after a two-hours' meeting, failed to agree upon a candidate for Mayor. Former State Senator John Ford was nominated as the candidate of the Republicans and Justice Seabury as the candidate of the Municipal Ownership League. R. Fulton Cutting of the Citizens' Union opposed Ford and said that the Union could not under any circumstances accept him. He also opposed Seabury, and proposed the name of Robert Grier Monroe as the candidate of the Citizens' Union.

When the Fusion conference met tonight, the nominating committee reported that no action had been taken toward selecting a candidate and the conference adjourned until Wednesday evening.

The committee asked the conference for further time, and the committee was given the desired delay.

Bigelow, the defaulting bank president, were disposed of at public auction today to the highest bidder by the Wisconsin Trust Company, trustee. The assets, which consist of stocks and bonds in mining and industrial companies, brought approximately about 30 per cent. of their appraised value. With about three-fourths of the list disposed of today, about $156,000 was realized. The remaining portion of assets will be sold tomorrow. C. W. Pfister was the heaviest buyer of the day's session, his purchases running well up into the tens of thousands of dollars.

"SELF-MADE" MEN DYING OUT.

Under Rockefeller System, Efficiency Can no Longer be Home-made, Says Rockefeller's Professor.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—The era of the "self-made" man is waning. Efficiency can no longer be manufactured or home-made. Competition of the present day is too much for the self-made man. So holds Prof. Nathaniel Butler, principal of the School of Education department of the University of Chicago, who spoke yesterday at the closing session of the twentieth annual convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew in Mandel Hall, at the University of Chicago. The subject of his address was "Education as a Factor of Efficient Manhood." Prof. Butler spoke in the place of President William R. Harper, who was too ill to attend the session.

"The term 'self-made man' is a mere fallacy," Prof. Butler declared. "The 'self-made' man's success is due only to unusual ability. Efficient manhood—the manhood that ought to be offered to the world—no longer can be home-made. In this time of competition, the world is willing to pay the highest price for the efficient man just as for articles of commercial use."

Gifford Pinchot, head of the Bureau of Forest Reserves, spoke on "Public Ideals." "I feel incapable of expressing the importance of the creation of a public spirit among young men," he said. "The one great thing that Theodore Roosevelt has done for the United States is not his service in the recent peace conference, nor the use of the prestige of his great office in behalf of decency. The vital and important thing lies in the change which he has brought in the attitude of young men toward political life. The time is not long past when it was not considered respectable to go into politics. The time is not far distant when it won't be respectable not to go into politics. When this time comes, the country will do things in the way that were never done before."

Tug Gets Distressed Vessel Safely Into Port.

Rise in Salt River Again Damages Arizona Canal.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—In a sinking condition, the auxiliary schooner Sotoyme arrived off the heads this morning in tow of the steam schooner Celia, and signaled for a tug. The Sea King put a line aboard and took the disabled vessel safely into the harbor. The crew were exhausted with their work at the pumps to keep the steamer afloat until she could be towed.

The Sotoyome left Albion September 9, and became waterlogged the same day, and became waterlogged the same day. She succeeded in getting her to this port, though her deckload of 2000 ties was jettisoned yesterday.

HEARS DISTRESS SIGNALS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

VICTORIA (B. C.) Sept. 25.—Capt. Briggs of the British ship Leicester Castle from Acapulco in ballast, reported today that, Wednesday night, when off the entrance to the Straits of Juan de Fuca, he and his crew heard a horn blowing at intervals for over an hour. He was unable to make out the direction. He did not think it was a steam fog horn. It seemed more like a distress signal. Off the entrance of the Straits, he sighted two spars which had the appearance of not being long from the water.

Capt. Crosby, former master of the Leicester Castle, died at Acapulco, and Capt. Sprague, mate, took command. Capt. Oliver is here from England to take charge of the vessel.

The Leicester Castle is the vessel on which three men mutinied when off the Pitcairn Islands, some years ago, and shot and killed the second mate and wounded Capt. Peattie.

HILL ROAD AGENCIES.

CHANGES ARE BEING MADE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—President J. J. Hill, Freight Traffic Manager A. L. Broughton, both of St. Paul, and Assistant Traffic Manager H. M. Adams of Seattle are making a number of changes in some of the western offices of the road. This means a number of transfers and promotions, among others E. S. Blair, the Hill road's agent in San Francisco for the past seven and a half years, is to take charge of the company's freight and passenger business as general agent at Seattle, Wash., October 1. He is to be succeeded here by James Young, who for several years has represented the road in Milwaukee.

The stepping out of the Spokane office of Mayor of Blair, H. A. Jackson goes to Butte, Mont., as assistant general freight and passenger agent. Archibald Gray leaves the Butte office and goes to Sioux City, Iowa, as assistant general freight and passenger agent.

LOYALTON'S CLASS.

COURT PLACES THE TOWN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—The Supreme Court today upheld the decision of the Superior Court of Lassen county, affirming that the town of Loyalton is a municipality of the sixth class. The action was originally brought by the people ex rel. D. Russell against Loyalton for the purpose of determining the right of the town to hold and enjoy the franchise and to exercise the powers of a municipal corporation of the sixth class, which it had assumed to be in certain proceedings for organization and incorporation.

The judgment of the Superior Court has been for the defendant, and on the appeal of the defendant, Russell, the Supreme Court affirmed that judgment. One of the points made by the appellant was that the election was held September 9, 1901, a legal holiday. The court held that there is no statute prohibiting the holding of an election on a legal holiday.

SAVED THE GEDNEY.

SURVEY SHIP DAMAGED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SEATTLE, Sept. 25.—The steamer Excelsior, Capt. John Jordan, saved the United States survey ship Gedney from going to pieces on the Battery Island Reef, Wrangle Narrows, on which the latter had run in a fog. The narrow channel and the heavy fog rendered the position of both vessels extremely dangerous. After parting several cables, the Excelsior succeeded in towing the vessel from the rocks. They both went to Wrangle.

The extent of the Gedney's injuries is not known. It is not thought that it is seriously damaged. The Excelsior arrived in port, tonight, from Valdez and way points.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Unknown Miner's Death.

REDDING, Sept. 25.—An unknown miner fell from a brakebeam of a south-bound freight, near Redding last night, and was cut to pieces by the cars, the remains being scattered along the track. They were found today. No means of identification were found on the body. A purse with $10 and a letter head of the Delamar Mining Union was in a pocket.

San Francisco's Finances.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—The annual statement of the financial condition of the city and county of San Francisco presented by Auditor Baehr to the Board of Supervisors, today, shows a total value of all assessed property of $524,285,667, with an outstanding indebtedness of $4,243,372.

Weight of Butter.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—A fight is being made to determine the constitutionality of the law passed at the last session of the Legislature requiring all venders of butter to mark plainly on every package sold the weight contained in such package. The first conviction under the act was had recently in the police court, Robert Murdock being fined $20, with the alternative of twenty days in jail for violating its provisions. He applied to the Supreme Court, and was granted a writ of habeas corpus today. The case was made returnable October 21.

Fatal Blow to Fishermen.

NEWPORT (Or.) Sept. 25.—The steamer W. H. Harrison went ashore at the entrance of Alsea Bay Friday morning and was broken up by a heavy wind Friday night. The loss of the vessel is a hard blow to Alsea fishermen, as all the supplies for the cannery are lost.

Italian Cruiser Calabria Departs.

SAN FRANUCISCO, Sept. 25.—The Italian cruiser Calabria, which has been in port for several days, sailed today for Honolulu, en route to the Orient and Manila, Australia and East India, on the way to the Red Sea and the Mediterranean. One of her officers is Prince Ferdenando of Savoy, who has been extensively entertained by prominent Italian residents of this city.

Boy Jumping Freights Killed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—While jumping on and off freight trains near Twenty-fourth and Capp streets yesterday afternoon, Herbert Frye, a thirteen-year-old boy residing at 1012 Shotwell street, lost his footing on a car step and the heavy wheels of a long train severed one arm and both legs and the other arm was so badly crushed that amputation was found necessary. He was taken to the City and County Hospital and died soon after his arrival.

Crushing Good-priced Grapes.

SANTA ROSA, Sept. 25.—Grape crushing is in progress in many wineries of this county, and in a few days it will be in full blast. Some of the wineries are paying $18 per ton for Zinfandels, and in some cases a little higher price is reported. The Carignan variety has brought $20.50 per ton. Prices have gone a little higher than the latter quotation in a few cases. One sale of grapes at $22 per ton was reported a short time ago.

Savings Banks' Resources Increase.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—A statement issued today by the State Board of Bank Commissioners gives the aggregate resources of the twelve savings banks of San Francisco at the close of business August 25, 1905, as $177,010,363. The aggregate deposits in these banks on the same date last year were $163,140,195. As compared with the last previous statement of aggregate condition under date of May 29, 1905, the resources of the city savings banks have gained $2,383,662, and the deposits have increased $3,296,316.

Arizona Canal Again Damaged.

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Sept. 25.—Another rise in Salt River today, owing to recent storms, did further damage to Arizona canal dam. About fifty feet of a gravel dyke constructed above the dam around a break caused by a former flood, to facilitate repairs, was swept away. There has been some rain in these parts for the last day or two and considerable in the surrounding mountains.

Sues President for Accounting.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—The Oroville Gold Dredging and Exploration Company brought suit today in the Superior Court against its former president, Frederick W. Bradley, asking for an accounting of all his acts as the chief officer of the corporation from March, 1901, to April, 1905. It is alleged that Bradley abused the confidence reposed in him, causing a loss to the company of more than $900,000.

Killings in Chinatown.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—As the result of a war between rival tongs, a double murder occurred in Chinatown tonight, the victims being Lew Dock and Lee Moy. The tragedies were less than two hours apart, Dock being shot at the corner of Jackson street and Ross Alley, while Moy met his death later in the evening at Clay and Dupont streets.

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Russell H. Bates, Deputy United States Marshal at Nushagak, Alaska, and Miss Barrett, formerly of Los Angeles, were married in Portland by Justice William Reid today. Mrs. Bates has been a resident of Alaska for the past year.

SENATORS GAVE BILLS TO COLORED PORTER.

Prosecution Adds Another Sensational Chapter in Trial of Emmons When Attendant Lee is Put on Stand and Confesses Completely.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 25.—Another sensational chapter was added to those already unfolded in the trial of E. J. Emmons, when Arthur Lee, a colored attendant employed during the last session of the Legislature in the Senate cloakroom, confessed on the stand today that he had received three of the packages of marked bills from three of the men now under indictment and had kept them in his possession for several days at least. The testimony did not show where the bills had finally gone and the question of their disposal is the all-important one to those closely interested in the trial.

It was to a colored attendant of the Senate, Arthur P. Lee, by name, that the marked bills prepared in San Francisco for delivery to the four State Senators now accused, were entrusted. Such was the main testimony. Lee, the negro in question, made a full confession of the part he took in the affair on the witness stand in Judge Hart's court today, and the last surprise of the prosecution created a stir that was almost equal to the appearance of Harry Bunkers as a witness for the State.

Lee, who has been in custody as a witness since the early part of this month, affirmed that three packages of the marked bills were in his possession for at least a day or two and that he had an opportunity to compare the numbers and descriptions with a published account in a San Francisco paper. He told of one ineffectual attempt which he says was made to dispose of them, but the final disposition made of the incriminating currency was not disclosed either by prosecution or defense.

WHERE IS MONEY?

And when court adjourned there was but one question in every mouth. What had become of the marked bills? Bunkers told of the efforts made to get them together. Lee follows this with a declaration to the effect that he was for a time the custodian of three out of the four packages, and once while on the stand he testified that he had taken them to William H. Hanlon. This, however, was stricken out as unresponsive, and the examining attorneys appeared careful not to ask what was finally done with them.

Lee told of having received three envelopes. The first, he said, contained the money paid to Emmons and contained seven $50 bills, which he afterward ascertained to be those enumerated in the paper, and in addition a roll of currency of smaller denominations, amounting to $115. There was no attempt at explanation of the presence of this money in the envelope.

Next, according to Lee, Emmons had given him Wright's envelope, which he testified contained seven $50 bills and $420 over and above this in twenty, ten and five dollar greenbacks. He had been instructed, however, to dispose of the $50 bills only, from which it might be inferred that no suspicion attached to the other bills.

Lee's testimony would indicate that French disposed of his roll of bills, as he had gold, which was exchanged for greenbacks when the effort was made to collect all the marked money. This is the only evidence tending to show that any of the bills were put in circulation, and it is by no means regarded as conclusive.

At the present time there is nothing to show where the money finally landed.

HE SAW EMMONS.

The witness said: "I first saw Senator Emmons after the exposé at his desk and later—I should say about fifteen minutes afterward—he joined me in a small space behind a partition in the Sergeant-at-Arms room. No one else was there at that time."

"What occurred at that time," was asked.

"He took an envelope out of his pocket and gave it to me, saying that he did not want to be arrested with any money on him. We did not talk any more that day about the bills, but I saw him alone the next morning in his room at the State House Hotel.

"There he told me that he wanted me to take the envelope to a certain place. He wanted me to go to Senator Wright and he would give me a package. I saw him in his room again half an hour later."

"What occurred?"

"He told me to take the money he had given me the day before and also Senator Wright's money, and to give them to Dr. Matthews, in the Capitol building, who would give them back to Jordan."

"What was in the envelope given you by Senator Emmons?"

"There were seven $50 bills and $115 in $20, $10 and $5 greenbacks. The $50 bills were inclosed by an elastic and the rest were just folded."

"Did you receive any other package."

"He gave me Senator Wright's money next day. It was in an envelope sealed up and it contained seven $50 bills and $420 in $20, $10 and $5 greenbacks. They were arranged in the same way as the others."

COMPARED THE BILLS.

"You did examine or compare the bills?"

"I examined and compared them in the basement under the Senate, where the wood was kept."

"How did you compare them?"

"By the Bulletin of January 30; by the figures and letters that were said to have been on the bills. I found that they corresponded with the figures and letters in the Bulletin." Lee identified the copy of the Bulletin and pointed out the article referred to. The paper was introduced in evidence.

Lee said: "I made the comparison Tuesday morning and I saw Emmons later in the Senate. Then he told me to go to Dr. Matthews. I saw him again a little later and told him that the doctor would not take the money; that he had cold feet or something. He told me to keep them and said he would tell me what to do with them."

He stated that he was taken into custody by County Detective O'Neill, who showed him no warrant, but who said he was wanted on a felony charge. He had come to Sacramento on a river boat.

When asked to relate what had passed between himself and District Attorney Seymour, Lee said: "Mr. Seymour asked me—he told me to tell the truth and I said I would. He said I could stand pat or tell the truth."

When this had been settled, the witness said: "I saw Dr. Matthews in his room, but I did not talk to him or hand him anything. I went up to him with a Senate bill in my hand and said that Senator Emmons had given me a package to give to him. He said nothing and after a while I went back a second time and said that Senator Emmons had sent a package to him by me. Again he said nothing and I came away."

Mr. Johnson asked as to the contents of the packages given him by Emmons and asked what size the envelope was.

"It was pretty fat," said the witness unconsciously, and the spectators laughed. Later, Lee stated that he had been directed by Emmons to open the package and give the $50 bills to Dr. Matthews and to keep the rest until they were called for.

OLDER FIXED TRAP.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 25.—The third week of the trial of former Senator E. J. Emmons, charged with bribery while a member of the last session of the Legislature, opened today, but the morning proceedings were without particular interest. The members of the jury showed the effect of the fortnight's confinement and close surveillance. Many of them appeared extremely nervous.

A welcome statement came from Dist.-Atty. A. M. Seymour, when, in response to a question by Grove L. Johnson, leading counsel for Emmons, he said the prosecution would close its side of the case at the 5 o'clock adjournment tonight. Johnson was asked by the representative of the Associated Press how much time the defense would require, and he replied evasively that circumstances would govern.

Two men of prominence were examined this morning as witnesses for the prosecution, but their testimony offered nothing new or in any way out of the beaten path. State Senator Richard J. Welch and Fremont Older, managing editor of the San Francisco Bulletin, were the witnesses this morning, the latter being called first by Seymour.

Older, in the course of qualifying, testified that he had been managing editor of the San Francisco Bulletin eleven years. He said he knew Moses Hines, but at the time Hines presented himself he did not know his name, learning that later. Hines came to him at his (Older's) office and handed to him $1550, which he (Older) later converted into bills, divided them into five packages containing marked bills. Older identified the envelopes in which the bills were enclosed. Older said R. A. Crothers, manager of the Bulletin, marked the bills before putting them in the envelopes.

Older told of a subsequent visit by Hines, during which the latter gave him $100 additional. Older said Hines's visits to him were by prearrangement. Seymour asked what this prearrangement was. Against the objection of Johnson, Older was allowed to say that he had previously seen Gavin McNab, a director of the Continental and Phoenix building and loan associations, at which it was arranged that Hines should go to the witness.

Dist.-Atty. Seymour asked what was said in the conversation the witness had with McNab. Johnson objected, on the ground that the question was designed to give the witness a chance to make a speech, "just as McNab did last week." Johnson also contended that, unless the prosecution wanted to show "that McNab was only a feigned accomplice," testimony of this character was inadmissible. He added that if the prosecution wanted to show that McNab was an actual accomplice he would welcome such a showing. Judge Hart overruled the objection.

Insurance Premiums—Heavy Loss.

Records in the office of the superintendent of insurance indicate that about fourteen millions in cash is collected annually and sent out of the State in the form of life insurance premiums. Some of this money may have been used for campaign expenses or in Wall Street manipulations. The Conservative Life is a California company, invests and keeps the policy holders' money at home.—[Adv.

NO BOYCOTT STAMP FOUND.

Consul-General Rogers at Shanghai Satisfied.

Trade Commissioner Wong Kai Kah's Farewell.

Great Britain and Thibet. Alaskan Telegraphs.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Consul-General Rogers at Shanghai cabled to the State Department today as follows:

"There is no longer any evidence of boycott conditions in or about Shanghai, and American trade is active, particularly with the northern part of China, and there has been no stamping of goods (boycott mark) as was reported. On the whole, the condition of affairs seems to be satisfactory."

WONG KEI KAH LEAVES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Wong Kai Kah, Trade Commissioner of China, called upon Assistant Secretary Adee at the State Department today, in company with Yung Quai, the secretary and interpreter of the Chinese legation here, to take his leave before returning to his post in Japan.

Wong arrived in San Francisco about August 13, and since then has been studying American trade conditions, with special reference to development of trade relations with China. He has collected material which he believes will be of value to his government in the development of its trade policies. He was originally assigned to duty in Japan as a trade commissioner, and is now about to proceed to take up his work in that country, going to the Far East by way of San Francisco.

CHINA AND THIBET.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sir Chentung Liang Cheng's call at the State Department this morning to notify this government that M. Wang Ta-Hsia, now counselor of the Chinese legation here, has been appointed Minister to Great Britain, brought out the fact that the present Minister at London, M. Chang-Thyl, is to become a special plenipotentiary to negotiate a treaty between Great Britain and China regarding the relations of Thibet and India.

It is learned upon authority that China approaches this bit of diplomacy determined to agree to no convention which recognizes any suzerainty except that of China in Thibet.

CHINA'S PROTEST.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—The Post this morning says:

"The Chinese government, a week or more ago, made a formal protest to the Russian and Japanese governments concerning two of the conditions set forth in the treaty of peace signed at Portsmouth. China objects to two things: First, the length of time allowed for the evacuation of Manchuria, and, second, the provisions made for an armed guard for the railroad lines owned by Russia and Japan in Manchuria.

"China believes that nine months is entirely sufficient time within which Japan and Russia shall evacuate Manchuria. Instead of twelve months provided for in the peace treaty. The provision made for guarding the railroad, the Chinese contend, contemplates an armed force of probably 10,000 men in Chinese territory. The Chinese government regards the maintenance of guards in Manchuria of such size as a menace, and it does not propose to agree to such a plan.

FREIGHT RATES ON OIL.

IOWA COMPANY COMPLAINS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Complaint was filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission today by the Marshall Oil Company of Marshalltown, Iowa, protesting against existing freight rates on oil shipped in less than carload lots. The complainants own refineries at Oil City and Warren, Pa. They allege that rates granted on carloads of oil unjustly discriminate in favor of the Standard Oil Company.

The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and Missouri Pacific, Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, Iowa Central, Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul and Union Pacific railroads are the defendants.

ALASKAN TELEGRAPH SYSTEM.

GEN. GREELEY'S INSPECTION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Brig.-Gen. Greeley, chief signal officer of the army, has just completed a thorough inspection of the Alaskan telegraph system. The tremendous increase in commercial business handled by the lines gives an indication of the growing importance of Alaskan trade.

In the past two months telegraph tolls on commercial business have amounted to more than $32,000, while the cost of government business on the lines during this time exceeded $20,000.

WORKMEN HURT IN CRASH.

Brick Building in Course of Construction at Buffalo Collapses and Eight Are Injured.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BUFFALO, Sept. 25.—With a crash that could be heard for blocks, a three-story brick building under course of construction on West Ferry street collapsed this afternoon, carrying down with it thirty bricklayers and carpenters at work in and on top of the structure. A score of men were injured, eight of them seriously. They are:

HARRY CRAIG, skull injured, internally hurt; will die.

ROBERT DEITCHMAN; internally injured.

JOSEPH B. SANDERS; badly bruised.

BENJAMIN HOLBET; cut and bruised.

EDWARD FLOWER; legs broken.

FRANCISCO JACOBONI; cut and bruised.

FRANK HAMM, boss carpenter; ankle sprained, cut and bruised.

CHARLES POPZEHLE; bruised about head and body.

The other workmen sustained cuts and bruises, but were able to go to their homes.

The building was owned by J. J. Crowley, 310 West Ferry street. Morris & Allen had the contract for the masonry, and their men were working on the third story when the west wall went down, carrying with it a portion of the front of the building and a section of the rear wall.

DID LABOR AGITATOR SET FIRE TO BUTTE?

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BUTTE, (Mont.) Sept. 25.—A careful estimate of the loss of yesterday's fire places it at $600,000, with insurance at $535,000. The Simons Drygoods Company is the heaviest loser, with a loss of $300,000, fully insured. The blocks burned, it is announced by property owners, without exception, are to be rebuilt at once. The total loss at the public library is fixed at between $55,000 and $60,000. More than half of the books will be rescued from the débris intact, and the walls are untouched.

Michael Sullivan, who is in the City Jail, charged with an attempt to cut hose in front of the library while the fire in that edifice was being fought, is being closely guarded. Sullivan came here shortly after the Cripple Creek troubles in Colorado, where he is said to have been active in the labor troubles.

About six hundred persons were thrown out of employment by the fire, but most of these will be reemployed within a few weeks.

WILL SURRENDER IN BODY.

LABOR IMPORTERS' DECISION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—United States Marshal Henkel today admitted that warrants for the arrest of James Lantry, Charles E. Lawton, Arthur T. Mart, Elmer Alexander, Bernard D. Traitel, Edwin C. Currier, Charles Sirrine, Charles E. Ensign, Julius Schloss, Charles Bosworth and Charles Bogert, contractors, charged with conspiracy in importing English tile setters under contract, had been placed in his hands for execution by United States Commissioner Ridgeway.

It was the Marshal's intention to arrest the eleven men as rapidly as they had been found, but Assistant United States Attorneys Haughton and Byrne, who prepared the government's case, informed him that they had been in consultation with the counsel of the eleven accused men, some of whom are out of town, and had arranged to have them come in within the next day or two and personally surrender themselves and furnish such bail as might be required for their appearance for preliminary examination. Should any of them fail to appear they will then be formally taken into custody. It is expected that the defendants will get together tomorrow or Wednesday and, accompanied by counsel, surrender themselves in a body.

Strike on Rochester Post-Express.

ROCHESTER (N. Y.) Sept. 25.—A general strike in the composing and jobbing departments of the Post-Express was declared today, and most of the men responded to the call. The strike on the part of the composing room men is sympathetic, inasmuch as their demand for an eight-hour day and increase in wages was granted Saturday. New men were at once secured and no difficulty has been experienced in getting out the regular editions.

PACKERS FIX RATES DECLARES STICKNEY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—"The packers fix the rates," declared A. B. Stickney, president of the Chicago and Great Western Railway, testifying for the defense before the Interstate Commerce Commission today, regarding freight rates on live stock and live-stock products from the Missouri River to Chicago. In answer to a question as to how the charges were made, President Stickney replied:

"In fixing the rate on dressed meat we don't have very much to say. The packer generally makes the rate. He comes to you and always makes you feel that he is your friend. Then he asks you how much you charge for certain shipments of dressed meats. The published tariff makes 23 cents per hundred, but he will not pay that.

"You say to him? 'I will carry your meat for 18 cents.'

"He says: 'Oh, no you won't. I won't pay that.'

"Then you say: 'Well, what will you pay for it?'

"He then replies: 'I can get it hauled for 16 cents.'

"So you haul it for 16 cents per hundred. He generally tells you that if you want the business, you must haul the meat for the price he names."

President Stickney denied that his road had paid any claims for damages or rebates since the Grosscup injunction.

The twenty-fourth annual meeting of the association began today in the Commercial Museum building. President W. Carlyle Ely of Buffalo called the convention to order, and the members were welcomed by Mayor Weaver.

THROUGH THE TALL TIMBER.

PORT ANGELES & PENINSULAR.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA, Sept. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The newly-incorporated Port Angeles and Peninsular Railroad will build as quickly as possible twenty-five miles of railroad from Port Angeles southwest toward Quinault Indian Reservation. The railroad is believed to belong to the Northern Pacific, since it will occupy Northern Pacific territory, and Chief Engineer Rice has long been in the service of the Northern Pacific. The line will traverse one of the heaviest timber belts in the State, reaching from the Straits of Fuca towards Grays Harbor. Eventually, the road will connect with the recently-completed extension of the Northern Pacific from Hoquim to the Quinault Indian Reservation.

YELLOW FEVER IN NEW YORK.

ANOTHER CASE FROM COLON REPORTED AT QUARANTINE.

New Orleans Has Ground for Hope that Visit of Epidemic Will be Practically a Memory on Date Scheduled for the President's Visit. Pensacola Situation Bad.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Careful tests in the Emergency Hospital have resulted in the discovery, identification and positive proof of the yellow-fever germ, which, after conveyance by the stegomyia mosquito, causes yellow fever in all persons into whose blood it enters.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Another case of yellow fever was reported today at the Quarantine Hospital on Swinburne Island. Health Officer Doty gave out the following statement this evening: "José Macaira, aged 20, a coal passer of the steamer Havana, from Colon, was removed to the hospital Sunday morning. He was sick on the passage from Colon about two days before arrival. The ship's doctor had him under treatment and kept him isolated and on arrival at quarantine reported the case to Dr. Doty. The man was promptly transferred to the hospital, where he developed yellow fever. Macaira is very sick and Dr. Doty considers his condition serious. The Havana arrived in port Sunday, September 24, from Colon. She was five days, ten hours on the passage. No communication was permitted on board with the sick man."

NEW CAUSE OF HOPE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 25.—Report to 6 p.m.: New cases, 37; total, 2868; deaths, 3; total deaths, 370; new foci, 7; cases under treatment, 282; discharged, 2126.

Reason for a continued hopefulness that yellow fever will be practically a memory on the date scheduled for the visit of President Roosevelt was found by the authorities in today's report, which was exceedingly encouraging in the matter of new cases. The low report for Sunday also indicated that the fever now prevailing is of a comparatively light type.

With September nearly gone and the fever under control, the city is looking to a rapid cleaning up of the prevailing fever. A spell of excellent weather has set in and as the days grow cooler there will be a steady disappearance of mosquitoes, it is hoped, even before frost comes. There is a steady in-pour of people.

The great majority of the new cases being reported lately come from the Seventh and Eighth wards, which developed into the real battleground of the fever campaign as soon as the situation in the original infected district began to get under control.

News from the country indicate two new points of infection. Terre Bonne parish (two days) reported forty-seven new cases, four deaths; Patterson, twenty-six cases.

INFECTION SPREADING FAST.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

JACKSON (Miss.) Sept. 25.—The yellow fever infection at Hamburg is spreading rapidly, nine new cases, four suspicious cases and one death being reported today. Roxie reports one new case, one death.

DISCOURAGING AT PENSACOLA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PENSACOLA (Fla.) Sept. 25.—Twenty-five new cases of yellow fever were reported by physicians to the State health office for the twenty-four hours ending at 6 o'clock tonight. This makes forty-four cases for Sunday and Monday. One death was reported today.

The situation tonight is rather discouraging, as the cases are scattered all over the city, and all hope of checking the disease before the appearance of frost has been practically abandoned.

Four cases of yellow fever have developed on board the German steamer Bremen, which has just finished loading for Bremen, and the patients tonight were brought ashore and placed in a hospital.

CRACK CLOSES THEATER.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—After the curtain fell last night at His Majesty's Theater on the last act of Oliver Twist, Beerbohm Tree announced that, owing to the appearance of a crack in the proscenium arch which had been discovered a few hours before, the theater would be closed for the present and the play transferred to the Waldorf Theater. The announcement was a complete surprise, as His Majesty's Theater was opened only eight years ago.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

STANDARD TO BE ON RACK.

Garfield May Call for Some More Explanations.

If Officials Are Obstinate They May be Jailed.

Discrepancies Develop; May be Prosecution.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, (D. C.) Sept. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Although surface investigation of the oil business is almost complete and Commissioner of Corporations Garfield is at work on his report to the President, it is probable that that document will not be presented until the commissioner has summoned personally before him officials of the Standard and subsidiary companies for a searching cross-examination on certain discrepancies that are understood to have developed in the preparation of the report. When Garfield started out on his investigation trip which extended to Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and California and back to New York, he was everywhere met by the Stahdard Oil officials with extreme courtesy. They took him into their confidence, apparently, and professed to tell him everything they knew. Their attitude was simply a case of the iron fist hidden by the soft glove, it is believed, for when the commissioner began comparing information gathered by himself and his dozen or more special agents from Maine to California it was found that an attempt had been made to deceive him. At least that is the rumor that is floating around the Department of Commerce and Labor. The Standard agents are said not to have told the whole truth by a good deal. It is alleged that they hid everything that was of a damaging character to the octopus so far as possible.

This discovery is said to have been made when the experts of the department began tabulating the statistics gathered on all sides. Information from the independent oil producers, consumers and retail dealers which the department has every reason to believe accurate, shows that the Standard used the most vigorous and extraordinary methods of crushing competition, that it monopolized the market wherever possible, that it secured rebates from railroads and debauched Legislative bodies, by which illegal courses it made profits on the sale of petroleum and products beyond the dreams of avarice. This condition of affairs is said to have been found particularly in the newly developed oil fields of the Southwest. The showing is admitted to be pretty bad for Standard Oil. Whether it is strong enough to warrant prosecution for violation of the anti-trust and interstate commerce laws is not known, but it is understood to be the purpose of the administration to take no chances. Some of the agents of the Bureau of Corporations were sent to Europe to secure comparative notes on the oil business there and three or four special agents are still in the field.

It is not expected that anything sensational will occur until they report, but, after all, if the information at hand is in such shape that it can be readily referred to, it is expected that Commissioner Garfield will call the Standard Oil agents here to ask why they concealed certain facts. The talk about the department is that the commissioner has about made up his mind to take this step already. He has power under the law to summon officers of corporations and examine them under oath, and if they do not answer his questions he can have them sent to jail. Up to date the oil investigation has involved nothing but the answering voluntarily of a series of questions touching this. It will be up to the President to decide whether or not to transmit Garfield's report to Congress intact or to hold some of it confidentially until the Department of Justice gets ready to institute prosecutions against offenders.

THE DOMESTICS.

...omestic science department of ...chnic will be ready in a week ...it will be distinct for the first ...the branch known as "do- ...mestic art," though the same teacher will be the instructor for both.

Domestic art includes the study of millinery, dressmaking, designing, the study of textiles and embroideries. Domestic science relates to cooking, the chemistry of food and housekeeping subjects.

There are two courses open to girls at the school, one is for the professional study of the two branches and includes four lessons a week for four years. The other course supplies the knowledge that a girl wishes to put in practice in the care of her own home, and it provides for two lessons a week (one in each subject) for four years. Miss Mae Owen formerly of the High School is the instructor.

Among the children entered in school yesterday were many hailing from every State in the Union, and a liberal sprinkling from other countries; but the palm for far-away little folks was taken by Jefferson-avenue school which boasts three brown-faced little children from New Zealand.

"I think," said the mother to Miss Lang, the principal," "that you may have to put them very low."

"Why, do you think so?" said Miss Lang looking at the shy, bright-eyed little strangers.

"Oh, they know not American money," replied the anxious mother.

FLAG-BUILDING, PATRIOTIC IDEA.

UNIQUE ENTERTAINMENT TO BE GIVEN BY SOCIETIES.

Grand Army Veterans, Relief Corps Members, Army Nurses and Sons of Veterans Will Make National Emblem, With Appropriate Exercises.

For patriotism, and for the giving of flags to the institutions that are without them, and to encourage the love for the national emblem, a unique entertainment will be given Friday evening at the headquarters of the Stanton Post, G.A.R. and Woman's Relief Corps at No. 125½ South Spring street, which will interest all the members of all the posts and corps in Southern California, and which will without doubt be imitated by many patriotic societies in other parts of the country.

The patriotic instructor of the Stanton Relief Corps, Mrs. Ferdinand Wheeler, has written and arranged the evening's affair, which is called the "Making of the Flag" and she has already applied for a copyright for the unusual form of patriotic ceremony.

With stripes, and stars, and a field of blue all ready to hand, the flag that we honor will be built by veterans, the Sons of Veterans, army nurses, and members of the Woman's Relief Corps, with appropriate readings for each star and stripe, and with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" at the conclusion, and a salute to the complete emblem.

The veterans will take the red stripes and put them in place, the crimson representing the blood which they have shed in the flag's defense.

The Sons of Veterans will place the white stripes, as representing the hope of the nation. The blue field will be reverently laid on by the army nurses, and the ladies of the W.R.C. will set the stars in the firmament, the first thirteen, until the flag that Betsy Ross sewed is duplicated, and then the rest of the forty-five just as they were admitted into the Union.

Throughout the little drama of the flag have been interspersed the choicest quotations about it that have been said since the time of its making from "Old Hickory's" saying: "Every good citizen makes his country's honor his own, he is willing to risk his life in its defense and is conscious that he gains protection while he gives it," down to the saying of the martyred McKinley, oft-quoted: "With patriotism in our hearts and the flag of the country in the hands of our children there is no danger of anarchy and there is no danger to the Union."

The Veteran Drum Corps will be there Friday evening to sound the reveille, Chaplain Liscomb of Stanton Post will pronounce the invocation, and Comrade Thomas of the same post will blow "taps."

The patriotic committee having the matter in hand is composed of the patriotic instructor, Mrs. Ferdinand Wheeler, and Mmes. A. Melcher, A. S. C. Forbes, Mary Hartwell, Lizzie B. Cross, A. McCandless, Cynthia B. Clapp, Mary A. Brown, Florence Brewer, Lavinia Johnson, Nina L. Barber, Francina Austin and Martha C. Brownson. The army nurses who will take part are: Adelina Miller, Margaret Hayes, Eleanor Ransom, Mary E. Threlkeld, Grace Lawrence, Ruth Danforth, Hannah C. Starbird, Elmira Reynolds, Susan E. Barry and Julia Hibbard.

The new department president of California and Nevada from the northern part of the State will be present.

BANQUETS FACULTY.

Educational Committee of Y.M.C.A. Entertains the Men Who Are to Operate Mill of Knowledge.

The educational committee of the Young Men's Christian Association entertained the faculty of the institute last night, at a banquet given at the rooms of the association. The board of directors was also included among the guests, the total number sitting down to dinner being twenty-three.

The entertaining committee is composed of W. E. Howard, Dr. J. G. Lund, Prof. J. N. McPherron, C. A Baskerville, W. F. Twogood, and William Chambers

The faculty includes twenty-two teachers, many of them prominent in business and professional circles, four being from the public schools of the city and three from the colleges. Many of them responded to the call of Chairman Howard and made speeches of enthusiastic hopefulness for their several departments.

A. B. Cass, vice-president, responded for the faculty and spoke strongly for the educational work. He said that one thing might interest some people, and another thing other people, but that the idea of education for persons who are compelled to work during the day interests everybody.

General Secretary D. E. Luther made a congratulatory speech upon the encouraging conditions and bright prospects before the Los Angeles association, and L. B. Austin, educational director, spoke on the same lines.

The night classes, now going under the name of "Association Institute," will open on Monday evening, October 2, with a public reception. The enrolment of pupils indicates that the number will reach 350, with possibly a much larger number.

During former years but one night a week has been devoted to any one branch, with a few exceptions, but all courses will now have two nights a week. Every department of the work has taken on new life and vigor, and is reaching out in every direction for young men who have stood aloof from the influence of the association.

WOULD RATHER COME IN.

Whittier Editor Declares City and County Should Include More Territory Than Planned.

[Whittier News:] There is now more talk of uniting the city and county governments in Los Angeles, and incidentally the old Pomona county bugaboo pops up again. Now let us take our stand, once and for all time. We don't want any Pomona county in ours, and we don't propose to have any. If there is to be a new county created in this section, Whittier is the logical county seat, but, as far as we are concerned, we are quite willing to transact our business in Los Angeles county. Those people that don't like this county had better move to Milpitas. It has been proposed that the boundaries of the new city and county of Los Angeles be fixed at Pasadena on the north, the ocean on the south, Hollywood on the west and the present Los Angeles city limits on the east. Is there any reason why towns immediately adjacent to Los Angeles on the east should be railroaded off Pomona way?

BAD AUTO ACCIDENT.

Five People Shaken up as the Result of a Serious Collision on East First Street.

Sam King, a track oiler for the Los Angeles Railway Company, who lives at No. 3218 East First street, was seriously injured yesterday afternoon by being run over by an automobile at the corner of East First and Chicago streets. F. E. Green, wife and baby and Mrs. E. K. Green of No. 1504 West Eighth street, who were riding in the auto, were slightly bruised by being thrown from the machine when it struck the curb after running over King.

Accounts differ as to the accident, but Green states that King, who was oiling the railway curve at First and Chicago streets, stepped in front of the auto as it came around the corner and the other side of the story is that Green carelessly ran over King as the outcome of a race with G. E. Platt, another autoist. King was badly bruised, had a shoulder dislocated, and his skull may be fractured. After striking him Green swerved the auto to the curb and the occupants were thrown out and slightly injured.

King was taken to the Emergency Hospital and the Green family were sent to their residence. The machine was damaged to the extent of about $200.

SIDE TALKS BY THE OFFICE BOY

A bird in the hand beats two pair. Pa was kicking about some mining stock some friend had persuaded him to buy. It turned out to be Lobster stock and Pa says a mine is nearly always nothing more than a hole in the ground owned by a liar. I guess as long as gold mining with a pen and a little fancy paper continues to be such a profitable industry, a lot of fellows who write a pretty fair hand won't see any good reason for swinging a pick. They will pass the pick over to the fellow who invests and start a new prospectus. There is one thing about buying goods at a Silverwood store, there is no possible chance for you to get the double cross. Every article we sell is fully guaranteed and if it don't fit or wear as it should, you are urged to return it and get your money back. I don't suppose there's a store anywhere sells more Stetson hats than we do. We carry the complete line from $4.00 to $12.00. Still we sell thousands of Silverwood $2.00 hats. They come in every conceivable shape and are great values.

BLACK BROWN, DARK ATTACK.

Negro Shoots and Beats His Wife and Daughter.

Leaves Both for Dead and Makes His Escape.

Ugly Assault in Janitor's Home Last Night.

John Wesley Brown, a negro janitor, made a murderous assault late last night on his wife and their married daughter, Mrs. Minnie L. Brown, shooting the latter through the right arm, and beating both women on the head with a heavy stick. Leaving the women for dead at the family home, No. 431 River street, in East Los Angeles, the assailant fled. Neither woman is seriously hurt.

Brown and his wife had not lived happily together for a long time, and their latest difficulty is said to have arisen over the purchase by the woman of some property at Long Beach.

The assault on the women was committed in the darkness of a bedroom at the house, which was entered surreptitiously by Brown, either while the women were sleeping or before they returned to the house earlier in the evening.

Brown's wife, with two daughters' Mrs. Minnie Brown, twenty-four, and Bertha Brown, fifteen years old, went to the circus grounds shortly after 6 o'clock in the evening, taking with them the four-year-old son of Mrs. Minnie Brown. Failing to obtain seats for the show, the party returned home, with the exception of Bertha, who went to the theater.

Some time after the family had retired, Mrs. Julia Brown, the elder woman, who slept alone in a small bedroom, was awakened by a heavy blow on the head. Leaping from her bed, she encountered Brown, whom she recognized by his voice, which was raised in angry threats.

As the woman tried to shield herself in the darkness from the man's assault, he fired a revolver, the bullet going wild.

The noise of the fray awakened Mrs. Minnie Brown, who rushed into the bedroom to the aid of her mother. She was greeted with a blow over the head from the stick in the hands of Brown—a weapon that had been kept in the house as a protection against intruders.

Felled to the floor, the woman was shot, the bullet, which was of small caliber, entering the right arm near the shoulder.

Again Brown fired, the bullet again going wild, whereupon the man, alarmed by the screaming of the women, and by the approach of neighbors, took to his heels and disappeared in the inky darkness of the neighborhood, which is near the eastern bank of the arroyo.

A summons was sent for the police and Mrs. Minnie Brown was sent in the patrol wagon to the Receiving Hospital, where it was found that neither the bullet wound in the arm, nor the bruise on the head caused by the heavy stick, was of a dangerous nature.

Mrs. Julia Brown's principal injury was a deep gash in the forehead, just above the left eye. It bled profusely but was not serious.

The interior of the house resembled a shambles. The injured woman, during and after the struggle with Brown, had splashed furniture and fittings with blood, while the stick which the maddened man had wielded was covered with gore.

Shortly after the assault, which was committed about 11:30 o'clock, Bertha Brown returned home, to find her mother and sister lying on their beds, faint from excitement and loss of blood.

Examination of the premises showed that Brown had pried open the bedroom window and crawled in, either while his wife was sleeping or before her return to the house. If in the latter case, it is supposed he concealed himself under the bed.

Brown is a janitor and had worked lately at the Mehesy curio store on Spring street. He also had been employed as driver at the Fashion stables on East First street.

According to Mrs. Brown, her husband had not been at home since last Thursday. It is said he had been drinking and that he had been a hanger-on at First and Main streets.

Search immediately was begun for him by the officers and it is believed the man will be captured promptly, as he is well known among the colored residents.

TO CHECK WIFE DESERTION.

HEBREWS FIGHT GROWING EVIL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Wife desertion on the East Side has become so common that a movement was started yesterday among leading Hebrews of the quarter to check the evil. Organizations with this end in view are to be formed and a system of following up and causing the arrest of men who desert their wives and families will be established. It is intended that the real work of the organization shall begin at once, but that its object will be effected early next year.

An act has been passed by the Legislature making wife desertion a felony, but it does not go into effect until the end of the current year. Under this act, it will be possible to extradite deserting husbands from other States. All the charity organizations on the East Side, which have been called on to care for thousands of women and children each year, will help in the campaign.

CONVICT READ'S ESCAPE.

CLIMBS PRISON WATER PIPE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO, Sept. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John Read, a convict under a thirteen-year sentence for attempted murder, committed several months ago on a freight train between Truckee and this city, escaped from the State penitentiary at Carson today, by climbing a water pipe and scaling the walls while the guard was being changed.

He had been gone half an hour before his absence was discovered. Special guards and Indian trailers were immediately started in pursuit, but Read has thus far kept out of sight. The trail has been followed as far as Glenwood, a station on Lake Tahoe. The convict is headed toward Truckee, where it is thought he will be captured. He is still wearing convict garb, and, so far as known, is unarmed.

GIRL CLUBBED BY NEGRO.

EXTORTIONER'S CRIME.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Irene Grossman, a girl of 16 years, was found clubbed into insensibility in the hallway of her home early today.

The attack was the culmination of a series of nightly entries into the Grossman private entrance, which were intended to enforce by "Black Hand" methods payments of money for immunity from attack.

Beginning Friday night, a negro visited the house nightly, appearing only to Miss Grossman and escaping when frightened by her screams. Despite the lookout set for him by the family, he succeeded today in reaching Miss Grossman before she had a chance to give a warning.

The girl's brother told the police that his sister had started for an early morning walk when she was attacked. He heard her screams, and ran into the hallway where he found her unconscious, but saw nothing of the man.

Immediately after the clubbing, the police found two pictures in the Grossman home with their faces turned to the wall and notes demanding money written on the backs. On the back of a photograph of Mrs. Grossman was written: "We expect $900 from you. B. F. C."

On the back of one of her daughter's pictures, was written in the same hand: "We expect $200 from you. B. F. C."

In the two previous visits to the house, the burglar had stolen several valuable pictures and more than $400 worth of silverware.

Miss Grossman's injuries are not believed dangerous.

EX-CAPT. CARTER OUT OF PRISON.

FORMER OFFICER COMPLETES HIS SENTENCE.

Arrives in Chicago and Spends Time and Money in Helping Government Recover Money and Property Alleged Embezzled by Himself While at Savannah.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—Oberlin M. Carter, former captain in the United States Army, who was released from the Leavenworth Penitentiary, some time ago, after having served a five-year sentence on a charge of having embezzled money from the United States government, through construction contracts, returned to Chicago today and was examined before Special Examiner Richard Wyman.

The former army officer has completed his sentence and is now spending his time and money in helping the government in its efforts to recover money and property alleged to have been embezzled by Carter while government engineer at Savannah, Ga.

The matter now in question is in connection with civil suits filed in the United States Circuit Court against Carter and some of his relatives for the recovery of the property. The entire case has been referred to Special Examiner Wyman to take report.

Carter has aged considerably, but he withstood a hard cross-examination in an apparently fearless manner.

During today's examination an effort was made to show that previous to the real conspiracy he and Greene and Gaynor, the constructors alleged to have been implicated with Carter in defrauding the government, had loaned Carter money and placed him in a position so that when he was made engineer in charge and had the letting of contracts they might have a claim upon him. Carter declares that he never borrowed money from Greene or Gaynor, but that he had written them concerning his investments, so that they could also invest.

The examination will be taken up again tomorrow.

ONE A DAY THEIR AVERAGE.

BUSY BOY BURGLARS BAGGED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Two youths, one nineteen and the other fifteen years old, were arrested as they were leaving an upper East Side theater last night. They are charged with having shared in fifty-nine burglaries during the past fifty days in the Harlem police precinct.

The younger lad declared himself to be the son of a prosperous confectioner. He said his companion and a third boy, not yet captured, had made away with the proceeds of their robberies. They had used him because of his smallness to climb fire escapes, crawl over transoms and to enter apartments by way of dumb-waiter shafts.

CROWD THREATENS NEGRO.

HIS MOBE FATALLY HURTS BOY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—Surrounded by a crowd of excited pedestrians, all threatening vengeance, Arthur Stewart, sixteen years old, a negro, was held prisoner until the arrival of two policemen last night, after having knocked down and probably fatally injured Louis Weinburg, ten years old, while driving an automobile at Twenty-sixth and State streets.

In the automobile at the time of the accident were Mrs. Mary Stewart, the mother of the chauffeur, and William Holliday of Milwaukee, the owner of the machine. They also were prevented leaving the scene of the accident, although when the police arrived young Stewart was considered the only person to blame. He was arrested, charged with operating an automobile without a license.

The injured boy was taken to Mercy Hospital, where physicians say he may die.

PREVENTED A TRAGEDY.

Plucky Officer Disarms Man Who Had Threatened to Shoot Woman to Death.

The nervy action of Deputy Constable Jack Adams yesterday prevented a possible tragedy and resulted in the troublemakers spending the night in the City Jail. He may pass several more nights there if his intended victim is willing to prosecute him.

Adams has had a keeper in charge of the Pacific Garage, Fifth and Los Angeles streets, for some days, enforcing a writ of attachment. Yesterday afternoon a well-dressed woman appealed to this keeper for protection, saying her husband had armed himself and threatened to kill her on sight. She said she was the wife of Charles Bryson and resided at No. 658 South Hill street, where, she said Bryson had intrenched himself. The keeper summoned Adams, and at the woman's request, he went to the Hill street house, found it open and unoccupied and so reported to the woman, asking her to return if she so desired. Before she could start however, Bryson appeared at the home of friends with whom she had taken refuge at Sixth and Los Angeles streets, where he drew a revolver and threatened to kill the woman if she came to the street. Adams lost no time in getting to the place. Bryson was pointed out to him and although he is large enough to make two of Adams, the latter tackled him. Searching him he found a big revolver on his person, and took it from him. He then took Bryson to the City Jail, and locked him up for carrying the weapon. The woman later admitted that she was not married to Bryson, but had left a husband in Sacramento. She has been living with Bryson as his wife.

CRIME BRIEFS.

Heard Husband Shuffle Off.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Assenting reluctantly to listen to one last word from her husband, from whom she was estranged, Mrs. Henry Koch pressed her ear yesterday to the speaking tube leading from the vestibule of the apartment house where she lived in East New York. A second later she heard a muffled report and sprang back with a cry of fear. Hurrying downstairs, the woman found her husband lying on the vestibule floor, shot through the head. Ten minutes later, the doctors pronounced him dead.

Went Away to Die.

EL PASO (Tex.) Sept. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] On the twelfth anniversary of his wedding, M. J. Lally, aged about 35 years, of Big Springs, Tex., came to El Paso from Denver, where he had been working, with the deliberate intention of killing himself. A physician and the landlady of the boarding-house here endeavored to induce him not to commit the deed, and thought that he had abandoned the plan. But this evening he swallowed a large quantity of carbolic acid, dying forty minutes later. He is survived by a widow and a child at Big Springs. He was a member of the A.O.U.W. and Brotherhood of Railway Firemen.

HOLLYWOOD.

SINGER ENTERTAINS FRIENDS.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 25.—Two hundred guests assembled at "Vista del Mar," the home of A. G. Bartlett, this evening to hear Miss Bessie Bartlett in a programme of song and reading. The first of the evening was devoted to vocal selections from Paderewski, Chadwick, Strauss and Bungert, and a group of Indian love lyrics. The second part was Tennyson's "Enoch Arden," with piano accompaniment by Archibald W. Sessions. Miss Bartlett spent last winter in New York studying voice and dramatic art. Following the programme Miss Bartlett received her guests informally.

Mrs. Bartlett, Miss Bartlett and Miss Florence Bartlett will leave Monday for New York, where Miss Bartlett will resume her studies for the winter. Mrs. Bartlett will return to Hollywood about Christmas.

CONSOLIDATION PHASES.

George H. Dunlop will present the phases of the effect of city and county consolidation at the Board of Trade musicale Friday evening in Masonic Temple. The Board of Trade has issued 300 invitations for this event. There will be a varied programme of addresses and music.

"Liner" (classified) advertisements for Sunday insertion received over the counter or by telephone after 11 o'clock Saturday nights will be inserted under heading of "Too Late to Classify."

Sunday real estate advertisements, to be classified properly, must be in The Times office before 10 o'clock Saturday nights.

The Times cannot guarantee accuracy or assume responsibility for errors of any kind occurring in telephoned advertisements.

Times' "Liner" Advertisers—Important. Note change in rate for Sunday classified advertisements. Commencing Sunday, October 1, 1905, and thereafter, the rate for Sunday "Liners" will be ½ cents per word for each insertion, minimum charge, 25 cents, as at present. This slight advance is amply justified by the present Sunday circulation of The Times, which averages over 60,000 copies. (When the 1-cent-per-word rate was established in 1895, The Times Sunday circulation was only 14,000 copies.) The "Liner" rate for the daily—1 cent per word—will stand as at present.

FINE RESTAURANT OPPORTUNITY.

This handsomely appointed restaurant is located in one of the best towns in Southern California. It is now producing an income of over $600 per month, and its patronage is rapidly increasing. The actual receipts for the past four months were $15,238. The rent is only $100 per month, and the lease will not expire until two years from next May. This restaurant represents an actual investment of $10,000. It includes every modern and scientific equipment known to the restaurant business. This money maker is located in one of the best towns in Southern California. The price is ridiculously low. Owner will give partner ½ interest for $4500. However, no one but a first-class caterer will be considered for partnership. This is a proposition that deserves immediate investigation.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

More Federal Jurors.

A special venire of jurymen was called yesterday by Marshal Osborne, as the list is rapidly being exhausted, and there will not be enough left to try the term out.

Meetings at St. Paul's.

The colored Baptists of Los Angeles have organized a new church at Santa Fé avenue and Eleventh street, and last Sunday evening a series of special meetings was begun there by Rev. J. W. Wiggins of Seattle. The new church is named St. Paul's.

Petty Thieves Busy.

August Wackerbarth of No. 117 East Market street reports to the police that a sneak thief entered his place Saturday afternoon and stole $1.30 in silver and some stamps. Ernest Nelson of No. 1512 Griffith avenue complains that on Saturday a confidence man wheedled him out of his watch and $5 down in the Chinatown district.

Grading Camp Fight.

Stanford Wilson, a teamster at Stansbury's grading camp at No. 815 California street, and Olif Glanz, a woodworker for the same camp, who lives at No. 402 Sunset boulevard, got into a row last night about 7 o'clock and as a result Wilson was taken to the Receiving Hospital to have his wounds dressed and Glanz was locked up in jail, charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

New Car Line.

The West Eleventh street line of the Los Angeles Railway Company will open Sunday for business. Cars will start at the Temple block and will run south on Main to Eleventh street, out which they will proceed to Hoover street. The inbound trip will be made over the same route. Cars will run six minutes apart. The line will open up practically no new territory, but will draw considerably from the patronage of the Pico and West Ninth street lines.

Southgate's Corner-stone.

The Grand Lodge of Masons will lay the corner-stone of the new Masonic temple at Thirty-third and Main streets this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Los Angeles Commandery, No. 9, Knights Templar, will meet at its asylum on Hill street at 1 p.m. and will meet the grand lodge at Thirtieth and Main streets, from which place it will escort the grand lodge to the site. M. H. Flint will be the acting Grand Master. The new temple is to be the home of Southgate Lodge.

Badly Burned.

Edward Montague, driver of an oil wagon, met with a serious accident yesterday while delivering oil at the Los Angeles Brewery. He was standing by the inlet to an underground tank while the oil ran from his wagon into the tank, when suddenly there was an explosion of gas that struck him in the face, burning him in a terrible manner, the flesh also being burned from his hands in his effort to protect himself. No explanation can be given of the accident, as Montague was not smoking, and nobody seems to know how it occurred. His injuries were dressed at the Receiving Hospital.

Lost a Leg.

A sad accident occurred at the Coulter Dry Goods Store yesterday, by which J. R. Watson, a man about 50 years of age, who operated an elevator, lost one of his legs, the other being terribly mangled. The elevator is reported to have been working unsatisfactorily, and when Watson left it for a moment to get a drink, and returned, he saw it moving up of its own volition. He ran and jumped into the car, but before he could get his legs drawn up they were caught between the elevator and the floor. Dr. Quint, assisted by Dr. Bonynge, amputated the right leg at the Receiving Hospital, and the patient is doing as well as possible. He has a wife and child who are at present out of the city on a visit.

BREVITIES.

Never in the history of Los Angeles has there been held a more successful millinery opening than that of Miss E. C. Collins, yesterday. The opening continues today. Miss Collins's store was thronged all day Monday with delighted patrons, who always look ahead to this opening as the most important millinery event of the season. The usual verdict, so often heard during every season that "Collins has the hats," was heard on every hand. Surely the display was most refined and elegant in every detail, and the condition of the stock at opening will be maintained during the entire season.

Times' "Liner" Advertisers—Important change in rate for Sunday classified advertisements. Commencing Sunday, October 1, 1905, and thereafter, the rate for Sunday "Liners" will be 1¼ cents per word for each insertion; minimum charge, 25 cents, as at present. This slight advance is amply justified by the present Sunday circulation of The Times, which averages over 60,000 copies. (When the 1-cent per-word rate was established in 1893, The Times Sunday circulation was only 14,000 copies.) The "Liner" rate for the daily—1 cent per word—will stand as at present.

TAILOR TANTRUMS

Some men are born cranks—and some others have to endure the tantrums of the incompetent tailor. Nothing is so sure to fracture the most angelic disposition and curdle the milk of kindness in one's breast as the dallying delivery of the promise-ful, performance-less tailor.

It's nice to know some tailor where promises are performances—where if it is said the suit will be delivered on such and such a time, delivery is sure to be made just at that time. That tailoring establishment is this tailoring establishment. When you want things done on time, have them done here.

PIANOS
Last Week of Our Great Alteration and Enlargement Sale of Musical Instruments.
Sunday last we announced that our Alteration and Enlargement sale of musical instruments would close on Saturday. Yesterday's tremendous sales, and the promptness with which our contractors are releasing the various show rooms, leads us to believe that we shall have ample floor space before Saturday—if so, our offer of 20 to 25 per cent. discount on almost our entire stock will be withdrawn—do you see why you can't afford to wait another day before taking advantage of present low prices? Since our store is in order and all our consignments properly cared for we shall call off this "fight for floor space" and it will be a long time before the Birkel house will institute another sale.
Come in today, inspect our goods—the greatest stock of world renowned pianos, organs, etc., in the Southwest. With the exception of Steinway Pianos, Cecilian Piano Players, Victor Talking Machines, and Washburn's Mandolins and Guitars, we offer our entire stock at a discount of 20 to 25 per cent.
We are agents for Steinway & Sons, Kranich & Bach, Kurtzmann, Emerson, Estey, Kroll-French, Starr, Richmond, La Gonda and Brinkerhoff pianos; Cecilian Piano Players, Cecilian Pianos, Estey and Farrand Organs and Victor Talking Machines.
$7,000,000.00
Was the grand total of the Victor Talking Machine Company in 1904. We were large factors in this monster success. Our establishment is headquarters for Victor Talking Machines and Records in Los Angeles. Our stock is complete. Use Victor Records—consider no others. Write for the Victor Bulletin for October—of great interest to all Talking Machine owners.

LITERARY MAN EATS SORROW.

Couldn't go the Bad Eggs or Soggy Potatoes.

Latest Grief Being Sued by His Pretty Cook.

Author, Actor and Sculptor, Tragic Breakfast.

A shudder ran through our literary colony yesterday to know that Cloudsley Johns, Jack London's author chum, was being sued by his cook in a Los Angeles justice court.

It was not so much that he minded paying her money she didn't earn, as that he wanted to discourage her diabolical career.

His mother, Mrs. Peet, who is a sculptor of fast-growing fame, and his brother, Herbert Peet, a rising young actor, were in court to help him try to tell the judge what kind of a cook this woman was. He felt that he was unequal to it alone.

The cook who brought suit against him was pretty enough to eat herself. But it is significant that, although she is married, she lives without a husband.

Her name is Mrs. Cora C. Francis; she says herself that she is an elegant cook.

The expression in Mr. Johns's eye was more of iron firmness than of anger as he mounted the witness stand yesterday.

Although not so well known in this city of his adoption, Mr. Johns's name is fapillar in the Eastern literary marts; he was one of the thirty whose stories were accepted out of tons of manuscript hurled into the Colliers' contest.

He said briefly that the cook was fierce.

He could not be shaken by the cross-examination of the cook's lawyers; she was represented by J. H. Smith, the celebrated cobbler lawyer, and by Walter Horgan, Esq.

LEGAL ANALYSIS OF BREAKFAST.

Lawyer Horgan fixed the author with a glittering eye.

"How was the breakfast that first morning?" he demanded.

"The eggs," said Mr. Johns mournfully, "The eggs were very poor.

"The corn bread——" Mr. Johns paused and a wistful expression came into his face. He was realising as never before the feebleness of language.

"How were the potatoes?" asked Horgan hopefully.

"They stuck to one's teeth."

"The tea?" inquired the lawyer writing it down in a book.

"The tea, the tea," repeated the author musingly, "Why I don't know that I ever experienced anything just like that tea. The nearest that I ever tasted anything like it was some very bad tea."

"Didn't it taste like medicinal tea?" said the lawyer in a strained, discouraged voice.

"No," said Mr. Johns regretfully but firmly, "No, I am inclined to think that this tea was meant to be a beverage."

"Wasn't the dinner any better?" asked the lawyer hopefully, glancing at his indignant client.

"The meat was gutta percha; the potatoes were soggy and—er—yellow, and the——"

"Well it got worse and worse, I suppose," the lawyer interposed hastily.

Mr. Johns considered the question critically, weighed it in his mind while the pretty cook sniffed and glared.

"No—no," he said slowly. "That doesn't seem to express it. I should say that it was a sudden lapse from below mediocre into something unspeakable."

"What was the matter with the cooking?" demanded the lawyer belligerently.

"I couldn't say what was the matter with it," said Mr. Johns sadly. He said it was about equal to a poor ten-cent meal."

"Have you ever eaten a ten-cent meal?" asked the lawyer skeptically.

Johns smiled a little crooked smile of reminiscence. "Oh, haven't I?" he said. "When I was starting in New York and selling stories to magazines when I could, eating around at little joints."

"I don't suppose you pretend to know anything about cooking do you?" began the lawyer, impressively.

"Oh, yes I do," said Johns easily.

"Ever been a cook?" sneered the attorney.

SATISFIED THE HAY PRESS.

"Yes," said the author, smiling, "I cooked several months for a hay press in Escondido."

"That all?"

"No, I cooked everything that Jack London ate for three months."

Horgan examined the tips of finger nails for a while; then he asked coldly, "Can you inform us who did his laundry?"

"No," said the witness good naturedly.

"Well," said Mr. Horgan briskly, "You cooked for Jack London and a hay press."

A sardonic smile played over the lawyer's lips as he asked: "I hope you suffered no grievously ill effects from this dinner you describe?"

"No," said Johns politely. "Only distress of mind. I have a wonderful digestion. I have even eaten raw bacon in th emountains and the desert without grievous effects."

"But," said the lawyer, warmly and desperately. "Did you ever eat a better meal for 20 cents than this?"

"I have."

"Whereabouts."

"In some thirty cities that I shall be pleased to name."

"Never mind; did you ever eat a $3 meal?"

"Well, well," said the judge reprovingly.

"Your honor, I want to see if he is capable of judging good cooking," protested the lawyer hotly.

"I have," said Mr. Johns promptly.

"At Delmonico's?" suggested Mr. Horgan bitterly.

"No, at a Hungarian restaurant near St. Mark's Church," answered the author, smiling at the memory.

"Hope you got your money's worth," sa the cook's lawyer in a perfectly crushing manner.

"Oh, I did," the author assured him, cheerfully.

Mr. Johns was followed by his half brother, Herbert Peet, a young, good-looking matinee actor, now playing his maiden engagement at the Burbank.

MADE HIM WEEPY.

He looked so unhappy and so doleful, that the lawyer said, resentfully, "I suppose you can see that dinner table now in your imagination."

"I can," said Mr. Peet, his voice shaken with emotion.

He said it was dreadful.

"Couldn't you eat it?" asked the lawyer solicitously.

"No," said Mr. Peet, shaking his head mournfully. Then before a word could be spoken he made haste to correct himself.

"I didn't mean to say that. That was overdrawing it. We could eat it. Both my brother and I are strong, healthy young men; we could have eaten it; I think (doubtfully) we could. I feel almost suret we could have. But of course my mother——"

"You see," he went on painfully explicit and without a smile, "I could take a bath in mud. But you know," he said deprecatingly, "one does not like to do these things."

He said they held a meeting after the second meal and resolved that this cooking could not be borne.

"Who acted as chairman of the meeting?" asked the lawyer frivolously.

"It being a family meeting we dispensed with the election of a chairman," said the witness quietly.

He said that Miss Constance Skinner, a dramatic critic, was a guest at those two famous meals.

"Did she stay for breakfast?"

"No, she didn't seem to be hungry; I think she lived in the hope of getting back to town and getting a real dinner," he said innocently.

"Did she vote aye at the family meeting?"

"Yes, she voted aye."

"Did you ask for an explanation from the cook?" asked the lawyer, dramatically—that outraged cook lady sat bolt upright in a thunderous mood.

"No, we didn't ask her; the dinner seemed to explain itself," said the actor, as one saddened by sorrow.

Mrs. Peet, the sculptor, went on the stand herself. She said she fished out the least objectionable-looking piece of meat, but couldn't eat it.

"Ha," said the lawyer triumphantly, "you only tried the one piece."

NEGRO HOSTS ARE INVITED.

National Baptist Convention to be Captured.

Representing Body of Two Million People.

Estimate that Visitors Will be Thirty Thousand.

Los Angeles, the convention city, is on the eve of capturing its most novel national gathering.

If plans mature that are now in progress, 30,000 negro Baptists will pour into this City of the Angels in 1906, and for a week they will discuss the respective merits of deep water immersion, triune dipping, et cetera, and incidentally will view the beauties of the land and witness the prosperity which has come to the industrious and frugal colored men who have cast their lot with Southern California.

There are more Baptists among the negroes of the United States than members of any other denomination; and this National Baptist Association is the official gathering of these brethren. It is composed of representatives from every church and auxiliary society of the colored Baptists in America, and the convention proper is a delegate body of fully 11,000 members. Besides, there is always an attendance more than equalling the regular delegation.

The Los Angeles promotion committee is assured that should the convention come it would bring 30,000 negroes to this city.

The next annual convention meets in Chicago, October 20. It has been postponed this year to a later date than usual, on account of the yellow fever epidemic in the South, which interfered with travel, and which touched some places in which there are important churches and societies of the colored Baptists.

The general rule of the national association is that it shall convene on the Wednesday before the third Lord's Day in September. Next year it will adhere to this rule.

At the recently closed Western Baptist Convention, comprising all the colored Baptist associations and churches on the Pacific Coast, it was unanimously voted to use earnest endeavor to bring to Los Angeles the national convention next year. This is the move which is now occupying the attention of leading Los Angeles Baptists.

Two committees have been appointed to work to this end. One is known as the general committee, and is composed of all the Baptist pastors and one representative from each Baptist society on the Coast.

The Promotion Committee is composed of Los Angeles men, and its personnel is: J. J. Neilmore, chairman; Rev. C. H. Anderson, Rev. J. D. Gordon, Rev. S. E. Piercy and A. Reen.

These men will go to the Chicago convention, fortified with attractive Southern California and Los Angeles literature, some of it issued by the colored people, themselves, and other pamphlets and booklets to be supplied by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. It is also expected the committee will make a Southern California exhibit, through the help of the Chamber of Commerce.

The only other city of importance in the contest for next year's convention is New Orleans, and on account of the fact that yellow fever has wrought such ravages there this season, it seems certain the Baptists will decide to shelve its invitation.

This national convention represents a body of 2,110,477 Baptists, according to the report at the last convention, and of course there has been a vigorous growth during the year just closing.

In California alone there are over 3000 negro Baptists, with twenty-seven churches.

It is declared that the personnel of the national conventions represents the very best citizenship among the colored people. Of the twenty banks in the United States owned and managed by negroes, fifteen have officers who are also members of this national convention. This includes the only woman president of a bank in the world, an account of whom was given in The Times a few weeks ago. Booker T. Washington of the Tuskegee Institute is a member of the convention, and James Groves, the Kansas millionaire potato king, is one of the officers.

The negro Baptists expect to raise from $12,000 to $15,000 for the entertainment of the host of visitors. The association itself provides for the railroad fares and hotel bills of the delegates, and this fund will be used for other entertainment during the week that the visitors linger in Los Angeles and Southern California.

WIFE SAW THE KISS; NOW ANOTHER WIFE.

THE marriage in Los Angeles last Wednesday of Robert Gilmer Hanford, a millionaire mining man, to Mrs. Gabrille Dulard Cavalsky ended a romance of a startling flavor.

Valdimir Cavalsky is a San Francisco dentist and had a beautiful wife. She met at Del Monte Millionaire Hanford and the two played golf together. In fact they became so chummy that every one gossiped about it and all knew of Hanford's infatuation for the woman except his wife. Finally Hanford fell ill and then he told his wife of his regard for Mrs. Cavalsky. The wife telephoned to the Cavalsky woman to come to her house. Mrs. Hanford received her and after a few minutes' conversation left the room for a moment. When she returned and entered the adjoining apartment she was astonished to see Mrs. Cavalsky bending over her husband with arms twined about his neck and her lips pressed to his in an Olga Nethersole kiss.

She rushed from the house, remaining away all night. When she came back in the morning she learned from her servants that Mrs. Cavalsky had not departed until 10 o'clock of the preceding evening. From her husband she demanded an explanation and received the frank admission that "The grand passion comes to a man but once in his life, and it has come to me now."

The result was a suit for divorce, which Mrs. Hanford had little difficulty in securing, as well as $52,000 as a cash settlement. Cavalsky also got a divorce. After a year of waiting the millionaire and dentist's wife were secretly married in Los Angeles. Yesterday the news came out.

CANYON NEIGHBORS SHOT AT EACH OTHER.

THE quietude of Tunie Cañon, a picturesque dell about five miles above Burbank, has been broken by a neighborhood shooting-up that was murderous in its prospect, but which happily had a mild outcome.

The stillness of a Sunday evening was broken by this untoward culmination of what seems to have been an old neighborhood feud. Gerard Vandegoorberg, a sixteen-year-old lad, has a face well peppered with shot, and is under the law's warrant held for shooting at Henry Bohrman, his neighbor, and a wealthy ranchman of the cañon.

Bohrman is also under arrest for shooting the boy. Each swore out a warrant for the other, not knowing that his opponent contemplated such an action. Both were arrested about the same time.

It is said that for a long time past there has been more or less trouble between the Vandegoorberg and Bohrman families. Young Gerard had been away from home, and was returning last Sunday evening, about 9 o'clock.

As he passed the ranch house of Bohrman the dogs ran out and began to annoy him with their barking. It is said young Vandegoorberg whipped off the dogs and that Henry Bohrman rushed out of his house and began to remonstrate with the lad.

Vandegoorberg had a pistol and fired two shots, not at the dogs, but at Bohrman himself.

Bohrman ran back into his house and grabbed his shotgun, but when he appeared again the boy was disappearing down the road in the darkness. He fired his gun anyway, on general principles, and sixteen of the scattering shot found lodgment in the face and neck of Gerard.

Bohrman at the time was not aware that his shot had taken effect, but the lad was taken down to Burbank, and the shot were extracted by a physician at that place. The lad is not seriously injured, and unless blood poisoning sets in will experience little inconvenience from his wounds.

Early yesterday morning Henry Bohrman came to Los Angeles to swear out a warrant in Justice Pierce's court against Vandegoorberg. It happened, however, that just about the same time Bohrman was doing the swearing act in Los Angeles the boy who was shot was doing the same thing at Burbank.

When the constable rang up Burbank by telephone to have the boy arrested he learned the lay of the land, and thereupon Bohrman was also placed under arrest for assault with a deadly weapon. The whole affair is regarded by Burbank people merely as a storm in a teapot; but the way it worked out was more satisfactory than in many cases where there is a double-ended trouble.

HEARST OUTFIT IS ATTACHED.

PAPERS SERVED ON "HOCH DER KAISER" LOWENTHAL.

Doddering Daddy, of "Me, Unt Gott" Fame, Sadly Interrupted in Reminiscent Train by Attachment in $21,000 Suit Against Yellow Journalist for Breaking Contract.

They put poor old Papa Lowenthal over a barrel again yesterday.

While Hearst's imported scapegoat was telling a group of open-mouthed listeners how he taught Shelby M. Cullom to eat with a fork, he was served with an attachment on the Hearst belongings in a civil suit.

A man who asserts a claim against the Hearst outfit succeeded in interrupting the flow of dodderisms long enough to put the attachment on the office desk and such other things about the place as may belong to the yellow kid of journalism.

Under two causes of action, G. Y. Ridenbaugh has begun an action to recover a total of $21,000 from Hearst. Papers in the cases were filed yesterday by John S. Chapman and A. B. McCutchen, attorneys for Ridenbaugh.

Shortly afterward, a garnishment on the belongings of Hearst was served on Herr Lowenthal in the Broadway roost of the alien.

The affair is an echo of the time when the Examiner was started here and absorbed the subscription list of the sheet in San Francisco for which it is named.

Ridenbaugh succeeded to the rights of Charles E. Handy, who was operating under a contract with Hearst, dated February 1, 1897, for the conduct of the Los Angeles agency of the San Francisco Examiner.

On May 2, 1901, Handy, with Hearst's consent, it is alleged, assigned all rights to the business to Ridenbaugh.

Under the contract which Ridenbaugh obtained in this manner, he claims to have paid Hearst $6000 for the business—$1500 in cash, and two notes, one for $2500 and the other for $2500.

It is declared that this amount was all paid and that the plaintiff carried out his part of the contract, but Hearst threw him down and he lost every cent he put into the business.

Ridenbaugh was to have full control of the business, it is represented, and he proceeded to fulfill his obligations until December 13, 1903.

For some time prior to the date named, it is averred that the circulation of the San Francisco Examiner amounted to about 1300 copies a day in Los Angeles, for handling which the holder of the contract gained returns of value to him.

Then the Los Angeles edition of the Hearst paper came in and gobbled the circulation of the San Francisco paper, reducing the circulation of the latter to about 100 a day.

On the side, it is said, the circulation thus obtained gives a fair idea of the size of the subscription list of the newly-born New kid.

"NEWS" VS. "NEWS."

Name of Paper Established Fourteen Years Usurped by Clover's Evening Venture.

And now comes up the old problem, even the one propounded by the Bard of Avon, when he asks: "What's in a name?" This time it is a squabble over newspaper names, and the proponents of the inquiry are Sammy Clover of the proposed Evening News, and A. P. Miller of the long-established Los Angeles News.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Los Angeles News, a suburban newspaper for the East Side, Garvanza and Highland Park, has been published regularly for the past fourteen years, Sammy Clover has coolly stepped in and usurped its name, and blazoned it forth on the walls of the Armory building.

Now the East Side paper has an extensive business in the publication of legal notices, lawyers' business, etc., matters in which time is the essence of the contract, and ever since the Cloverian attempt to confiscate the name of the established paper, there have been all kinds of trouble for the East Side publishers.

Miller & Co. complain that their mail is daily delivered to the concern in the Armory building, and that much costly delay and annoyance have resulted; that personal letters intended for the East Side publishers go to the downtown place, and that there can be no peace of mind until the new concern is restrained from using the name of the Los Angeles News.

Lawyers have the case under consideration, and it is probable an injunction will be asked of the courts by A. P. Miller & Co., to perpetually restrain the Clover concern from using the name which causes such an annoying mix-up in business.

While Shakespeare says that "that which we call a rose by any other name would smell as sweet," the East Side publishers declare that after hanging on to the name of the News for fourteen years they don't propose to change sweetening.

CRUSHED GIRL.

Ruby Casselman Beginning to Realize Position in Which Her Crime Placed Her.

After the various lady journalists have wept on Miss Ruby Casselman's neck and expounded sweet and beautiful theories, comes the Police Surgeon with some cold facts.

Dr. Quint says that Miss Casselman is suffering dreadfully from the effects of the jail confinement, and her troubles. She is breaking down physically. She is growing thin and nervous.

She has been appointed a trusty in the matron's ward with the hope that the duties of light housework may help her.

She mopes around the women's department singing hymns and crying. She has become a very weepy young woman. All sentimentality aside, she has arrived at the realization that she has committed a serious crime.

Miss Ruby is supposed yesterday to have parted touchingly and forever from her lover, Ezra Knopf, releasing him from their engagement.

All the police believe that the man who got Ruby into forgery has not been found. They have given up trying to get any information from the girl, owing to her marvelous talent as a liar.

PUBLIC SERVICE---OFFICIAL DOINGS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

A. C. Harper, representing a number of property owners, yesterday made a proposal to the Council to donate to the city a site for a City Hall near the present location of the Federal building on North Main street. The only condition attached is that the city shall sell the present site on South Broadway and use the money in erecting a suitable building on the free site.

Woman clubdom went to the City Hall yesterday to inquire about that library investigation.

The Southern Pacific and Santa Fé have applied to the Council for spur track franchises over the same portions of Jackson street, and railroad politics is to the front once more at the City Hall.

Cattle stealing has fallen into abeyance in recent years, but at present Silas Duntley and C. A. Caldwell are in jail charged with this offence.

Another of the series of water suits wherein the city is seeking to confirm its title to the waters underlying the San Fernando Valley came up yesterday before Judge Conrey on a motion. It is sought to enlarge the scope of the case by bringing in many more defendants.

In the Police Court yesterday in the trial of Dr. F. Z. Vaughn for the larceny of two mirrors, much crookedness in connection with the sale of a hotel was brought out.

AT THE CITY HALL.

FREE SITE FOR NEW CITY HALL.

WOULD COMPLETE GROUP OF PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

Committee Agrees to Make Donation if City Will Build on the Proposed Site—Extends Invitation for Citizens of Other Sections to Come Forward With Counter Proposals.

North of First street property owners yesterday made a formal offer to the Council of a free site for a new municipal building. The only proviso attached is that the Council shall sell the present location on South Broadway and use the money thus secured in erecting a new City Hall large enough to house all the municipal departments.

At the present time the city is paying about $10,000 a year in rent for overflow departments.

The location is the one mentioned several weeks ago in The Times. It comprises six separate pieces of property on Main street, just north of the new Federal building. The location faces three streets, and is valued at $200,000. It has 182 feet frontage on Main street, 188 feet frontage on New High street and 158 feet frontage on Republic street. The present location of the municipal building faces but a single street.

Several Councilmen expressed themselves as favoring an immediate acceptance of what they termed this "munificent offer;" but Councilman Smith objected, and the proposal was referred to the committee of the whole.

Arthur C. Harper made the written offer of the donation. It was presented to the Council by the following committee of representative business men: Eugene Germain, Kaspare Cohn, H. S. McKee, Mark G. Jones, H. C. Lichtenberger, F. W. Braun, Joseph Mesmer, J. H. Schumacher and F. G. Schumacher.

Speaking for the committee, Mr. Braun presented the following communication:

On behalf of a large number of citizens, residents and property owners to the City of Los Angeles, I desire to bring the following matter to your attention and ask that you act thereon.

Said citizens, including the undersigned, who is acting for them in this behalf intend to procure and convey to the City of Los Angeles, upon conditions hereinafter set forth, that certain property in the city of Los Angeles, bounded by Main, New High and Republic streets—fronting 182 feet on Main street, 158 feet on Republic street and 182 feet on New High street, for the purpose of said city erecting and maintaining thereon a city hall and such other buildings appurtenant thereto as will enable said city to house all its general offices and carry on its general and clerical business therein.

Said property to be free from all incumbrances and said conveyance to be in the nature of a gift to said city, conditional upon accepting and using same by ordinance and agreeing to build thereon a city hall to be used by said city in place of the present structure situated on Broadway between Second and Third streets, and that it will commence the construction of said city hall within twelve months and complete the same on or before five years from the date of the delivery of said deed.

Said conveyance to contain a proviso that said city will sell the present City Hall within a reasonable time and use the funds to be obtained therefor for the erection of a city hall upon the property to be donated.

The undersigned further represents and declares that a large part of the funds necessary for the purchase of said city hall site have been subscribed and the subscribers thereof are ready to pay the amounts subscribed therefor, and further that the undersigned has secured options on said property so that the same can be delivered, but before paying for the said property under said options, the undersigned and said other citizens desire to know whether the city will accept said offer.

Therefore, the undersigned asks that your honorable body take such immediate legal steps as may be necessary to enable said city of Los Angeles to accept the said property if the same is tendered to it or to decline said offer.

If said city accepts said offer the said property can be conveyed to it within ninety days from this date. Very respectfully,

A. C. HARPER.

For himself and other citizens for whom he is acting in the matter of said offer.

"I am one of a committee," explained Mr. Braun, "that has taken upon itself the undoing of the Gordian knot that now binds the city government to a site for a municipal building entirely too small for the city's needs by donating a suitable location free of all expense.

"The fact is apparent to every one that the facilities at present are inadequate; the officials as well as the taxpayers are inconvenienced, and the city is put to a cost of about $1000 a month for rooms rented outside the municipal building. This committee has placed in writing an offer to donate a site so situated as to give an abundance of light and air. The citizens back of this movement are practically the same ones who solved the question of a site for a Federal building at a time when that question was almost hopelessly entangled in the courts.

"It is to the interest of the public, as well as to that of the officials to get the city and county buildings as nearly together as possible. The site which we offer has practically four fronts, and is certainly an ideal location for a City Hall."

Councilman Hammon promptly moved that the Council accept the committee's offer. Healy seconded this motion.

Joseph Mesmer, a member of the committee, told the legislators that the donors of the free site are not at all desirous that the question of acceptance should be rushed through the Council. "We are willing and desirous," said Mr. Mesmer, "that this offer should be carefully investigated. While we [illegible] upon this property, and [illegible] expire in a short time, the opposition [illegible] Gingerly the Council [illegible] ook turns on our part to prevent a full discussion of this offer.

"We expect that some interests will come forward with the assertion that this is a real-estate scheme; that the site offered is not a desirable one. All that we have to say in answer to such an assertion is that we have taken the first step in behalf of north of First street. If property owners in other sections of the city have another and better location to offer, let them come forward with their proposal. I can assure you that there is no personal feeling about this. If any other section will offer a better solution to the present vexed question of a suitable location at a reasonable price let them come forward now. If you prefer their offer I can assure you that no adverse criticism will come from our committee.

"We assert that the site which we offer is the best, all things considered, that can be found at the present time. Its nearness to the county and federal buildings is certainly in its favor. Light and air there will be in abundance. And in addition to this, long before the building is completed practically every line of cars in the city will pass the location.

"Plans are now under consideration to have every street car line in the city make a circuit of or pass the Plaza Park. That will mean that no matter on what line a property owner lives he can reach the City Hall building without transfer. This will make the location an extra desirable one.

"We are willing that the petition shall be referred to a committee and that the committee shall take ample time to consider it before reporting back to the Council. Every thing we are doing is open and above board. We have nothing to conceal."

Councilman Smith objected to immediate action. "I am not in favor of this location," said Mr. Smith, "I think the City Hall is all right in its place and that it is placed all right in its present location. If we are seeking more room let us erect a four-story building on the vacant property just north of this building. That would give us almost double the room we have now and all friction about crowding would be removed.

"If we are to change the location of the City Hall the people should have a voice in the movement. I am of the opinion that the proffer made us this morning should be submitted to a vote of the people at the next general election. I understand that there are other sections of the city which are thinking of making a bid for the City Hall. If we were to move I would be in favor of going as far south as Ninth street. To dispose of the present proposal I move that it be referred to the Committee of the Whole."

Councilman Hiller looked appealingly at the President and attempted to speak. The effort brought only a hoarse whisper unintelligible to President Summerland. A second attempt resulted in like manner. Mr. Hiller was one of the candidates on the Shriner's pilgrimage to Santa Barbara Saturday. What the dervishes did to him is of course a carefully guarded secret, but yesterday he was unable to speak above a whisper, "caught cold in the ice chest," was his explanation to another Councilman.

After a third effort Hiller sank back into his chair and whispered to Councilman Smith. "Second the motion," called Smith, and President Summerland accepted the second by proxy, probably the first ever made at a Council session. "——!" exclaimed Howton, in an excited falsetto.

Then the motion to refer was adopted by a unanimous vote.

CLUB WOMEN INSISTENT.

LIBRARY INVESTIGATION.

The physical condition of Dr. J. W. Trueworthy, president of the Board of Library Directors, has become a question of prime import in municipal circles.

Councilmen, club women, the library directors, in fact every one but the already bored public seems to be on the tiptoe of expectancy waiting for the pyrotechnic display to begin. But the Council and the library directors have discovered that Dr. Trueworthy's injuries, the result of a recent railway accident, are such that he may not be able to undergo the ordeal of an investigation for probably six weeks, possibly six months.

Woman clubdom yesterday went to the Council chamber to ask that the investigation be held forthwith. Their attorney told the city legislators that the investigation could move along very nicely with Dr. Trueworthy away, and that to continue to postpone the question indefinitely is doing a great injustice to Miss Jones, the former librarian, who cannot well leave to accept another position with the investigation pending.

And Oscar Lawler, responding in behalf of the Library Board, declaimed that: "Miss Jones is not involved. We consider her case a closed incident."

Woman clubdom flounced indignantly in the lobby. Lawler's popularity as a children's page orator appears to be on the wane.

Councilman Smith raised the question of an investigation by moving that the hearing be held on Wednesday, October 4.

Attorney Lawler shook his adonian ringlets and vaulted into the breach. His clients are ready and willing for the investigation to proceed but circumstances over which they have no control has occasioned such a shock to President Trueworthy's nervous condition that his physicians have warned him to have nothing to do with business or, well say investigations, for at least six weeks.

Byron Oliver announced that he appeared as one of the Council for Miss Jones.

"It is a well-known fact," said Mr. Oliver, "that physicians are pessimistic regarding the hasty recovery of their patients. The patients sometimes recover much sooner than the physicians predict. This continual delay is working a hardship on Miss Jones. She is hindered from securing another position. It would be in order for the Council to set an early date for this investigation. If at the time set Dr. Trueworthy's physical condition is such that he cannot attend, it would then be in order for the directors to ask for a continuance.

"We are asked to consent to a delay in the present instance by reason of the illness of President Trueworthy. Probably by the time Dr. Trueworthy recovers Director Dockweiler will be taken with chills and fever." [Titters and subdued applause from woman clubdom.]

All this provoked young Mr. Lawler to violent protest. To hear a member of the bar apply to another profession the epithet "pessimistic" filled him with indignation. He would as soon accept the statement of some physicians as the affidavits of some other persons.

"Dr. Trueworthy has always been eager for this investigation," went on Lawler; "he is the only person who can relate the particulars of Miss Jones's resignation [indignant sniffs from the lobby] and the things that led up to it.

"Dr. Trueworthy was eager for an investigation even when some of the other directors hesitated by reason of the character of the investigator." This time the gasps of astonishment came from the Councilmen themselves.

"[illegible]son of the pervo of the investigation," added Mr. [illegible]ler hastily, and [illegible] restore[illegible] BR[illegible] at suggesting that some manner of compromise should be attempted between the two contending forces. The legislators do not fancy this constant grinding between two millstones.

At each suggestion of a compromise, however, woman clubdom's nose was elevated one degree higher in the air. A timely motion deferring action one week restored her equilibrium.

"They are trying to wear us out with these delays," said one club woman after the postponement, "but they are going to find that we are not to be put off that way. We shall be here every week until the investigation is held."

Some of the club women profess to have assurances from Councilmen to the effect that the legislators are now waiting only until they are assured that the Mayor will appoint the right men in the places of the four directors whom he seeks to remove. "If the Mayor would only consent to let the Council help select the new board," say the club women, "the Councilmen would not hesitate to remove the old one."

All of which seems to indicate that some Councilmen have been doing lively, reckless sidestepping stunts for the delectation of the club women.

SPUR TRACK WRANGLE.

WHO GETS JACKSON STREET?

The Southern Pacific and Santa Fé have locked horns over the possession of Jackson street. Each road has made application to the Council for a spur track franchise over the same route. The privilege asked is one that cannot be sold, and the question has narrowed itself down to which road has the stronger pull at the City Hall.

A week ago the Southern Pacific petitioned for two spur tracks extending the entire length of Jackson street from Center to Wilmington. Yesterday this petition was duplicated by the Santa Fé. Both applications have gone to the Board of Public Works.

Judging from petitions filed yesterday with the City Clerk, the sympathies of the property owners on Jackson street are with the Santa Fé. Two petitions came yesterday from the seat of war; one asked that the Southern Pacific's application be denied, the other that the one made by the Santa Fé be granted.

Half a dozen interested property owners went to the City Hall to tell their versions of the affair. They were advised to return Friday and relate their troubles to the Board of Public Works.

These property owners are seemingly convinced that a great wrong is about to be done the Santa Fé. They assert that it was the Santa Fé that made it possible to secure the opening of Jackson street, and that it was understood at the time that the road should be permitted to lay a spur track on the street. They allege that the Southern Pacific waited until the opening proceedings were well along and then stepped in and tried to hog the street.

The Southern Pacific's version will be told next Friday at the meeting of the Board of Public Works.

This is the first time in a year and a half that two railway companies have clashed over franchises. Politicians and place men about the City Hall rejoice greatly that the truce is broken. The question involved is which road shall secure the monopoly of a branch line into the north of First street business district.

JUST ONE MORE SLIP.

WATER SUPPLY COMMITTEE.

Spook Howton made another effort yesterday to get a place on the Water Supply Committee. The Sixth Ward agitator wants to help investigate the city's new source of water supply, at the city's expense.

For half an hour yesterday he was a member of the committee; then the Council rudely reconsidered its action and he was again left out in the cold. After that his wails filled the City Hall corridors until the janitors came and put him out in order to close up.

At the morning session of the Council, Howton moved that the Water Supply Committee be increased by the addition of one member. He said a few thousand citizens and taxpayers of the Sixth Ward desire that he shall help spend that bond money.

But the Councilmen wanted to be shown. About the middle of the afternoon session Howton bobbed up again with a motion that the entire Council be included in the Water Supply Committee. President Summerland kindly put the question and announced that it had carried before the other Councilmen realized what was going on.

Howton's elation proved his own undoing. The Councilmen held a whispered chair-to-chair conference, with the result that Chairman Ford of the Water Supply Committee moved a reconsideration of the previous motion.

"——! ——!" howled Howton.

But the petition was reconsidered and the committee was reduced to five members.

The committee will hold a conference this week with the Board of Water Commissioners, respecting the options now held by the city in the Owens River Valley.

CATTLE THEFTS IN ACTON HILLS.

SILAS DUNTLEY AND C. A. CALDWELL IN JAIL.

Made Clean Run With Twenty-six Head of Stock and Sold Part in This City, the Remainder Being Mixed in With the Defendant's Own Herd.

About six years ago an enterprising bunch of cattle rustlers was landed in the State's prison, and since then cattle stealing hereabouts has been neither fashionable nor profitable. Spasmodically, one or two men have tried their hand at it, but inevitably were arrested. There are two men now in the County Jail on the charge of stealing cattle, and before they are brought to trial it is probable that they may have something to say regarding the men who stood behind them.

Silas Duntley, the principal one, and a man well known in the mountain region around Acton, where the thefts have taken place, began life wrong. He was sent to Ione Industrial Home to serve a sentence for cattle stealing, and now in mature age he is again in the same kind of trouble. The other man, C. A. Caldwell, was captured last Friday on the desert, twenty-two miles from Palmdale, by Deputy Sheriff Bert Franklin, who had arrested his compadre two weeks before.

Twenty-six head of cattle had been run off the Robertson ranch, eleven miles west of Acton. Of this stock fifteen head belonged to Mrs. Belle Murdy Smith, the woman who has had to lie outside each night during the summer with a shotgun and revolver close to her hand in order to protect her property; and the remainder belonged to F. D. Dominick of Santa Monica.

Dominick asked Duntley if he would go with him to the Robertson ranch to help in branding the cattle, and Duntley consented. In that way, it is claimed, Duntley became acquainted with the location of this small band of stock.

Work being done, Dominick told Duntley that he was going to Santa Monica, but would be back in about three weeks. When he returned, Dominick found his band of cattle missing. He reported the matter to Sheriff White. For three weeks Deputy Sheriff Franklin investigated and finally struck a clew which led finally to the arrest of the two men now in jail.

As soon as Dominick had left, Duntley is said to have driven the band of cattle to the Cull ranch, a desert rendezvous for tough characters, thirty-two miles from the Robertson ranch. There Caldwell appeared on the scene, and aided Duntley in rebranding all the animals but ten young heifers. The sixteen newly-branded animals were then driven down the Soledad Cañon, and next day were hidden in a little cañon until nightfall. But when night came only ten head could be accounted for, the remaining six having escaped into the hills. These six head were driven down to Duntley's dairy at Colegrove, and were mixed in with his dairy stock until they were sold a day or two after to a not too particular buyer. The ten heifers were driven off and mingled in with a small herd of stock that Duntley owns, until the persistent inquiries of the deputy sheriff trailed them down.

It is suspected that though Duntley and Caldwell have been the active workers in this bit of cattle rustling, there have been more important men standing behind them.

PRISONER A PLAINTIFF.

AN ARMENIAN IMBROGLIO.

A. O. Boyajian is an Armenian, who got tired of persecution in his own country, and came over here years ago. He is said to be now serving time in the State of Massachusetts, but notwithstanding is posing as a plaintiff in a suit against his brother, S. O. Boyajian, and a fellow-countryman named J. A. Arakelian.

These three religious emigres engaged in business here, and carried on the Caucasian Billard Hall on North Los Angeles street. Here in addition to playing billiards, ice cream soda was dispensed, cigars were sold, and other small commodities. After a time A. O. Boyajian went East—and remained East for the simple reason that he was not allowed by the authorities to come West—he became involved in a little matter of arson, and is now said to be serving time in Massachusetts.

While the brother was boxed up in the East, he claims that his brother in this city, and his partner agreed to buy out his interest in the Caucasian outfit for $1500, and upon their promise to pay that amount to his credit at the bank he signed a bill of sale. The negotiations were necessarily carried on at long range, but the plaintiff avers that though he signed the bill of sale the other two failed to deposit any money to his account whatever. Now he is suing for the amount of his interest, and the case is being tried before Judge York.

Rather strangely, S. O. Boyajian, brother of the plaintiff, concedes the claim of the brother in prison, but the other partner, Arakelian, claims that both brothers have fraudulently conspired together to do him up. He alleges that the prison-bound Boyajian had agreed to sign the bill of sale to the property for a dismissing of the partnership and an accounting, and for the grant of a monthly stipend of $18 for a specified period.

Upon these statements of fact a pretty little quarrel is being thrashed out before Judge York, and the further hearing will be proceeded with today.

HAPPY CLIMAX.

THOMAS BROUGHT TO TASK.

Harry Thomas, one of the deputies in the office of the County Surveyor, went off recently and got married on the quiet without telling his office associates anything about it. Yesterday morning he was back at work and no one stepped forward to congratulate him, and he began to think that he either had been pretty clever to hush matters up so closely or else the boys were giving him a mild guy.

About 10 o'clock, while Thomas had his nose down close to a drawing board, all the office attachés gathered in the private office of the chief, and then a messenger was sent for the delinquent. He came in looking a trifle sheepish, nor was he made to feel any happier by the somber row of faces that confronted him.

To cap the climax, County Surveyor Youngworth proceeded to administer a roast to Harry for his wily methods, and in the name of the office workers dressed him down in good shape. Then as a grand finale he presented to the newly-made Benedict and his bride a very handsome oaken case equipped with a dining and dessert set of silver knives, forks and spoons.

ATTORNEY TOO SPEEDY.

TROUBLE FOR "JUDGE" LADD.

Attorney Ladd about a month ago began a divorce suit for Sarah Jennings against her husband, Edward C. Jennings, and attached the husband's salary.

The next thing to do was to find the husband, for apparently even the wife had no knowledge of what her hubby had been doing for some time. Mr. Ladd found refuge in the City Directory and there discovered that "Edward C. Jennings" was an employé of the Southern Pacific Railroad. He gave a shout of triumph, for the attorney had really begun to think that the husband was an unknown quantity in this city. The garnishee papers were sent to the San Francisco office of the corporation, and in due course Edward C. Jennings discovered that his usual pay check was not forthcoming. Inquiry revealed the fact that his salary had been attached by his wife, who was seeking a divorce.

Jennings didn't know for a moment just whether he was standing on his head or his heels. That very morning his wife had kissed him good bye, and right along she had pretended to be an affectionate and loving little woman. Was she playing the hypocrite? He couldn't believe it. When the papers in the case were served upon him another twist was given to the snarl. Jennings's wife's name was Annie, and this wife that had tied up his pay check called herself Sarah. Jennings thought he would go crazy, and by this time his wife wanted to be let in on his secret. When no money was forthcoming she divined something was wrong, and when she also learned that another woman was laying claim to her husband's money, she started out on the warpath.

As a matter of fact Ladd had garnisheed the wrong "Edward C. Jennings," and now must make his peace with this railroad man and his wife or stand the consequences. Meantime the real, dyed-in-the-wool Jennings has not been discovered.

SAN FERNANDO WATER.

RANCHMEN ALL DEFENDANTS?

One of the water suits in which the city is seeking to firmly establish its right and title to the underground waters of the San Fernando Valley, as tributary to the Los Angeles River, came up before Judge Conrey yesterday, the suit of the City of Los Angeles against T. D. Buffington and 159 others.

There was a great lining up of attorneys. All of them are not directly concerned in this particular suit, but those who are not are directly interested in some of the four suits pending trial, and in which the same issues are raised. W. B. Mathews, City Attorney, and J. R. Scott stood together as representing the city, while Stephens & Stephens, McNutt & Hannon, Munson & Barclay, W. E. Lloyd, T. R. Archer, R. M. Widney, Tanner, Taft & Odell, J. W. McKinley, J. W. Mitchell and Henry O'Melveny appeared for present defendants or defendants-to-be.

The case came up on a motion by defendant to have others made party to the litigation by the city, and if the motion is granted, it is possible, and indeed probable, that nearly every ranchman and water user in the San Fernando Valley will be brought into court. But the city vigorously opposes the motion, claiming authority under the decisions to elect who it would make party defendants, though there might be others in identically the same position. Arguments of counsel occupied the whole of the day and will be resumed this morning.

Of the other suits similar in character, that against the Amestoy Estate Company is now on appeal; the City vs. Hunter, the City vs. the Lankershim Ranch Land and Water Company, the suit begun by the Miradero Water Company against the City of Los Angeles, and that now in court, are all along similar lines. While the generous supply of water to be brought from the Owens River Valley will obviate any necessity on the part of the city to carry out the original intention of utilizing the waters underlying the San Fernando Valley, it is deemed by the city's counsel a necessity that the city's rights in the premises be established.

THE FEDERAL COURTS.

HIS FATE WILL SOON BE KNOWN.

JURY TO TAKE FITZSIMMONS' CASE TODAY.

Oily Ollie Made Star Witness Against Himself, His Efforts to Evade Simple Questions Causing Even Jurors to Smile—Arguments Completed.

It remains now for the jury to decide the fate of Orlando K. Fitzsimmons—whilom master of sanctimony and ruler by right of "Easy Marks."

His trial for illegal use of the mails, concluded in the United States District Court yesterday, as far as testimony and argument was concerned, took a humorous turn in the afternoon, at least as far as Fitzsimmons himself played his part.

Far from being the doughty champion of his system that his friends and fellow-workers expected, Fitzsimmons turned out the leading witness of the day for the prosecution. His childish elusions of direct questions put broad grins on the faces of the jury, and his about-the-bush answers made a terrific hit with the audience outside the rail.

The United States Attorney tried to get him to admit things that are of course most commonplace facts—that he is president, director and general manager of his Cumulative Credit Company, that he wrote the letters and literature sent out through the mails, or caused them to be written, and that he mailed, or caused to be mailed, such letters and literature.

For instance, the questions and answers would run something after this fashion:

"Are you the president of the Cumulative Credit Company?"

"Yes."

"Are you general manager?"

"Yes."

"Well, then the literature of the concern was a matter of your policy?"

"Oh, it might have been."

"Weren't you responsible—didn't you know about it?"

"Well, I don't remember, perhaps I knew something about it. I couldn't say whether I did or not."

"What do you mean by that?"

"Well, some of the others around the office, some of the others in the management had something to do with it too."

The above is not a literal transcript of evidence, but it has the general trend. This excited a smile from the lookers-on, but what followed, concerning the writing and mailing of letters, was so ridiculous as to cause general merriment all around the room. One of the questions concerned the writing of a particular letter.

"Do you know the contents of this letter?"

"No."

"Did you write it?"

"No."

"Did you cause it to be written?"

"No."

"Do you mean to say that you did not dictate this letter.

"No, I did not dictate it—well, I—it is—er—I mean, that looks like a copy of the one I dictated—that's what I meant."

The audience thought that was funnier than vaudeville.

In the mailing the same farce went on.

"Did you mail this letter?"

"No."

"You did not? Didn't one of your secretaries, or some of your office force, mail this letter?"

"No—I don't know."

"Didn't you give it to them to mail?"

"No, I do not remember that I did."

"Did you, or did you not, cause this to be mailed?"

"Well, I—I—I left it on my desk in the office."

"What for?"

"W ll, for—for—for what is usually done with letters."

"What do you mean by that."

"Well, I wanted it—ah—transmitted."

Questions kept coming at the patron saint of all righteousness faster than he could think up ways to elude them, and he proved far more than the prosecution had hoped for, as an addition to their side of the case.

MINISTER FOR DEFENSE.

A remarkable witness for the defense was Rev. B. F. Boller, pastor of the Magnolia Avenue Congregational Church, Rev. Boller took the stand for Fitzsimmons' system of finance. Said he believed it all right; couldn't see any dishonesty in it.

During the forenoon the questioning of minor witnesses was concluded. Capt. Anlauf was put in a delicate position by assertions of Attorney Bacon of the defense. Bacon claims that Capt. Anlauf, who was suspected of perjury in a former matter, has been promised an easy let-down by the Federal officials if he will testify sharply against Fitzsimmons in this matter. Attorney Valentine hotly denied the imputation, and Judge Wellborn restored peace.

TO JURY TODAY.

A little after 5 o'clock last evening all argument was concluded, and Judge Wellborn adjourned court until 10 o'clock this morning. The matter will probably go at once before the jury.

LOOKING-GLASS AND MUCH ADO.

CONTESTANTS SEEN IN MENTAL MIRROR AS WELL.

Racy Allegations of Board of Trade With Reference to the Transfer of Hotel Lincoln, in Order to Save a Debtor—More in the Background of the Case.

Justice Austin is having the time of his life in an effort to determine whether Dr. Vaughn stole two mirrors or whether he took them believing them to be his.

All yesterday afternoon was consumed trying to unravel the conundrum, which was propounded by Mrs. Belle McWilliams when she charged Dr. Z. F. Vaughn with the larceny of two mirrors, from what she claims as her rooming-house, at No. 309 South Hill street.

So far as the case got along, very little was said about the stealing of the mirrors, but it developed into an exposition of the transfer of the Hotel Lincoln by William D. Montgomery to Mrs. McWilliams, and subsequent efforts to defraud the creditors of Montgomery.

An agreement was entered into between the parties to make a transfer of the house for $8000. Of this, $4900 was to be paid in cash, and the rooming-house at 309 South Hill street, was to go in at $1100. The deal was closed, a deposit of $500 being made by Mrs. McWilliams, and by stipulation the rooming-house was given into possession of Dr. Vaughn and his family, who was a creditor of Montgomery.

About this time the Wholesalers' Board of Trade "got wise" to what was going on and interposed on behalf of Montgomery's creditors. Then Mrs. McWilliams, Montgomery, Attorney Cook, Dr. Vaughn, Manager White of the Lincoln, and perhaps others, got together and verbally agreed to withdraw the rooming-house from the deal, and let the consideration stand at only $4900, thus saving the $1100 to Montgomery by keeping it out of the clutches of his creditors.

Just when Dr. Vaughn removed the two mirrors from the house has not been brought out, but he claims to have taken them within a day or two after he took charge of the house, and when he claims he had no reason to doubt his title to the property.

Everybody in connection with the affair seems to have turned against Mrs. McWilliams, who had Vaughn ousted from the premises, after about a month, claiming that she saw no money coming, but wise ones on the outside declare that she was simply taking advantage of the situation, believing that the other side would not "squeal" because of the circumstances.

Attorney William T. Craig, of Dunning & Craig, and Secretary of the Board of Trade, believes that these beliefs in the strongest language on the witness stand. THIRD NIGHT OF PLAY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LOCATE "SURF" NEAR NEWPORT.

LOCAL CLAM CASTERS SCORE A KILLING SUNDAY.

Yellowtail Taken on Rod and Reel Off Redondo Wharves—Albacore and Skipjacks on the Warpath Outside—Spotfin Croakers Afford Sport to Fishers in San Pedro Bay.

The surf-fish, scarce for nearly a month, have at last been located in force.

Sunday a party of local rodsters tried out Newport thoroughly, and caught altogether about one hundred good sized specimens of the corbina tribe, ranging from a pound to nearly four pounds weight, there being but little sport until five o'clock in the evening, when the fish began to act in a most scandalous manner.

Huntington Beach proved fair, quite a number of anglers putting in the day on the wharf, and casting off the beach. The game at Newport was by far the best, however.

Seekers for big fish had their innings at Redondo where yellowtail were taken by the dozen from every wharf. Will Stearns landed two big ones on rod and reel casting with a Wilson spoon and taking in his prizes on the landing stairs. He had innumerable strikes, the fish apparently going crazy over the erratic motions of the dancing, wobbling thing that wiggled its swift way through their happy hunting ground. Tommy Prisdent also connected with several yellowtail on rod and reel, the hand liners with their live bait, for once being at a discount in wharf fishing.

Outside, the piscatorial bill of fare was albacore, varied with occasional skipjacks and bass. The yellowtail seemed to be concentrated around Redondo, for few were reported anywhere else, although reports agree that they swarmed there by the thousand.

In San Pedro bay a small run of good-sized croakers kept anglers on the qui vive all day. Just as the sport began to grow tiresome, some hungry spotfin would start trouble, and interest would rekindle at once.

Robert Campbell, familiarly known as "Lucky Bob" led off with four big croakers, of which the largest weighed eight and a half pounds and the smallest about three.

D. Botiller, Thompson, Guy Hill, Ernest Beuchel, W. S. Skeel, C. Salyer, Al Sheriff, Simon Spier, and half a hundred other tried their hands with varying success, about a dozen croakers being the grand total at the cannery.

V. A. Grimes landed seventeen surf fish at Newport, two weighing two and a half pounds each.

Messrs. Carr and Smith, who also camped at Newport, got twenty-five "surf" between five o'clock and quitting time Sunday night.

H. Slotterbeck and wife totalled forty-six at Newport leaving at 7 o'clock at night.

Sherman Baker, Smith Warren and Eugene Elliott went outside with Harry Lynch Sunday morning and stayed all day. They trolled up to Rocky Point beyond Pt. Vincent, and caught nine bass, twenty-one albacore and several skipjacks.

BOXERS COMING.

O'BRIEN TO CHALLENGE.

"Philadelphia Jack O'Brien," the crack middle-light heavyweight pugilist, wired yesterday that he was coming West and would be at the Sullivan-Burns fight the night of October 17 to challenge the winner.

"Twin" Sullivan expects to train in this city for his bout with "Toughnut" Tommy Burns, but no place has been selected as yet.

Cordell and Mayfield who appear in one of McCarey's ten round goes next month, will leave two days before the fight, being now in San Francisco.

Gorman and Angell, two other contestants, left last night for this city.

Warren Zubrick, who recently trimmed Frank Fields, will be with Burns again this time and wants a local engagement with any man who can be secured for him. He may be given a crack at the winner of the Horman-Angell bout.

The official bulletin issued yesterday at Berlin announces that two cases of cholera and two deaths have occurred from noon Sunday to noon yesterday, making the totals 246 cases and eighty-five deaths. The fresh cases are at Dirschau and Weirita.

Football Men Turn Out for Practice at U.S.C.

One Big Fellow Among a Lot of Little Ones.

A Succession of Reverses. Holmes' Hard Luck.

Mr. Chester Haigler, late of Tempe, Ariz., where they bale alfalfa on the tabloid food plan and issue an equine ration in the original package, is by far the most imposing object on the football map at U.S.C. during the present writing.

Gridiron practice began in earnest yesterday at the Methodist temple of learning, and out of a school of small fish, husky Haigler loomed up like some stranded whale. It was impossible to see anything else on the field at the same time. Coach Holmes—pro tempore, at least—was eclipsed. It took no search warrant and bum bailiff servers to locate Haigler, though microscopical analysis and a vigorous shaking of the sheets wouldn't have come amiss if some of the others were badly wanted after bedtime for signal work on the blackboard.

The athletic boss at U.S.C. was characteristically conservative in prophesying a bad outlook for football last week. If Haigler gets hit by a street car, or tries a cross buck through Barnum & Bailey's big elephant, there won't be any U.S.C. team this year. It behooves the faculty of brains and brawn at the Methodist institution to take good care of the large gentleman from the hay country. Holmes has put him in at center, where the enemy can take a good look at his massive proportions, partly for moral effect. The influence of such a mountain of human meat charging at one cannot be otherwise than disquieting, and conducive of a desire to step aside and let the gentleman have the gangway, although the same is not football etiquette, according to the exact definitions thereof laid down by that worthy, Coach Yost, in his treatise on the sport that made him famous.

Haigler owns up to a little over 190 pounds of stripped weight, and from the bunchy, cordy character of his body, will take little or none of it off training. Bucking hay all summer seems to have been his portion, and if he bucks the line as well, there is hope for U.S.C. yet.

Twenty-one men answered the call for volunteers yesterday afternoon, several being old hands of experience, and about a third newcomers of varying degrees of inexperience, ranging upward from the verdant recruit, whose idea of football is that the fists are foul play, to the fairly well-finished high-school graduate who has good stuff in him, and knows more than the rudiments of the game.

Small, wiry physiques were the rule. Disappointments have verified the old adage about misfortunes at U.S.C. this fall—they have not come singly.

Charles Haigler, brother of the huge Chester, is said to be even bigger—a sort of human hippopotamus, to credit the partisans of U.S.C. He was coming, but severe injury to his father-in-law has detained him at Tempe for two weeks, if not for the season.

Jack White, an old favorite at U.S.C., has passed up a swell chance to save his country—reason, getting the money. The railroad company entered competition with Holmes, and outbid him for Jack's services, so there is not much prospect of this sturdy little back being on hand again.

Eugene Shute, a new end from Arizona Normal seems likely to prove a good running mate for Capt. Elliott, who was out yesterday in uniform. Shute played several seasons on the best team in Arizona, and has had considerable experience.

The backs are light, and fairly fast. Clarence Chritton, Hugh Nicholson and F. Cass are the prospects for tackle. Cass is a last year's man; the others are newcomers of sturdy build, products of country academic teams, and look to weigh about 165 or 170 each.

Another of the men is Stanislaus Burek, who is reputed to be a good track man, his specialty being the quarter mile.

Not a very encouraging outlook, truly. Coach Holmes's sleeve is at present very comfortably filled with his arm, and there isn't room for anything else up it.

"Shark" Lennox of athletic fame at U.S.C. is assistant football coach, and is putting the second team through a course of sprouts in hope of developing some material. Just what the future will bring forth only the future can tell, and it is not very eloquent; but one thing is sure—U.S.C. will have to step lively to stand off the Los Angeles High School team on the present basis. The team will probably look a lot different in a month, but it needs to sorely. Enough hard luck to last a professional ball team a whole season has been crowded into two weeks of the strenuous gridiron life at U.S.C. this fall.

Scrimmage practice began yesterday with several lively seances. Desperate measures were deemed necessary.

Pen Points

If the Examiner will insist on eating Crow, why should it afflict the rest of the community with its diagust?

As time passes, the country is becoming aware of another new Roosevelt doctrine. It is rotation in Cabinet office.

"Time was made for slaves," says the old Spanish proverb. In later years it has also considerable to do with the man who borrows money on his note.

It is noticed that whenever there is talk of the State of California being divided, it is the people north of Tehachepi who get pale behind the gills.

If it be true that the Czar is enjoying himself in Finland, then we may all settle down to the conclusion that any man can have a good time any place.

Somebody should notify the weather man of the fact that, according to the calendar, it is about time to let up on the brand he has been handing out for the past several days.

In going over the provisions of his life-insurance policy, the person insured should in future insist on the right to specify which political party he prefers to benefit from his annual premiums.

A review of the school children proves that the good Lord continues to be without prejudice as regards sex. He seems to make just about as many girls as boys. And, doubtless, that's the better way.

Mayor Dunne says he has his finger on the public pulse in Chicago. But what he should do is to put his heel on the lawbreakers of that strike-cursed and murdersome community, if he really desires to earn his salary.

If Mr. Rockefeller is sincere in his desire to abolish the dripking habit, as he stated he is, in a recent talk to his Sunday-school, why doesn't he buy up all the breweries and distilleries and retire them from business?

France isn't so eager to bombard Venezuela this week as she was last week. You see, old man Castro knows what he's talking about. No monkey business goes any more down there on the golden shores of Venezuela.

Doubtless the school geographies will inform the children this year, the same as last, that Nicaragua is an independent republic, boldly ignoring the fact that it has been purchased outright by the Standard Oil Company.

It is lucky that Los Angeles men do not wear celluloid collars. Celluloid is combustible, and with the kind of weather we've been having a man wearing collars of that material would run a chance of having his neck blown out.

We ought to have a few guns at San Pedro if only for use to roar an occasional welcome when the commerce of the world crowds that sunlit and capacious harbor, built with such infinite pains, after one of the greatest fights on record.

In spite of Jim Hill's proverbial pessimism he is pushing the Great Northern road into the Columbia River country and is otherwise showing all the symptoms of a man who believes there will still be a procession to keep up with for some time yet to come.

The doctors have begun another campaign against the kissing evil. What they should do, however, if they ever hope to ever accomplish anything, is to discover the love microbe and have it killed off. After that's accomplished kissing will just naturally go out of fashion of its own accord.

Japan and Great Britain have already begun to put their plans for the mastery of the Pacific into effect. As an international fiction this is all right, but the minute the Briton and the Jap start in to restrain commerce and hamper trade there will be trouble and lots of it, and some of it may come from this side of the great ocean aforementioned.

Among the many things in which Los Angeles stands preëminent is the street courtesy of its people. Strangers within our gates invariably go away with a good impression of us because of the patient consideration with which we treat them when they stop us on the city's thoroughfares in order to secure information from us. The people of this town think it a pleasure to answer questions, and are noted for their politeness and kindliness in that respect. Nothing could speak better for us than a reputation of that kind.

It seems impossible to dodge the belief that, if it is in a man, he can carve his own fortune without relying upon boosts from outside sources. There are innumerable instances to bear out the theory, and the most notable at the present moment is the case of M. Witte. He had to make his own start in life. He earned his living when a young man as a ticket agent on a railroad. Now the Czar of all the Russias regards him as his strong, right arm, and the Emperor of Germany is waiting in the woods of Rominten just to have a word with him.

BUSINESS.

The volume of business in the Chicago wheat-pit was not large. December closed at 85 1-8@85 1-4. Prices of stocks went to a low level at New York. Foreign exchange rose sharply.

IS IT WORTH WHILE?

It is a matter of regret that it seems to the legal department of the city government absolutely necessary to press the suits new pending against the ranchers in the San Fernando Valley to restrain them from using water which the city contends is part of the Los Angeles River, but which the ranchmen hold never did, does not now and never will reach the bed of that stream.

We say it is deeply regrettable that these suits should be pressed at this time, and ask the officials who represent the city to give the matter one more turn in their minds to see if some expedient cannot be wrought out by which a stay of proceedings—a continuance—may be had. We do not ask these men charged with safeguarding the interests of the municipality to waive an iota of the city's just rights. It would be wrong for them to do that. But in view of what has taken place here in the last ninety days, preliminary to obtaining so abundant a supply of water from the Owens River watershed, cannot some legal stipulation be devised and entered into between the city and the ranchers by which a delay may be had in pressing these suits until it is seen whether the city will ever be obliged to use these percolating waters of underlying private lands along the river?

Will it pay to press these suits? In not more than four years the new water supply will be here. Will the suits now pending be settled in four years? That seems very improbable. The ranchers will fight every step of the way. They must do so. It is a matter of life and death to them, or next door to that extremity. They will insist on soundings being made to settle the contention that these waters in any way appertain to the river. They will carry their case from court to court. If beaten in the State courts some alien property-holder will be put forward to take the matter into the Federal courts, where it will drag on for a new period of years.

It is costing the city large sums of money to go on with this litigation. High-priced lawyers are continuously employed under the City Attorney's direction to pursue and press these water suits. Why should this be so? The longer the litigation goes actively on, the more it will cost; and is it not a fact that before a decision can be reached there will be water enough here to supply city and valley abundantly?

The loss to the city is not the only loss. It is not the greatest loss. These farmers, and none of them has as much money at hand as the city treasurer has, are putting up large sums of money wrung from the cultivation of their lands. Besides, those who for any cause may wish to sell their property find this dispute about the water and the cost of litigation an insuperable obstacle to making sales. The high hopes aroused by the news of the acquisition of the Owens River water have been already overcast by the lowering cloud of continued litigation.

These certainly are all valid arguments for leniency on the part of the city; at least pleading that some way be devised by which a stipulation can be entered into and proceedings allowed to rest without waiving the city's legal rights. Such wise course should be adopted if possible. Is there no way to reach so desirable an end? Surely there must be. Can it not be found?

The cause is on trial in the courts this week. A great array of legal counsel appears on each side. The city has long employed a firm of lawyers who are now drawing $10,000 a year out of the taxpayers' money to prosecute its case. That might be all very well if it were actually necessary. But is it necessary? In view of what is here advanced, does it pay? One has not to go far, even here in the city whose rights are supposed to be pressed, to find that public sympathy runs strongly with the farmers of the valley. How will it be abroad, where men are not interested, and where the case is imperfectly understood, when people read of a rich and powerful city of 200,000 souls invoking the courts to prevent a lot of poor farmers from using the water which rises on their own lands? Rest assured the impression which will be received abroad will not be flattering to us. "Robbers" is probably what we shall be called; and who shall dare say without reason?

The situation is serious, the danger acute. There is urgent need for careful deliberation and scrupulous action on the part of city officials, lawyers and judges, lest injustice be done and a business blunder be committed besides.

A QUESTION FOR ALL.

Today the people of Los Angeles are confronting the question that has been faced by nearly every large city or town in the United States where refined oil or its by-products, kerosene, engine or stove distillates or gasoline are used for fuel or illuminates. Los Angeles—and these remarks apply with almost equal force to every community in California south of the Tehachepi—gets these articles for less than almost any other section. And it is for the consumer to say whether or not this shall continue.

It is a question that affects every man or woman. It is of vital interest to hundreds of business firms and corporations, great and small, that operate their factories with gasoline engines. It is of vital interest to farmers, be their holdings great or small, as they must have water for irrigation, and by far the greater part of the irrigation systems are pumped by gasoline engines. It is of vital interest to the hotel, restaurant or boarding-house keepers, who use gasoline or distillate for cooking and often for heating buildings. It is of vital interest to every housewife who ever uses a lamp, cooks a meal upon a gasoline range or heats her home with an oil stove.

What has brought the price down to such a point that the cost of all kinds of manufacturing is being materially reduced and the living expenses of many lessened? Competition and competition only. Los Angeles has not only millions of barrels of the best crude oil right at her gates with which to run steam boilers and furnish light, water, heat, power and traction for all big industries, but also eight well-equipped refineries right at home that compete with the great shiploads of refined oil and its by-products that the Standard is bringing from Point Richmond and unloading at Redondo.

The Standard's methods of crushing competitors are well known. Cutting prices to a point that means bankruptcy for anyone meeting them, and making up the difference by raising the price in non-competitive territory; interference with railroad transportation so that independents are hardly able to deliver goods and circulation of slanderous reports concerning the products of others are the chief means employed. Southern California is having experience with all these tricks today. Today the Standard would give away oil to destroy competition; tomorrow when that is done, the consumer will pay two and three times what he would have paid had independent dealers remained in the field.

The consumer has it in his power to prevent this, and how? By distributing his patronage he can keep the Standard from gaining absolute control. Los Angeles gets its kerosene in five gallon cans as low as fifty cents from the grocer and at 7 cents a gallon when customer furnishes the receptable. A five gallon can of gasoline can be had at 85 cents, while engine and stove distillates sell at 5½ and 7 cents a gallon. At points where there is no competition the prices are as high as $1 for kerosene, $1.25 for gasoline and 15 to 20 cents for distillate furnished by the Standard.

Mr. Businessman, Mrs. Housewife, don't you think it would pay you better to spend a cent more a gallon now than to pay extortionate prices after competition has been killed off? Will you help in the killing? Or, will you be "penny-wise" and "pound-foolish?"

THE FLY IN THE OINTMENT.

Every man who is in business should read carefully the weekly reports in the papers sent out by the great mercantile agencies of the country. These reports cover the whole country and all its industries, finances and commerce. They are compiled with both care and intelligence. These reports as they come these days of great progress and prosperity are an inspiration to confidence. In every one of their elements they reflect the unparalleled activity prevailing in every branch of industry. In the whole weekly story there is not a sign of any influence at work which seems to indicate any let-up to this active condition in business.

Yet clear as the sky is which these agencies reflect, if we turn our eyes in other directions we may discern a couple of clouds on the horizon. They are not large as they appear in the sky of industry and commerce, but they are black enough to be ominous. The one cloud is that which threatens the financial world and centers about the large fiduciary institutions known as insurance companies. They are public trusts and they rest for their stability altogether on the trust the public have in them. These institutions are of immense magnitude and their ramifications extend to almost all the financial dealings of the country. Faithfulness to their trust is the first condition on which their prosperity must rest. Should disaster to these follow the exposures being made of their lack of faithfulness, no one can foresee how far the mischief may spread. Probably the means being taken to purify these companies of "graft" and dishonesty of every kind will be effective, and thus the confidence of the public will not be shaken.

The other cloud rises at the opposite pole of the industrial heavens. Far removed in one way, yet it is of the same type as the other. And if we must look to New York for the one menace to the country's prosperity, we have a striking example at our own doors of the other. A few days ago at a new seaside resort, less than twenty miles from this city, a thousand men were receiving large wages week by week. These men were being paid $2.50 to $5.00 each per day. The pay roll called for more than $3000 a day at this one spot. For material and in other ways large sums of money were being disbursed. Some months, probably, the work going on at this seaside town came to $250,000. Now that place is described as being "as quiet as a graveyard." "Graft" has done the work. The rich man's "graft" has threatened the very foundations of life insurance and all its allied enterprises. The poor man's "graft" has stopped the stream of gold poured out to build a beautiful seaside city. There is no difference. In each case it is "graft," and the poor man's hand is just as bad as that of the rich man. "To do the least work and extort the most pay for the fewest hours at work" is the way one of the oversears describes the way these labor-union grafters worked their game at this seaside town. Strange to say, these are the exact words used by an employer in an English factory town in telling an American investigator about the workings of labor unions in that country. He added, "this policy is destroying the industries of Great Britain."

That is what makes this incident here near Los Angeles so significant. If only these thousand men at Venice of America were engaged in this worse kind of graft it would not be much matter. But the same tactics are being worked wherever the "graft" of the walking delegate strikes. A Los Angeles business man now in the East writes to The Times reciting the conditions he finds in such places as Denver and Chicago.

Speaking of the services The Times has rendered this community in its struggle against this "graft" of labor unions the writer uses words of commendation so warm that modesty forbids their exact reproduction as a whole. A few things which he says may be permitted "for the good of the cause." The letter is written by a very prominent business man of Los Angeles, and addressed to the editor of The Times. Among other things are these:

"The last two months I have been obliged to spend mostly in San Francisco, Denver and Kansas City, and during that time I have had conditions called to my attention that are great stumbling blocks to those cities and which do not exist in Los Angeles. The reason we are so fortunate can be attributed solely to the Los Angeles Times.

"I cannot refrain from dropping you these few lines because I wish you to know that I, together with every other business man of this country, am beginning to appreciate what you have done for Southern California and I trust and believe that your paper will in the very near future be held up as a standard, toward which all other first class publications should work."

SONG OF THE SEA WIND.

I'll gather up the shreds of night
To twine my raven hair,
And not a trace of sun or moon
Or starlight will I wear;
But hidden in the reeling dark
I'll ride upon the rain,
And whispering, with subtlest breath,
My passion in the ear of Death,
We'll haunt the rolling main.

The swirling waves that lift and sink
Shall be the shroud of men,
And when across the lulling tide
The dawn-lights stretch again,
The world shall from its dreams awake,
To search the chartless sea,
But never shall they find the trail
To regions where the phantom pale
Rode on the storm with me.

The Greatest Problem.

The greatest problem before the American people, as President Roosevelt said at Clark University last June, is the problem of "getting justice as between man and man," and the reason the task is so difficult is because, as Mr. Gladstone once pointed out, there are five generous men to one just man. And too many think lavish or beneficent use of money, however acquired, atones for evil in the getting of it.—[Boston Transcript.

MEN AND THINGS OVER THE SEAS.

Crisis in Hungary.

The cold turning-down which the Emperor-King Francis Joseph has administered to the deputation of Hungarian national leaders bodes a sharp crisis in the long-drawn-out dispute. It is not surprising to learn from the latest cables that Hungary takes the rebuff as an ultimatum. There may or may not be fighting with arms, but a keen struggle is now being entered on that will in all likelihood sever the union between Austria and Hungary just as effectively as the union between Sweden and Norway has been severed. In Hungary up to the present time there has been a chivalrous desire to postpone the struggle until after the passing of the aged occupant of the dual thrones. But by his own obdurate attitude of Francis Joseph now precipitates the final test of strength between the rival nationalities.

The National Sentiment.

To put the cause of the quarrel in a nutshell, it is this—that the vast majority of the people of Hungary refuse to have their nationality merged in that of Austria. It is from this spirit of resolute patriotism that they demand their own army, commanded in their own language, and serving under their own flags and emblems. Any argument about increased military efficiency to be attained by combining the Austrian and the Hungarian armies into one organic body falls upon deaf ears. The union between Austria and Hungary for certain specific ends is admitted and approved, but there is firm and uncompromising resistance to any attempt being made to smuggle into the terms of this union any interpretation of clauses that weakens the separate national existence of Hungary.

There is an Emperor of Austria and a King of Hungary, but this simply means that the two countries are ruled by one monarch, not that they form one monarchy. The physical person of the ruler is the same in both countries, but his perogatives and constitutional status differ greatly in the two cases. In effect, the Emperor of Austria is a foreign potentate in Hungary; within its territorial limits he is King of Hungary solely. This is what the Hungarian nationalists stand for, and it is clear that blood will have to be shed before they will voluntarily recede from the attitude they have taken up. It was on the same ground that in 1849 Hungary declared its independence, and proclaimed itself a republic, with Kossuth at its head. Will history repeat itself, even to the name of the leader, preserved in the person of the old patriot's son? If so, there may be a happier issue this time to the movement—no Russian battalions to crush out the struggle for freedom and an international tribunal at The Hague ready to settle peacefully the questions in dispute. The whole world will wish it so.

Parting in Amity.

Encouragement for a peaceful settlement of the Hungarian controversy is afforded by the result of the Scandinavian dispute. Here the two countries have gone their separate ways, without battles being fought or lives sacrificed. Boiled down to their final concentrated state, the only differences proved to be about reindeer pastures, common waterways and a neutral zone. The horse sense of the world would have revolted had these paltry issues, under any such guise as national pride, been allowed to precipitate a sanguinary conflict. So Sweden and Norway repair to The Hague international tribunal to have the exact terms of their dissolution of partnership adjusted. There will be none of the bitterness that is the inevitable heritage of war, and a few years hence the two countries will be better friends and neighbors, and really stauncher allies, than they ever were before under the conflicting ties of a dual monarchy. The same common sense should now compel Hungary and Austria to go and do likewise.

England in the Far East.

Singapore, which is to be converted into a naval base by Great Britain, occupies a position of immense strategic importance, as a glance at the map will show. It is a small island, 206 square miles in area, situated at the southern extremity of the Malay Peninsula, from which it is separated by a narrow strait three-quarters of a mile wide. It thus commands the Strait of Malacca, the channel that lies between the Malay Peninsula and the island of Sumatra, forming the great gateway of commerce to and from the Far East.

Being a coaling station for the British navy, as well as an important trade emporium, Singapore is already a fortified place. Its defence works are armed with big modern guns, and a system of submarine mines has been carefully elaborated. There is a permanent garrison of British troops—artillery, engineers and infantry—supplemented by a considerable force of Indian infantry; also by a volunteer body, of which the artillery and engineer branches are composed of Europeans, and the infantry of Eurasians and Straits-born Chinese.

But up to the present Singapore has been essentially a place of commerce. Like Hongkong, the British island off Southern China, it is a point where consignments of goods from all quarters of the world converge for trans-shipment to their final distinations. Cargo steamers from Europe and America break bulk at Singapore, and distribute their freight among the local craft that ply throughout the East Indies. Conversely, the produce of widely-scattered groups of islands is assembled here for the big foreign vessels that come to load or complete their loads in passing.

A Naval Base.

Hongkong, which is the headquarters of Great Britain's China squadron, is at the present time being greatly enlarged and strengthened as a naval station, costly dockyard works being in process of completion. This policy is now to be applied to Singapore, where the cable tells us, the docks, hitherto private property, have been purchased by the government. Singapore, when adequately equipped, will form one of a string of refitting and coal-supply stations under the British flag stretching right from the Atlantic to the Pacific—Gibraltar, Malta and Cyprus in the Mediterranean Sea, Perim and Aden at the mouth of the Red Sea, Colombo in the island of Ceylon, Penang and Singapore in the Straits of Malacca, Hongkong in Chinese waters, with Wei-hai-Wei further north, but of more doubtful tenure and utility, and for the present therefore left unfortified. This list in itself shows us how England, first in the field for coaling stations, has continued to secure all the choice places along the route from Europe to the Far East. Small wonder that Germany, which cannot send a war vessel from Kiel to Kiao-Chou without coaling half a dozen times at British ports, considers herself euchred in the game.

AMONG MEN OF ACTION.

Judge A. J. Dittenhoefer, one of the prominent members of the New York bar, who is at the Van Nuys, will hasten back to New York to defend the president and directors of the Knickerbocker Steamboat Company, owners of the "General Slocum," who are under indictment for manslaughter in connection with the burning of that vessel and the resultant loss of more than 900 lives in the East River last year. Because of the horror of the catastrophe, the case is one of the most notable that ever came before the Federal courts in New York.

"The defense will be," said Judge Dittenhoefer, "that the president and directors of the company are not liable for what happened on the boat, regrettable as the circumstances may have been. It is my firm belief that my clients cannot be held liable for the fire on the Slocum, or for any other causes that led to the death of that vast number of excursionists."

Judge Dittenhoefer, whose office is in lower Broadway in New York, has had a long career in politics and in law in the metropolis of the country. Though still active in the practice of his profession, he has not participated to any great extent recently in politics.

Before he was of age he made a stumping tour for Fremont and Dayton, and he was a New York Presidential elector in the Lincoln and Johnson campaign. He was a personal acquaintance of President Lincoln, as well as of Presidents Grant and Arthur. Horace Greeley and Roscoe Conkling also were men that he knew well.

Judge Dittenhoefer was Republican leader of the Twentieth Assembly District of New York, and claims the honor of being one of three men who brought out Theodore Roosevelt for Assembly man from that district—the beginning of the President's active political career.

One of the important legal cases with which the eminent lawyer lately has had prominent connection was that in which the widow of Richard Wagner, the composer, sought to prevent the Metropolitan Operahouse Company from producing "Parsifal." He represented the defendant and succeeded in defeating the contentions of Mme. Wagner. He also defended Rosenthal & Cohn in the famous "Japanese silk fraud" cases, in which the defendants, formerly of San Francisco, were accused of defrauding the government in the importation of silks from Japan. One of his clients was freed; the other never has been brought to trial.

In the defense of two New York newspaper men, who had charged United States Senators with blackmailing, Judge Dittenhoefer raised a novel point that his clients were justified in refusing to disclose to a senatorial investigating committee the source of their information, upon which they had based their reports. The men who had been indicted for refusing to answer the questions of the investigators, were cleared.

"The average life of a business building in Los Angeles is just 60 years," said John R. Kline, secretary of the Builders' Exchange, whose experience in that office has made him an authority on all matters pertaining to building in this city.

"By that I do not mean that a building has lost its usefulness but that it must be remodeled then if it is to meet the demands made upon it.

"Go down any important thoroughfare in the business section, and in almost every instance you will find that any building of consequence that has been in place for five years has been subjected to alterations. The cost increases as the city expands and modern buildings go up.

"A merchant who has been content with his building for a time finds a competitor blossom forth in new and elegant quarters. To keep upon the pace he must have alterations made in store. If he does not get them he will move into one of the new buildings.

"The consequence is that buildings, hardly one of which can be found that has not a store or some other improvement.

"This constant clamor for building makes it incumbent on those who to erect a structure that will adapt itself in the course of time to profitable changes. No one knows what style of store now so common will be the kind that will suit five years from now, and the necessity is plain that some style must be followed that can be converted in a few years into something entirely different."

PLAYHOUSES AND PLAYERS.

BURBANK OPERAHOUSE. "This [illegible]," said Wilton Lackaye, stepping [illegible], cuffless and tireless before the [illegible] again on the ——nth call after the [illegible] in "The Pit" last night, "which [illegible] me long on wheat, leaves me [illegible] short in breath, short in clothes, [illegible] in almost everything. I'm glad [illegible] like our play. I say, as they all [illegible] that I am thankful for the en[illegible]dren we have created. 'The Pit' [illegible] problem—not the usual stage prob[illegible]—but rather two others, that are [illegible] very common in American do[illegible]tic life, the neglect of domestic [illegible] in business, and the rush of [illegible]ociation."

Lackaye's reception had been very [illegible]ant. But it was no more cordial [illegible] he deserved, for he is the same [illegible]re as of yore, wonderfully po[illegible]ed in manner, yet withal strikingly [illegible]sal: handsome as is his wont, and [illegible]ing with the great vital force that [illegible] his big scenes away from every[illegible]se.

"The Pit," which we have never seen [illegible]here before, is a dramatization of [illegible] Norris's novel, Channing Pol[illegible]ard it. Almost every Californian [illegible] Frank Norris, the brilliant [illegible] career, but few know Pollock. [illegible] is a press agent, was a press [illegible] and doubtless will always be a [illegible] agent. He has done an unusually [illegible] job on Norris's book, however, [illegible] in one or two places where his [illegible] insight has hurried too quickly [illegible] scenes of deep meaning.

[illegible] play follows the book. Curtis [illegible]ven, a man of great business sa[illegible]city, tumbles into the meshes of the [illegible]ago Board of Trade, is entangled [illegible]ed more firmly in the snarls of [illegible]peculation, holds for a brief space the [illegible]ne-pin position of chief speculator [illegible]rom all, and finally blows himself [illegible] amid the exciting pyrotechnics of a [illegible] is a vain attempt to corner [illegible]. Incidentally he falls in love and [illegible]rries, but wheat buries woman father deep until the grain turns upon [illegible] buyer, and then Jadwin regur[illegible]s his woman and finds consolation [illegible]

The play is interesting as a real representation of certain actual conditions [illegible]ese factors of American business [illegible]e great students of the drama have [illegible]ded that a dramatist, to be truly successful, must depict the emotions and [illegible]assions of the age in which he lives. [illegible]is true; Shakespeare is universal, [illegible]herefore applicable to all times, but [illegible]e the man who sticks his new place [illegible]o into the dust of a far-distant [illegible]ge in this, the overwhelmingly interesting twentieth century—back, back [illegible]ck him to the woods of oblivion!

Lackaye, you know, if you have seen [illegible], is one of the best—perhaps the [illegible]very best—representative of American [illegible]rness life upon the American stage. [illegible]at's because he is an American himself, possessing Yankee "git-up" in his [illegible]nerveless artistic blood, and the [illegible]ant saving salt of shrewd American [illegible]ense.

[illegible]e has a number of clever people in [illegible]s company. His leading woman is [illegible]e Baker, who possesses unusually [illegible]ing manners, and a voice and [illegible]ragement of restrained power. She [illegible]s also a real woman, too, and that [illegible] a great deal. Back, also, with [illegible]e same goddess type, in these days [illegible]f the frou-frou and delicious flesh [illegible]ts.

[illegible]ong the men, one is satisfied—entirely satisfied—with the characterization [illegible] Walter Pennington, A. E. Stu[illegible]rt Morris and E. H. Reardon. [illegible]e company is large and the scenic [illegible]ect, although showing the marks of [illegible]e travelling, is in the main put up [illegible]th style, and in good taste. The [illegible]xception to this ruling is the broker's [illegible]ffice inhabited by Curtis Jadwin—a [illegible]ark hole in the wall that no man of [illegible]ck's refined tastes would ever enter.

[illegible]is afternoon afternoon Lackaye will do [illegible]is famous old characterization of [illegible]Hall, in Trilby.

GRAND OPERAHOUSE. "York State [illegible]" is a pastoral play that lives [illegible]well as successfully as "Way Down [illegible]East," principally because it has [illegible]the human qualities.

[illegible]Although it was not appreciated possible as it should have been, by the inmates of the Grand's gallery at the [illegible]matinee performance, it was much more [illegible]appealing to the majority of the people [illegible]in the orchestra.

[illegible]among the characters is Myron [illegible], a quaint philosopher and the [illegible]organist; Simon Peter Martin, [illegible]the manufacturer and the wealthy [illegible]man of the country town; Jennie, the [illegible]niece of Myron Cooper; Lem Dunlap, [illegible]a cranky young yap, prosperous in [illegible]trading and ridiculous in society; [illegible]Hardcastle, a young city music [illegible]teacher—and others, of varied and different characteristics.

[illegible]Robert Knott has the leading character part of Myron Cooper, and does [illegible]it to the life. The old man is a kindly [illegible]old being to whom goodness has [illegible]always been more than goods, and [illegible]kindness and the golden rule [illegible]above the strifes for personal profit. [illegible]Through the story one finds him [illegible]playing himself, putting himself in [illegible]positions of compromising positions to [illegible]help other people. A sort of Eben [illegible]Holden type, Knott makes of him, [illegible]a leader, lovable and a wee bit [illegible]human.

[illegible]Mr. Loring is bluff and big and [illegible]strong as Simon Peter, and Rhea [illegible], whose name is set in black face [illegible]for some non-apparent reason, is pretty [illegible]mainly in the Jennie role.

BURBANK. There is a production [illegible]of "Henrietta" at the Burbank [illegible]this week which is every bit [illegible]as the last memorable presentation [illegible]made by the Gould-Woodthorpe-Gardner force, in the [illegible]days of the Morosco stock of last year. [illegible]That—everybody knows. It is [illegible]Mr. Howard's masterful invasion [illegible]of the great New York Stock Exchange, and with the terms of the [illegible]game playing in well-used familiarity [illegible]to the eyes of every actor, and the [illegible]effect of a panic turning the office [illegible]of a "master of Wall street" into a [illegible]madhouse, it is as apt a transcript [illegible]of the new and exciting commercialism [illegible]as any other play, of the Wheat Pit, [illegible]or the Syndicate theater.

[illegible]It is no good this time because it is [illegible]done right. To begin with, Henry [illegible]Hall's part is a surprise as Bertie, the [illegible]boy. We know him as an excellent [illegible]Irish comedian. The "Joy of Life," [illegible]he says—the foolishness of it [illegible]from an American standpoint—has [illegible]been exuded in humorous globules [illegible]from the whole intellectual system. [illegible]Hall plays Bertie right—as Stuart [illegible]Robson and Mestayer played him—[illegible]with subtlety, delicacy of touch, [illegible]and a feel of the flesh, with all his idiocy, [illegible]in wonderfully delicate subject. [illegible]Bertie-ish, the width of a metaphysical hair—and you transport his [illegible]childish simplicity and blundering [illegible]into the innocuous realms of dull [illegible]stupidity. There are few fellows who [illegible]could have made an audience see Bertie [illegible]as Hall saw him, the best of all [illegible]the characters, in his mind's [illegible]eye. And it is a just tribute to Stockwell [illegible]to say that he is one of the few [illegible]who can play him again, and makes him [illegible]human in all his charming ridiculousness.

[illegible]Then there is Burton, as "Old [illegible]Hank," in this portrayal Burton [illegible]departs from the familiar antique [illegible]style of the Burtonesque into a [illegible]gruffer, bolder type, the man who is accustomed to being the master, with a kind heart sandwiched between two slices of life, a rough beginning and a colossal finish.

Two; and next, William Bernard, playing Van Alstyne, Jr., who with adroit cunning tries to wrest away his father's fortune. Needless to say that Bernard's intelligent conception of proper realism, no less than his artistic conscience, makes him work up a finished portrayal. His death scene, the death of a man whose dying gasp is a fight against death, is indeed a tragic one.

Three, and there are a lot who may be considered more briefly. Miss Hall, as charming and as wise a widow as one might wish to see; Willis Marks, a sketch of a faithful old servant drawn veritably from life; Jane Kelton, simple and natural as Van Alstyne's wife; Monda Glendower, a pretty little girl, and Rose King, pertly gay as the daughter of "Old Nick."

The play has one false character—a grotesque extract of poor, low comedy that fits ill in the lifelike human structure of the general cast. This is the drawling Lord Arthur Trelawney, born out of an impossible funny paper, and caricatured this week with considerable fidelity to the silly original by Bennett Southard.

ORPHEUM. It is a long time since anything so good in the line of character work as Miss Rose Stahl's impersonation of the stage super in "The Chorus Lady" has been seen in vaudeville—or in fact anywhere else. Miss Patricia O'Brien, the central figure of the little drama, is a young woman whose personal characteristics, whose little vanities, petty jealousies, conceit and general unconsciousnesses of the right of others to existence are on the surface alone, and the manner in which she initiates the society woman, who thinks herself to be in love with the famous tenor, into the fraternity whose life lies behind the calcium glare, is a good wholesome lesson, and it should be read and pondered over by many women whose adoration for matinee heroes forms the subject for half of the caustic jests of the greenroom. Miss Patricia O'Brien uses slang, and Miss Rose Stahl puts just the right amount of ginger and tone into it. But in the final analysis Miss Patricia O'Brien has a woman's heart, and Miss Rose Stahl gives just the right emphasis to this side of the character without marring it by any suggestion of the maudlin or melodramatic. It is a great sketch—it is a vaudeville classic. Francis Gerard, "the modern Hercules," is another newcomer. He has a magnificent physique, and he shows off his strength by a very few clever feats. The motion pictures deserve a place high up on the bill. They show a gypsy kidnapping, a funny chase and a dramatic rescue of the child a year later. Quinlan and Mack with some funny talk. Harry and Frank Brown with songs and quickly drawn pictures. Nina Morris and company in "A Friend's Advice." Howard and North in their clever dialogue "Those Were the Happy Days." the Avon Comedy Four in the knockabout potpourri of music and comedy and Mr. and Mrs. John Allison in the Swedish sketch make up the bill.

That you will obtain quality for the amount you spend is a foregone conclusion. Style and dependable making are features so well established that none can dispute the statement.

These essential points of correct tailoring are reflected in the garments offered for your consideration in today's advertisement.

For instance; we take especial pride in these suits at $25, in new and handsome, novel styles, and qualities worthy to be offered at $35, and, indeed, sold for that in exclusive stores.

Jewelry Dept.

In all the realm of adornments, there is nothing that quite takes the place of good jewelry. We're showing a glittering array this fall in our jewelry department, of the things pre-eminently in fashion's favor; novelties admirable for their beauty and variety of design; and yet there's an all-pervading ground tone of reasonableness in pricing that can only happen when even jewels and gold are treated as ordinary merchandise, and priced accordingly, instead of on an entirely fictitious basis.

Gold ring mesh bags, in various sizes, with dull or bright finished tops; some plain, others chased, and with bead trimmings, are again highly fashionable. Our assortment is varied and charming.

Belt sets in all the leading shapes; jade, and various other jewels set in bright and rose finish gold.

Serpent necklaces—the latest novelty in New York; made of glittering gold, with jeweled heads.

Jeweled necklaces in antique finish, and Rosaries, having crosses set with stones of various sorts.

Bead necklaces—amber, turquoise, cut jet, white, jade, gold and indestructible pearls.

Jet necklaces, consisting of seven and nine rows of jet, linked together—richly handsome affairs.

Mounted side and back combs in sets; dull jet finished, for mourning wear; gray sets to be worn with gray hair; antique finished, pearl set; brilliants in dainty designs; 14 kt. gold beaded backs in odd patterns.

Beautifully mounted belts in combination Dresden silk and glove leather crush effects; or all leather, in delicate shades.

[NEWS REPORTS FROM TIMES CORRESPONDENTS.]

DAUGHTER OF MAYOR ELOPES.

SAN BERNARDINO SENSATION OF HIGH SCHOOL GIRL.

Leaves Home on Her Eighteenth Birthday, Meets Barber in Los Angeles, Weds and Returns to Announce the Marriage—Family in Tears—Trial of Alleged Burglar.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Bess Barton, a daughter of Mayor H. M. Barton, an heiress to a fortune, eloped today with Sherman G. Batchelor, a barber. The couple were married in Los Angeles. The first intimation of the elopement was received by Mayor Barton this evening from his daughter, who announced the marriage.

Miss Barton is 18 today. Her parents planned an elaborate birthday surprise for her this evening. This morning she made preparations to commence her last term at the High School, buying all the books necessary, which she took home. From there she went direct to the station, and took a train to Los Angeles, where she met Batchelor, who had gone in the morning.

The family is shocked at the marriage. Mayor Barton tonight refused emphatically to discuss the affair. All the family was in tears. It is learned among close friends of the couple they have been courting for two years, and that, her parents fearing some such serious termination, they had refused Batchelor admittance to the house. But the lovers met clandestinely, it is said.

Miss Barton is one of the belles of town, beautiful, and accomplished in many ways. She has been favorably known throughout this county and Riverside. Batchelor is a fine vocalist. Through his voice he won admittance to many select homes and gatherings.

GRAPPPLING BURGLARY TRIAL.

The Fernandez burglary trial was begun in Department One of the Superior Court this morning, and will probably occupy several days. The accused is a barber. He lived at the home of his employer, into whose room, it is alleged, that he broke one night in search of a big wad of money which he had learned was concealed there.

Failing to find the plunder, it is charged that he entered the bed chamber of the daughter, who was aroused from slumber by Fernandez's movements about the room. Grappling with him, the heroic girl managed to detain him until her parents arrived, though he brandished a carving knife before her, threatening to kill her unless she released him.

He then grappled with the parents, and during the scuffle the daughter had the presence of mind to strike a match, by the light of which they easily identified the burglar, who made his escape, but was captured next morning, he having had the coolness to appear for work as usual. He claims to come of good parentage in Mexico, and upon this grounds will base his fight for release. As a matter of fact, if the jury convicts him his good family record will serve to add numerous years to his sentence, as the court makes it a practice of taking education, good training and other opportunities possessed by a prisoner, as just cause for severer punishment when guilt is proved.

PENMAN'S CROOKED WORK.

William Melendes who was arrested Sunday at Los Angeles, for uttering worthless checks in this city, has been much wanted here for a number of weeks. Several months ago he flooded the town with worthless paper, and when he was brought to book his parents made good every dollar, and he promised to walk in the straight and narrow path thereafter. For three months he kept his promise, and then suddenly he again operated his crooked pen, succeeding in circulating numerous worthless checks, and disappeared. Since then the Sheriff's office has been on a still hunt for him, and the news of his capture is welcomed.

POPLESS PISTOL SAVES LIFE.

BULLET ROUTE PROVES FAILURE IN REDLANDS.

Despondent Architect Buys Cheap Revolver, Writes Farewell Letter to His Wife, Proceeds to Park and Sends Word that a Dead Man Will be Found There.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

REDLANDS, Sept. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] On account of the pistol failing to explode the cartridges, Paul Sohlarbaum is still alive.

Mr. Sohlarbaum came to Redlands some six months ago and is considered a fine architect. On account of ill-health and being unable to follow his profession he decided to end all by the pistol route. He drew $5 at the bank here, went to San Bernardino Monday morning and purchased a cheap double acting firearm. Then he returned to Redlands.

He wrote a long affectionate letter to his wife and told her that there was enough money left for one and he would let her have all. He said that she would find money in the Redlands bank and $500 at Colton subject to her order. He also said he had pawned his watch for $10 and ring for $2 while in San Bernardino.

The letter he turned over to a policeman to deliver and on the latter questioning the man as to the trouble Sohlarbaum broke and ran saying: "Pay no attention to me."

Soon after a young man was hailed as he was passing through the park, by Sohlarbaum who was lying flat on the ground and he said: "Tell the police they will find a dead man here."

With that he thrust the pistol into his mouth and began to pull the trigger. Although the pistol was snapped several times it failed to go off.

The man was at once seized, disarmed and locked up. Sohlarbaum says he will kill himself yet.

ANAHEIM, Sept. 25.—Superintendent Porter of the A. U. Water Company returned last night from the Capistrano Hot Springs and went immediately to the home of his physician to have a painful wound dressed. While hunting in the hills above the springs Saturday afternoon he stumbled over a rock and his rifle was discharged accidentally, the 30-30 ball passing through his left arm between the elbow and wrist. It was twenty-four hours before he could reach a doctor, but he has been informed the flesh wound is not serious and he hopes to resume his duties for the company in two or three weeks.

VENTURA.

LITERAL DROP IN REALTY

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

VENTURA, Sept. 25.—That peculiar piece of land on the Solari rancho, across the Santa Clara River and near Springville, is again acting queerly. A few days ago the land in question suddenly sunk to a depth, in places, of thirty feet. The piece of land is a narrow strip several hundred feet long and containing about three acres. The past season a fine crop of barley was raised on the ranch, including the sunken piece, but in the sinking the surface was so little changed that the stubble stands clean and undisturbed thirty feet below, just as though nothing had happened. There is a wide crack between the sunken piece and the surrounding surface and into this was dropped a hard clod. From the sound in descending there were indications that the bottom was far below, if there was a botton. The location of the place is not low and there was nothing in the appearance of the environment to distinguish it from the general surface of the ground in the neighborhood, though there have been for years stories afloat of sinking land on the ranch in question and in that section of the county.

WINDOW SMASHER AGGRESSIVE.

Frank de la Riva is again in trouble through window smashing. Two weeks ago he dashed his fist through a plate glass window, the largest in the town, and his fun cost him his entire summer wages. Last night, in company with several drunken companions, he again went down the line and broke two more windows, not plate glass this time, but it does not matter to Riva what kind of window it is so long as it is glass and rattles in the falling. The young man will have an opportunity to reflect over the matter behind bars and not windows, as the officers are determined to teach him a lesson.

VENTURA BRIEFS.

A marriage license was today granted to Robert C. Lydston, aged 46, Los Angeles, and Dora Osmossen, aged 35, Saticoy, this county.

The Native Daughters cleared about $500 in their recent bazaar.

Juan Camarillo has returned from an extended European trip.

The thrashing season has closed in the Ojai Valley. The record for the year is 761 sacks of oats, 1690 sacks of wheat and 3659 sacks of barley.

It is reported that not only is a spurious $10 bill in circulation in Oxnard, but that some one is busy sweating and passing $20 gold pieces about among the sugar eaters.

BIG DROP IN WATER USE.

Long Nights Saving Large Amount to City.

Decrease of Three Million Gallons Daily.

But Supply Warns Against Wanton Waste.

If you let the water run a little longer than usual tonight on the rubber plant, the danger of a famine in the city's water supply is not so great. There has been a pronounced slump in the use of water during the last week or two, and Superintendent Mulholland of the waterworks says no man need deny himself a bath out of consideration for the levels in the municipal reservoirs.

The daily consumption of water has dropped to about 32,000,000 gallons, which is 3,000,000 gallons below what it has been on nearly every day throughout the long summer. It is 8,000,000 gallons less than was used on some of the hottest days. There was a spell during which 40,000,000 gallons were drawn from the city's mains every day.

While there has been a falling off in the amount used daily, there is no occasion for leaving faucets open or for turning on the hose full force and wasting the fluid. Such practices would result disastrously to those who might attempt them, for, despite the decrease in consumption, the city still is running very close to its limit of production, and its resources become more circumscribed as the dry season advances. No one knows just how long it will be before the annual wet season sets in, and, under any conditions, there won't be any occasion for a water carnival until the Owens River gets here.

The use of meters has helped materially in preventing waste of water, says Superintendent Mulholland, although but a small proportion of the consumers in the city are under the meter system. About 7500 meters are in use, while there are about 42,000 consumers in the city. The devices are being installed at the rate of about 500 a month.

"The longer nights are responsible in great part for the decreased use of water," said Mr. Mulholland. "It gets dark so early now that people go to bed instead of remaining up to sprinkle the lawn. The shorter reign of the sun, as compared with the earlier part of the summer, means that there is less evaporation and it follows that less water will accomplish more good in irrigating."

A water supply phenomenon, by which there appears to be an even greater supply water running in the streams late in the summer than in preceding months, although no rain has fallen meantime, was explained by Mr. Mulholland. It has been considered a marvel that, near the end of a long dry spell, there should be more water noticed in the bed of a stream than in months almost immediately following the wet season.

"The fact is," said Mr. Mulholland, "that there is an ever lessening flow of water from the source of supply, although in the fall there is more water in sight in streams of broad surface.

"The reason is that water-loving plants in and along the streams take up less moisture as the season advances. The willows and the tules, for instance, draw an enormous amount of water from a stream during their growing season. As they mature, however, and their leaves begin to drop, their roots make diminished demands on the water supply, and the consequence is that there is just that much more water in the streams.

"It must not be inferred from this, though, that there is an increased flow from the source; simply more at the surface, owing to the maturing of the growth along the streams."

SANTA MARIA.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SANTA MARIA, Sept. 25.—The directors of the Pinal Oil Company have declared a dividend of 5 cents per share payable October 1.

The corner-stone of the new Masonic Temple was laid Saturday. The Grand Senior Warden, Edward Hart, of Oakland, represented the Grand Master, and laid the stone in the presence of a large assemblage. Dr. W. T. Lucas was the orator. There was a parade preceding the ceremonies, in which Hesperia and Santa Maria lodges participated, as well as the school children and their teachers. The Santa Maria Band furnished music.

State Game Warden Henry Abels of this place has received from the State Fish and Game Commissioners a consignment of 15,000 steelhead and speckled trout, which he has delivered to George A. Mack, to be deposited in the Dos Pueblos Creek.

The City Trustees of the city of Santa Maria have received their certificates of election, and held their first meeting on Thursday evening. A. W. Cox, R. Hark and William Mead were elected to serve the short, and Sam Fleisher and Emmett Bryant the long terms. The board elected Thomas Pruker City Attorney.

County Veterinarian Faulkner of San Luis was here Monday, and ordered a carload of light-grade oil to be used in the dipping of cattle under the direction of the Live Stock Association. The county, through its Supervisors, has agreed to furnish a tank for its reception. It will be furnished free of cost to all the cattlemen in the county for dipping purposes, in order to eradicate the Texas tick.

Men

Good Results Are What You Want

In functional derangement of the reproductive system my treatment restores perfect physiological conditions and health throughout the organic system.

I have for years contended that the only reliable method of treatment is one that is personally conducted.

To be sure of good results there must be no guessing, the facilities should be the best with an absolute knowledge of the conditions to be treated. There is no other way that reliability can be embodied in the form of treatment. Experimenting is not successful and is expensive.

Varicocele

I cure in 4 to 6 days. Many men have been treated unsuccessfully for varicocele. My treatment is painless and the results are complete and forever.

Stricture

I cure the right way, once and for all. I remove all urethral obstructions, inflammation and soreness and restore the membrane to a healthy condition, usually in ten to fifteen days.

Contracted Diseases

Failure to quickly cure these conditions is due to harsh measures, which are the direct cause for chronic conditions. My treatment is the most cleanly and perfect known.

I cure Rectal, Kidney and Bladder Troubles, Piles, Fistula and Blood Diseases, Wasting, Nervous and Chronic conditions, causing functional derangement, impairing strength and vitality.

[NEWS REPORTS FROM TIMES CORRESPONDENTS.]

IMPORTANT TO MANY CHURCHES.

CONGREGATIONALISTS HOLDING ANNUAL MEETING.

Pasadena Entertaining Delegates From All Sections of Southern California—Redondo Suicide Well Known in Pasadena—New School Building Without Sewer.

PASADENA, Office of The Times, No. 21 South Raymond Avenue, Sept. 26.—The opening gun of the nineteenth annual meeting of the General Congregational Association of Southern California was fired last night at the First Congregational Church. During the three days' session matters of vital import to the local governing body of the church will be considered and a notable feature of interest attendant upon the sessions will be the presence of a number of the delegates to the national conference, which has just closed at Seattle. Men and women of the three Congregational churches of Pasadena are entertaining the delegates at their homes and incidentally several informal affairs among the women's auxiliary organizations have been planned by Pasadena hostesses.

At the opening session of the association last night Dr. R. R. Meredith welcomed the visiting pastors of Southern California. He also extended a hearty welcome to members of other church denominations to attend the meetings. Dr. Meredith took occasion to define Congregationalism in its teachings of the gospel and further stated that the purpose of the association is to build up and strengthen Congregationalism in Southern California.

A brief response was made by the moderator, Rev. John M. Schaefle, of Los Angeles, who lauded the city of Pasadena as the peer of any in Southern California when it comes to harvesting the annual crop of tourists.

In the annual sermon to the association Rev. Clarence T. Brown, of San Diego, emphasized the Apostle Paul's faith in God with the text, "I Trust in God, Whose I Am and Whom I serve."

Dr. Judson Smith of Boston, closed the session with a discourse on, "The Crisis in Missions," a subject that was of special interest to all church workers in the audience, by one who has devoted almost a life time to that particular branch of church work. The subject referred to disturbances to missionary work in foreign countries by Russia, and included other phases of the momentous question.

The attendance at the opening session was not large, as the visiting delegates to the American Board of Missions will not arrive until this morning.

WAS CRAVENS COACHMAN.

Thomas Bray, the Pasadena man who committed suicide at Redondo Sunday, was at one time a coachman in the employ of John S. Cravens, president of the Los Angeles Southwestern National Bank, who resides on Orange Grove avenue. The man had worked for the Cravens stables up to a few weeks ago, and was considered by his employer to be a competent and reliable man. He was well known on the streets of Pasadena and considerable surprise as well as regret is expressed at the news of his death.

According to information from the beach town, Bray had made two previous attempts to end his life and the third time he succeeded. Coroner Trout held an inquest over the body Sunday and a jury returned a verdict of "suicide while in a fit of temporary mental aberration."

NO SEWER CONNECTION.

When the Washington school building at the northeast corner of Raymond avenue and Dakota street reopened yesterday for the fall term it was without sewer connection. The reason for this state of affairs, as given out, lies in the fact that the school authorities do not know how to locate the "Y's" in the recently completed Raymond-avenue system, and the only person in the wide, wide world who holds the secret is C. C. Brown, the foreman on the job, who is suing the city for back pay alleged to be due. Mr. Brown has been quoted as saying that he will not give up the key book until the city pays the bill, amounting to $102, and meanwhile numbers of property owners before the school authorities are being annual with the question of how to find the proper means of sewer connections. Altogether, the matter is likely to be in a serious state, and the probabilities are that there will be a delegation of Raymond-avenue property owners before the meeting of the City Council today to register a protest against existing conditions. Sanitary conditions at the Washington building are generally very good, and the City Health Officer does not believe any serious consequences will arise from the present state of affairs.

MUCH STREET WORK.

Property owners along Green street from Raymond avenue to Pasadena avenue are circulating a petition to have that thoroughfare with asphalt, and it is probable that the petition will be in readiness to present to the Council at the regular meeting of the body today. The distance to be covered by this latest projected street improvement is only four blocks, but it constitutes a logical extension of the rapidly growing business section of the city. Those in charge of the petitions state that no opposition has been encountered and there is every indication that the Council will view the matter in an equally favorable light.

The asphalted streets authorized or in prospect to date are the authorized paving with asphalt of South Fair Oaks avenue from Vineyard to Glenarm street; the proposed paving of North Raymond boulevard from Mountain avenue to Washington street; the paving of West Colorado street from Delacey street to Orange Grove boulevard, and the paving of Green street as above indicated. The asphalting of Fair oaks street through from Marengo avenue boulevard to Pasadena avenue has just recently been completed.

PUBLIC MEETING CALLED.

Matters of interest to the citizens at large are to come before a special session of the Council called for 2 o'clock this afternoon, and anyone interested is invited to attend the gathering. The purpose is to consider the several petitions that have come in criticism of the Pacific Electric Railway Company, chief among them being the protest against the maintenance of poles along North Lake avenue, whereas no track is laid and no cars are running, all of which, it is claimed, is in defiance of the franchise; also in violation of the right of the company to maintain its Orange Grove-avenue line, which expires soon, no line of which as yet been built; and lastly, the request of the company to supply water for commercial purposes from a new and presumably dangerous source. Legal representatives of the Pacific Electric are expected to be on hand, and the matter will be discussed from all sides in the hope of arriving at an amicable adjustment of all the difficulties involved.

EN PASSANT.

Humane Officer B. E. Sherwin yesterday swore out a complaint before Justice R. P. Congdon for the arrest of one L. Sutle, a contractor living at Garvanza, on the charge of cruelty to animals. The official of the Humane Society claims that one of Sutle's teamsters was driving an old and decrepit and overworked team.

William Nisle, a painter residing at No. 1007½ Summit avenue, was arrested last night by Officers Copping and Longley on a charge of stealing a wheel belonging to Ray Garwood. The alleged theft occurred nearly two weeks ago and the wheel was taken from the rear of the Michener & Hughes building. Young Garwood swore out a complaint before Justice Congdon, who admitted the defendant to the usual bail.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Vedder have returned from a month's vacation at Lake Tahoe.

At Sunnycrest, the beautiful home of Rev. and Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, a dinner was given last evening by the host and hostess to the members of the Los Angeles Ministers' Club.

Announcement is made that "Madame Jarley," whose wax enormities are supposed to melt only hearts, is billed to be in Pasadena Thursday night at All Saints' Parish House for the benefit of sweet charity. Mrs. Elmer Woodbury is to assist and a number of the young people of the parish take prominent parts.

The latest bulletin of people from the East bound for Pasadena comes from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where it is stated a party of sixty homeseekers is being made up. A local wit makes the assertion that the Iowa Legislature may soon be called upon to pass a law prohibiting that State from removing its entire population to Pasadena.

Dog owners who have not paid their annual license would better hurry, as the licenses have already become delinquent and Humane Officer Sherwin is preparing to issue warrants against all who have not paid up. Several arrests of this nature were made yesterday and Saturday, but upon the owner's payment of the license in each instance he was released.

That the name "North Pasadena," as applied to the recently annexed northern portion of the city is a misnomer and should be dropped, was the fact succinctly brought before the commissioners yesterday by Commissioner Burdette, and it is probable a general movement to abolish the "North" part of the name will be made.

Yesterday marked the reopening of Pasadena's public schools and the count of the enrollment showed a gain over last year of 582. As the total enrollment stands, the figure for this year is 3385, as against last year's 2805.

Mrs. Nancy Lee Beuhring, successor to Miss Diers, has just returned from New York, with an elegant line of Parisian and New York hats, and announces her opening days for Tuesday and Wednesday, September 26 and 27. 163 East Colorado street, Pasadena.

SANTA MONICA.

NAME MORE CHARTER FRAMERS.

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 25.—A petition was filed with City Clerk Hemingway this evening for the nomination of a second bunch of fifteen citizens to be voted for as freeholders to frame the proposed new charter.

This will inject a little spice in the election scheduled for October 17. The second nominees ask that their names be placed on the official ballot as the "Citizens' ticket." The nominees are G. H. Hutton, R. R. Tanner, W. I. Hull, B. L. Baisley, G. C. Boehme, T. H. Elliott, H. W. Keller, W. L. Muller, O. G. Tullis, F. E. Bundy, Dr. C. M. Lindsey, J. S. Wilson, Thomas Menzies, Alf Morris and George D. Pendleton. The first three names are on both tickets. One feature of the later ticket is that none of the City Trustees are proposed as members of the charter commission.

JAILED FOR ALLEGED THEFT.

The other evening George Greenough spent the night with Ray McNeal in the latter's room on Fraser avenue. Both are employés in City Engineer James's office and McNeal, upon returning to his sleeping apartments in the evening, missed his overcoat, dress suit, jeweled cigarette case and diamond ring. Suspicion's finger pointed toward Greenough and a search warrant succeeded in unearthing the plunder. It was found in a trunk at Greenough's room on Ocean avenue. Greenough was placed under arrest and in default of bail is in the Los Angeles Jail, held to answer at the pleasure of the District Attorney to a felony charge.

TRACTION FOR MALIBU.

It required a week to unload and remove to the Malibu ranch the large traction engine that recently arrived. It weighs thirteen tons and to carry the weight the culverts and bridges had to be strengthened and considerable road had to be built. The separator that accompanied it weighs seven tons. There was only a half-inch of sea room in piloting the ponderous machinery through picturesque Arch Rock. The engine has every modern device, including electric lights, and it and the separator will be busy for some time in thrashing the bean crop.

COSTLY AID TO PRISONERS.

It cost William Eckhardt $40 today in City Recorder Guidinger's court for having assisted two prisoners to escape from Officer Ramsey. The men escaped temporarily, but Eckhardt was taken in tow. Later the others were apprehended. They were Martin Hansen and J. Wilkinson. One paid $15 and the other $10 for having disturbed the peace.

SEASHORE BLUFF ECHOES.

The only Sunday mail leaving the beach goes at 6 a.m., but the railway mail service department is endeavoring to arrange for the departure of a second mail at noon. One object of the proposed additional Sunday mail service is to in a measure relieve the congestion of Monday.

H. E. Crossley succeeded in landing a twenty-five-pound yellowtail at the North Beach pier today.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Palmer are en route home after a summer spent at Bangor, Me., and in Europe.

Mrs. J. C. Howell, Denver; Mr. and Mrs. John Howarth, Pittsburgh; Mrs. A. M. Hedges, Newark, N. J.; H. B. Martin, Eatontown, N. J., are at the Arcadia.

OCEAN PARK.

NO LICENSE FOR MARCHETTI.

OCEAN PARK, Sept. 25.—The City Trustees tonight decided not to renew the liquor license for Marchetti for the St. Mark's hotel in Venice. Marchetti says that Abbot Kinney has made no offer to buy him out. As a result of the action taken tonight Marchetti's license will expire with the end of September.

HURLED BY CAR IS MOTORMAN.

THROWN THROUGH WINDOW AT LONG BEACH.

Accident Nearly Costs Man His Life, but He Escapes Without Serious Injury—Question of Bands Puzzles the City Trustees Who Are to Announce Decision Today.

LONG BEACH, Sept. 25.—A bit of carelessness almost cost Hugh Wagner, a Pacific Electric motorman, his life last midnight.

His car from Los Angeles only went west to Magnolia, where it switched over to the south track. When the car arrived at the station Conductor Driscoll left the car to turn in his report and Wagner undertook to make the switch. In making this the trolley left the wire, leaving the car in darkness. Wagner changed tracks and then walked around to the rear to swing his trolley on the south wire.

While doing this a local dinky car swung around Magnolia avenue, and taking the switch, crashed into the stationary car, striking Wagner full in the back and hurling him through the window of his car. He was badly cut by glass and received injuries to his chest, none of which, however, are serious.

WHICH BAND?

The band situation will probably be settled at an adjourned meeing of the City Trustees Tuesday morning. At today's session a petition signed by 520 citizens asked a renewal with the Marine Band, with the proviso that one of its members be given full control, in effect the same conditions as now exist. D. Gatone, manager of Donatelli, submitted a revised proposition, withdrawing any guarantee demand, but asking the privilege of an occasional paid concert, in addition to the dances. He offers to play thirty men. S. D. Bryan of Ocean Park will furnish fifteen men for $250 a week and dance receipts. E. H. Willey offers to furnish thirty men and good music. The Trustees considered the question in executive session tonight, and will announce their decision Tuesday morning.

WEST LONG BEACH TROLLEY.

The Pacific Electric Railway Company today asked the City Trustees to advertise for sale a franchise for an electric road extending from Seaside Park west along Railroad avenue to Terminal Inn, in West Long Beach. C. O. Sumner of Terminal Island asked the Trustees to take prompt action. He said that since the recent annexation there has been much friction with San Pedro merchants, who refused to sell or deliver goods to them, and that they are compelled to come to Long Beach to buy a loaf of bread. The Salt Lake trains are not frequent enough, he said. The City Attorney was instructed to examine the resolution offered and report to the Trustees tomorrow morning, when, if found correct, the franchise will be offered for sale. The Trustees also instructed the Public Works Committee to have lights installed and pavements repaired at Terminal Island.

LONG BEACH JOTTINGS.

The City Trustees today adopted a resolution ordering in asphalt paving on a part of Locust, American and Ocean avenues and on Third street.

This morning Messrs. Davis & McGruder, owners of the Long Beach aquarium, turned their fish specimens back to Mother Ocean and went out of business. The building will be remodeled for other purposes. The enterprise has been a failure, the patronage having been very light.

"Red" Bailey was arrested yesterday by Officer Phillips. He is wanted at Fullerton for alleged embezzlement, and was taken back today.

William Henry Woodruff, convicted several months ago for frequenting a blind pig and fined $50, has appealed his case to the Superior Court.

The Holly Stock Company appeared in H. Hollingsworth's new play, "Capital and Labor," Wednesday evening at the Tabernacle. Mr. Hollingsworth, the author, is a native of Los Angeles, and is but 17 years old. He appeared in the cast, with the following: A. B. Wheeler, W. J. Turner, R. V. Bradford, P. R. Castillo, E. Rankin, G. A. Rogers, R. Schmidt, P. R. Castillo, Miss Adeline Wilde, Miss Juanita De Vere, Miss Elisabeth Lowe and Miss Marie Benninger.

POMONA.

AMATEUR CIRCUS SUCCESS.

POMONA, Sept. 25.—Co. D's amateur circus closed with a bang Saturday night after a successful series of entertainments of three nights' duration. A fantastic street parade led by the Seventh Regiment Band attracted a large crowd, and the voices of the "barkers," the tones of megaphones and a siren whistle made a great racket. The military boys, under direction of Capt. Henjum, who planned the affair, have worked hard for the success of the circus and are declared to be deserving of the neat sum netted, which will be expended upon gymnasium apparatus and equipment for the new armory.

W. J. Charlesworth of Kansas City, J. E. Graves of St. Louis, B. J. Grassly of Des Moines, R. H. McDonald of Fort Worth, W. L. Moulton of Baltimore, and E. M. Wood of Indianapolis, eastern agents of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, were guests of the officers of the San Antonio Fruit Exchange and visited the orange groves of this locality today.

Miss Helen Leach of Los Angeles spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Tinsley here.

Sixty carloads of lemons have been shipped this year from the old Packard ranch near San José hills, now owned by A. W. Wright. The gross returns for this fruit have been about $55,000. The present walnut crop at the ranch will be about thirty-five tons.

Miss Nellie Lawrence was here from Etiwanda to spend Sunday with her parents.

Rev. C. D. Williamson and J. F. Elder have gone to San Diego to represent the Pomona Presbyterian Church at the fall meeting of the Southern California presbytery.

The Students of the Pomona High School have decided henceforth to make a monthly publication of their annual, the "Cardinal."

SIERRA MADRE.

RUSH TROLLEY CONSTRUCTION.

SIERRA MADRE, Sept. 25.—Work is being rushed on the construction of the Pacific Electric trolley line from Lamanda Park to Sierra Madre.

Miss Fanny Bixby of Long Beach was the guest of Mrs. A. S. Bixby and family last week.

Mr. T. E. Hanson, son and daughter have returned from two months' stay at Hermosa Beach.

Capt. and Mrs. J. A. Osgood have returned from Santa Maria.

Miss Lilly Lampson of Los Angeles is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. S. R. G. Twycross and family.

Mrs. B. Wilson and Miss Taylor entertained several ladies and gentlemen from Los Angeles Sunday.

Miss M. L. Smith arrived last week from Port Townsend, Wash., and will be the guest of Mrs. and Mr. Stanton for several weeks.

Fifty new cottages on Wilson Peak are soon to be in readiness for the winter guests.

Dr. Lee and bride of Los Angeles have taken the Howes cottage on Baldwin avenue and will occupy it until their new house is built.

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Rice of Los Angeles were the guests of Mrs. Bert Andrews and mother the past week.

TROPICO.

HOME GOES IN FIRE.

TROPICO, Sept. 25.—The house occupied by Julian Villabox, Southern Pacific foreman, was destroyed by fire this evening. It started from the explosion of a lamp. Mr. Villabox was in a neighboring building working on his reports and thought the cries of fire which he heard were the idle shouts of boys. John Henry Burke saw the flames and, running to the place, played a hose stream so as to save a house on an adjoining lot. Only a box of clothing was saved from the Villabox home.

VENICE.

"TRAIL" ATTRACTIONS.

VENICE, Sept. 25.—While no official announcement is made to that effect, still it is known that the negotiations that have been under way for some time have been concluded and as a result a score or more of the "Trail" attractions will be brought from the Lewis and Clark Fair at Portland and installed at Venice for the winter. This means the construction of a $50,000 coliseum to house the attractions. This is to be located on the "Frolic" pier, just north of the Windward-avenue wharf. This pier is built over the intake pipes that fill the canal and is to be widened and extended a hundred and twenty-five feet seaward. It must be completed and ready for occupation by December 1, the date of the arrival of the performers. While official verification of the contract is refused, there is no concealing the fact that preparations are being pushed for the commencement of work on the pier and coliseum.

MONROVIA.

WATER USERS PAY BILLS.

MONROVIA, Sept. 25.—The delinquent water consumers, whose various contentions against the water rate have been the subject of many resolutions by the Board of City Trustees, have come in a rush to settle today, and there are now only two who have not paid within the time limit set by the board. They have promised to pay tomorrow.

The amount of money involved in the fifty accounts of water consumers was not a large one, but official authority has been flaunted since H. C. Jellison, water superintendent, was arrested something over a year ago for enforcing the city's water ordinance. This ordinance was declared invalid by the courts, and a new one was enacted, similar in intent, but conforming to certain technicalities in its passage, that had been omitted with the first ordinance.

This was at the time that the city first passed from flat charges to meter rates, and until now the authorities have not shown a determined front in putting down objections or differences in the interpretation of the ordinance.

The union revivalist services with Dr. E. J. Bulgin in the pulpit, already are well attended. Dr. Bulgin preached to a large congregation Sunday morning, and to nearly as many this evening.

BROADWAY & 5TH LOS ANGELES
"SOMETHING DOING"
STEELE FARIS & WALKER CO.

Advance Information

If you have been past the corner of 5th and Broadway lately, you can not fail to have noticed the finished air that the 5th Street Store is assuming. The awnings are up now; the signs have been placed—the handsomest signs on the street, too. Of course, you don't buy the signs and are not especially interested in them. Still they are indicative in a general way of the goodness of the store itself; just as on first sight a man is judged by his outward appearance. The front entrance is finished, too. The doors are new, original and beautifully attractive. Other merchants are finding in that door arrangement a decided improvement over anything heretofore tried.

Information Department

This department is to be a special feature. A bright, clever, engaging woman is at the head of it. She is absolutely at your service and will tell you anything you want to know. She will answer all kinds of questions about this establishment and will give you information of any kind about the city and surrounding towns; where to go; how long it takes; how much it costs; what you see; how to go to the place; what is raised in that locality; where this church is or that tract; this theater or that restaurant. In fact, anything of any kind which you are in doubt about, ask this office, either in person or through the 'phone. Both phones 874.

"The Pit"

Right at the front entrance you will find a circular counter devoted every day to the sale of different merchandise. Always "Something Doing." Aways some merchandise ridiculously low priced. We have christened this space "The Pit," from its circular shape; from the crowds that will be attracted by the merchandise; from the active trading which will take place there and the general similarity of this "Pit" to the pits in the Stock Exchanges. Unlike these exchange pits, however, sales here will be actual sales. Values at this particular spot will be real and big. The trading will always be on a falling market. You will hear much of this Pit in days to come. This will serve to introduce it to you.

Announcement of the opening date in a day or so now. Watch for it. Make your arrangements to be on hand without fail at this opening occasion.

Transactions on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday were confined almost entirely to Associated Oil. The bears were in force as usual, but their efforts were unavailing. The stock stiffened under a demand whose absorbing power seemed unlimited. But there was no heavy buying. Trading amounted to all to 26,000 shares, but these were in uniform lots of 1000, and changed hands at 59¾ to 59¼. Fullerton Oil gained ¼. Olinda Land also gained fractionally, but Union lost ¼. Brite Lode gained 2 points.

Broadway Bank and Trust gained another point, and Commercial National went to 204½, a gain of ½.

Corona Power and Water bonds appreciated slightly under demand, and the Pasadena Home Telephone bond was sold at 91¾.

San Diego Home Telephone gained ¾. United States Long Distance Telephone also stiffening under demand.

Los Angeles Home Telephone stock lost ¼. Pasadena Home Telephone gained ¼, and a bid of 60¾ was made for United States Long Distance Telephone.

FARMERS' AND MERCHANTS' DIVIDEND. At the regular monthly meeting of the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank the quarterly dividend of 10 per cent, on a capital stock of $1,500,000 was declared. The dividend will be payable on and after October 2.

HOME TELEPHONE COMPANY. The Los Angeles Home Telephone Company will draw upon the new bonds for 75 per cent. of the cost of construction or the installation of telephones. Assuming that the putting in of phones averages $125, the bond expenditure in each case would be $100. Each bond of $1000 would, on this basis, put in ten phones, but the earning capacity of each bond will be $240 a year for residence phones. From this is deducted a third, or $80, for maintenance, and $50 interest on the bonds, which would leave a net earning capacity of $110, or 11 per cent., applicable to the common stock, which amount, however, will be used for some time for installation purposes.

THE MONEY MARKET. Money is easy, with no change in rate.

Time money, 60 to 90 days, 4 per cent., from 4 to 6 months, 4 per cent.

Comercial paper, 60 to 90 days, indorsed bills, 7 per cent.

CREDIT MEN'S MEETING. The members of the Credit Men's Association will resume their monthly meetings with a spread at the Cafe Bristol, Thursday evening, beginning at 6 o'clock.

ITALIAN SILK SHORTAGE. Consul Dunning, stationed at Milan, Italy, in his report on Italy's production of silk says:

The statistics of the Italian silk season of 1904-5 show that excessive rains in the month of May and the unusual humidity of the atmosphere during the feeding season of the silkworms had a retarding effect on the results for the year. Though the figures show a steady rise over those of a year ago, the industry has not yet regained its normal status before the severe losses of the silk season 1903-04, which resulted in financial loss to the spinners.

The season of 1904-05 was looked to to make up the loss. It has not done so. In June, 1904, raw silk of 10-12 (ten-twelfths) standard, the prevailing quality for comparisons, was valued at $7.28 per 2.2 pounds, and prices of cocoons were relatively low. Here are the prices for each month of the season of 1904-5:

June	$7.28
July	7.47
August	7.47
September	7.57
October	7.80
November	8.00
December	8.25

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

The produce market yesterday was unusually quiet for Monday, and although few changes were made in prices there was a weak undertone in sympathy with the light demand.

Eggs were steady at 25 to 26 cents, but the market was weak at these figures, as the trade called less for fresh ranch and more for fresh eastern at 5 to 6 cents less.

Butter was in good request at 25 to 27½ cents, and valley arrivals were well cleaned up.

Peaches were jobbing at 60 to 1.00, clings 1.25, fancy northern stocks, 1.00 to 1.25.

Liberal supplies of grapes came in, mostly Tokays and Muscats, the former jobbing at 85 to 1.00; Muscats, 50 to 65, with extra fancy lots moving 75 cents.

Plums were about steady, Keiseys jobbing at 35 cents; Hungarian prunes, 4 to 5 cents.

Pomegranates were steady, at 85 to 1.00.

Figs were abundant, and in a fairly good buying interest at 50 to 60 cents for blacks; 60 to 80 for whites.

Strawberries were weak under a moderate demand, Gardenas jobbing at 4 to 5 cents; Tropicos, 6 2-3.

Bananas were steady at 4½ cents, with no fresh receipts.

Watermelons and cantaloupes were in little better demand, though the watermelon market was declined to be irregular, ranging from 30 to 1.25; cantaloupes, however, were in good request at 1.50 to 1.75.

Potatoes were about steady, although fancy northern stock was selling at 90 cents in carload lots, and jobbing at 1.00 to 1.10, an advance of several cents over the prices of last week. Extra fancy Salinas were moving at 1.25 to 1.50.

Onions were weak under liberal receipts, whites jobbing at 60 cents and yellow Danvers 75.

The vegetable market was quiet and featureless, tomatoes jobbing at 20 to 30 cents; cabbage, 40 to 50; peas were weak, at 2½ to 3 cents; beans, 2½ to 3; wax beans, 3 cents; Limas, 1½ to 2; cucumbers, 25 to 35 cents; chiles, 1½ to 2; bell peppers, 2 to 3.

Very little poultry came into the market, but prices were unchanged.

Large fish were plentiful, and small scarce. Lobsters were scarce, with an active demand.

NEW YORK MARKETS.
SHARES AND MONEY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Speculative liquidation today overbore the resistance offered by the stock market through all of last week, and carried prices comprehensively to a lower level. The consolidation of the money supply was the impelling cause. The volume of offerings was large and liquidation at times showed signs of urgency. The day's immediate factors in the money market have been heralded for weeks, but have been disregarded in the operations to advance prices. The temper of the stock market for many days has been to discard prospective influences and pay attention to nothing but the actual recall of credits in which stock-market holdings were involved. Such recall was in force on a large scale today by the banks. The conditions of the banks, as they stood in the showing of the Saturday bank statement, and the heavy credit requirements to be met this week are abundant explanation for the course of the banks in contracting loans, without taking account of the renewal of the drain on their cash reserves which was set up again with the opening of the week. Between now and the close of the week payments are to be made of an installment of subscriptions to Atchison convertible bonds, which calls for $12,000,000, and to an installment of subscriptions to Pennsylvania convertible bonds, which calls for $50,000,000, except as modified by payments in full already made. As the month closes with the week, provision must also be made for the quarterly settlements, the requirements for which are unusually large this year. The calling of loans was allowedly preparation for the accommodation of these needs. Meantime the benefit secured by the banks last week from subtreasury payments has been reversed by the completion of the mid-month pension payments. Today's subtreasury statement shows a loss already by the banks of $1,940,000, and the government institution had a large credit balance at the clearinghouse this morning. In addition $200,000 was deposited at the subtreasury to be transferred by telegraph to St. Louis. The assertions circulated Saturday that $5,000,000 was already on the way to San Francisco in Australian gold found no confirmation, although conditions pointed to the possibility of such a movement. Assertions of additional gold purchases today in London for New York were verified only after the market closed by the announcement of about $1,800,000 secured. Foreign exchange rose quite sharply in this market, and the price of gold was marked up in London. London had some difficulty of its own, and was disturbed by reported labor troubles in the South Wales coalfields, and by the approach of a periodical stock-market settlement. Canadian Pacific was markedly affected on this account, owing to fears of an excessive commitment in the London market. News of general affairs continued favorable, but the uniformity of recent reports of increasing railroad traffic was verified this week by damage caused by floods in the Southwest. The recent annual report of the Atchison and the heavy losses for the year there, shown from the damage by flood, enforced the influence of the news. The failure of the St. Paul stockholders to take action towards issuing new stock caused disappointment on the part of speculators who have counted very confidently on such action. The announcement of the closing of a bank at Kansas City was of some sentimental influence. The trading in stock became very dull at times, but it was only in the pauses of liquidation and when the market was active, prices declined. The closing was irregular, but near the lowest. Bonds were heavy. Total sales, par value, $2,686,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on call.

Treasury Statement.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Today's statement of the Treasury shows: Available cash balance, $135,561,869; gold coin and bullion, $85,403,746; gold certificates, $45,476,900.

New York Metal Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The English metal markets were generally higher. Tin advanced to £146 7s 6d for spot and £145 7s 6d for futures. Locally, the market was quiet and only a shade higher, in response to the gains abroad, at 32.05@32.10. Copper had a considerable gain abroad, closing at £76 5s for spot and £69 17s 6d for futures. Locally, the situation seems very unsettled. Large producers are said to be holding for 16¾ to 17c, but consumers seem pretty well supplied for the time being, and the small requirements in the market find scattering supply from outside sources. The market was a little steadier. Lake and Electrolytic, 16.00 @16.37½; smelting, 15.75@16.00. Lead was quiet locally, and the London market was unchanged. Spelter closed at £26 17s 6d in London and at 5.90@6.00 in the local market. Iron locally was firm.

FIVE TIMES SHOT, LIVES.

Surgeons Remove Bullets from Detective Left for Dead and Now He is Recovering.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—After the removal of five 38-calibre bullets from his body, Joseph Guidivinski, a railroad detective, shot August 18, in a battle with a freight thief, was pronounced yesterday on the road to recovery.

The detective, according to the Fordham Hospital surgeons, presents one of the most remarkable cases of physical endurance that has ever come under their care. After his battle with the thief, Guidivinski was believed dead, but he was driven three miles to Fordham where it was found he had been shot over the right eye, while another bullet had entered the forehead near the left temple, two lodged in the abdomen and a fifth struck the left thigh, piercing the bone.

He revived, and was immediately put upon the operating table. After three hours' work, two bullets were removed from his head. Two weeks later, an attempt was made to reach the bullets in his abdomen. One had lodged in the wall of the stomach but the other was in the spleen. This necessitated a long and extremely difficult operation. Two minor operations followed, and the last piece of lead was removed yesterday.

DEBRIS CLOSES SUEZ CANAL.

Blowing up of Sunken Steamer Halts Traffic for Two Weeks Through Great Waterway.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Czarnikow, McDougall & Co. of this city received the following cablegram today: "It is probable Suez Canal will be closed fourteen days; debris. Chatham."

The steamer Chatham was sunk in the Suez Canal early in the month, and it was announced that she was to be blown up with dynamite Saturday. It is inferred that the banks of the canal were damaged by the blowing up of the vessel, hence the report that the canal will probably be closed for two weeks until the damage will be repaired.

The report created considerable excitement in the sugar trade, as the closing of the canal will delay arrival of several cargoes of Java sugar due to arrive at the Atlantic ports during the latter part of October and November.

The time allowed for a steamer to make a trip from the Suez Canal to New York is twenty-four to twenty-five days.

COOK SUES AUTHOR.

"Did you expect that I would go over the whole platter and bite each piece?" asked Mrs. Peet, raising her eyebrows in an acid manner.

"You took the only good-looking piece——"

"Pardon me," said Mrs. Peet coldly. "It was not good-looking; it was dreadful-looking."

The cook's eyes were flashing fire when they called her to the stand. The look that she gave Mr. Johns was bloodshed and murder.

JOHNNY-TEA-BISCUITS.

"It wasn't corn bread," she said bitterly. "Anyone with any instinct for cooking," she said and repeated crushingly: "anyone with the slightest instinct for cooking would know they were tea biscuits."

"As for coffee," she said, "I am not throwing any bouquets at myself, but I learned to make coffee from a lady who can cook as well as anyone in the United States and she is now at the Auditorium Hotel in Chicago."

NOT A CIRCUS, A UNIVERSITY.

'Amazing Things Seen Under Acres of Canvas.

"Greatest Show on Earth" Not a Misnomer.

Best of Its Kind that Ever Came to the Coast.

They were all there—at the circus—and those who didn't go yesterday will today. In the rhythmic language of the small boy: "Oh, say! but it was gay!"

A pretty, pink-cheeked University girl lapsed into limerick as the procession of elephants trundled in and chanted softly under her breath:

"The elephant is a funny beast,
He is a pachyderm;
He's smaller than a mastodon,
But larger than a germ"—Yes, several sizes.

Henry Ward Beecher declared years ago that Barnum & Bailey's show had ceased to be an exhibition, and had become a great national institution. To this might now be added "and international," for it maintains two foreign offices, in London and in Paris, and has exhibited before thirty nations of the earth with five years of continual tours in Europe.

NOT A MERE SHOW.

And it would really seem that an organization that costs more than $50,000 per week to run, that requires the services of over one thousand people and maintains for them a Red Cross Hospital, with attendants; an independent weather bureau, a postoffice that distributes daily more than one thousand letters; a chaplain to preach to them, an attorney to settle legal questions, that employs a herde of stenographers, book-keepers, treasurers and clerks; keeps up blacksmith, wagon and paint shops, carries 700 horses, 100 cages of animals, twelve acres of canvas, twenty tons of steel apparatus for a single feature of the performance, to say nothing of the tons and tons of other paraphernalia used in this mammoth hippodrome-circus-menagerie combination, that requires eighty-six cars to transport—and all this maintained en route—it would seem that such an organization was entitled to some more comprehensive designation than simply —"a show."

It's a liberal education—what you might call a university training, in fact—in nature and animal study, acrobatic feats, hair-raising aerial exploits and "superb, surpassing, sublime and sensational surprises" (see press agent,) to sit for a couple of hours under the big five-acre tent in Prager Park.

Barnum & Bailey's has never been West of Denver before, and the people of Los Angeles expressed their appreciation of the fact by smashing in the big plate-glass window of the Owl Drug Store, where the tickets were put on sale, in their enthusiasm and eagerness to possess themselves of the bits of pasteboard that admitted to the "greatest show on earth." The police had to interfere, and the streets ran not red with blood—but fragrant with perfume and violet water, bottles of which got badly battered in the rush. The main tent seats nearly 15,000 people, and there was not a vacant place to be seen at the opening performance yesterday afternoon.

RAREST OF THEIR KIND.

The menagerie has over two hundred animals, and not a commonplace one among them. It has the oldest elephant in captivity, over 70 years of age; it has a quartette of high-headed giraffes that can't be beat; it has a hippotamus as big as a barn door that rejoices in the name of "Babe;" then there is the white-tailed gnu and the fat-tailed sheep, the red river hog and the fallow deer, the cassowary, the Himalayan tahr, the axis deer, the jella goat, the aoudad, the water buck and the blessed bok—besides plain common animals—tigers, lions, bears, monkeys, hyenas and leopards—only all of these are the best and rarest types of their kind. A splendid educational feature of the menagerie is the map on each cage indicating the exact location of the country of which the animal is a native.

OH, WHAT A CIRCUS!

But the circus! It was rich and rare beyond compare! Such aerial acrobats, such soul-thrilling sensations, such equestrian acts, such animal antics, such death-defying deeds with wheel and trapeze and automobile—and the cleverest company of clowns in creation.

It was a jolly, joyous crowd that shrieked with glee when the band struck up, and the two biggest elephants in the lot led the grand entrance pageant with their gorgeous trappings. Slowly the pachyderms trundled around the course and and into the center ring bearing in the pagodas on their huge backs representatives of the Viceroy and Vicerine of India, while the whole gay pageant passed in review. A troop of elephants and a herd of camels paraded majestically two by two, their riders in elegant costumes bowing and smiling at the delighted throng. Sandwiched between the tall giant and the midgets, was the sambourine sextette of bewitching maidens, the Bedouins, with the golden gongs, the mail-clad warriors mounted on horses—altogether a great and glorious panorama of iridescent and scintillating splendor.

After this introduction the ring masters appeared, the bareback riders came prancing in, the clowns got busy, the whips cracked, the human wonders in pink and blue and green tights turned graceful somersaults and handsprings, the high-wire walkers did their stunts and the circus was fairly on. For two hours the great audience was held spellbound by the marvelous sights. The girl in the scarlet tights turned herself into a human Indian rubber ball, the man with chin whiskers mounted a ladder that was supported on nothing but the ambient air, the little Jap climbed a tall pole by sheer magnetism—there wasn't a thing to hold to—the clowns indulged in a pugilistic combat, and the one with the pumpkin-colored hair and stub feet was taken off in a wheelbarrow, the Russian wolfhounds leaped, and the little dogs danced to see the fun, the graceful waltzing horses skipped round and round the course, the tallyho took the center ring, the troop of aerialists in pea-green tights got up in the roof of the big tent and walked and leaped on air and swung through space, the geese and roosters, and the mules and monkeys took a hand in the merry mix-up, the bicycle wizard took his fearful flight, the Roman riders, jockeys and chariots raced round and round, the French woman looped the loop in her automobile, and oh—words fail!

Go and see it yourself. It's worth seeing.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

THE children were not the only ones who rejoiced at the advent of the circus yesterday, for a group of society people of the young set formed the merriest box party of the evening performance, taking in every one of the delights that the show afforded and enjoying a real Dutch supper afterward. The young men, the hosts of the affair, included Messrs. E. R. Monk, Fred B. Parker, Frank Kemper, Arthur Koyer and Ed Monk, while the young ladies of the party were Misses Gertrude Gooding, Sarah Goodrich, Edith Kirkpatrick, Grace Monk and Kittie Kurtz. Miss Gooding gave the supper at the family residence on Grand avenue.

Miss Gooding and her mother, Mrs. H. Clay Gooding, anticipate a royal time this winter, as they leave in about two weeks for the East, to be gone seven months, and will be lavishly entertained in the social coteries of several of the largest cities, including New York, Washington, Boston and St. Louis. The first stop will be made at the Grand Cañon, and they will then go directly to St. Louis, and thence to Evansville, Ind., where they will visit Mrs. Gooding's mother in their old home place in this southern town just across the boundary from Kentucky, noted for its cordial hospitality.

The Gooding home on Grand avenue will be occupied this winter by a prominent mining man from Salt Lake City, Robert Grant, who will install his young daughter and son, under the care of their governess. It is rumored that Mr. Grant has come to make a trial of the city this season, with the view of eventually settling here and building a handsome home.

For Miss Works's Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffing Bancroft and daughter of San Diego, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Works of 2695 Orchard avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Works of San Diego, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Herman Darling of 2000 South Union avenue, all having come up for the marriage of their sister, Miss Isabel Works and Richard Burritt of Connecticut, which will be solemnized this evening, at the bride's home.

For Army Nurses.

The annual reception to army nurses will be given by the Stanton Woman's Relief Corps the evening of October 6, at the rooms of Stanton Post and Corps, No. 125½ South Spring street.

Tuesday's Weddings.

Instead of Wednesday being the day of all the weddings, Tuesday seems to take the palm this week. Besides the marriage of Miss Works and Mr. Burritt, there is pretty Miss Gladys Chase of Hollywood, who will become the bride of Jay Herrington, this evening, the marriage being quite an affair in Hollywood social circles as well as of interest in Los Angeles.

Another home wedding this evening is that of Miss Edith Louise Weiser and Harold Warren Barham, at the family residence, No. 1718 South Flower street, Rev. Hugh K. Walker officiating.

The only church wedding of today's list will be that of Miss Blanche Montgomery and Austin Hooser, which will take place at the Second Presbyterian Church this evening. Miss Etta Farris and John O. Bodkin will be wedded this evening at the bride's home, No. 1042 Temple street.

Les Freres Banquet.

The first banquet of the season given by that brotherly combination known as "Les Freres," will take place this evening at Christopher's Broadway café, and will come immediately after a regular business session of this organization. The club intends giving its opening ball October 6, at Kramer's Hall, when Stamm's Orchestra will furnish the accompaniment for "tripping the light fantastic."

Luncheon at Jonathan.

Herbert L. Cornish entertained Saturday with an elaborate luncheon at the Jonathan Club in honor of the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Burroughs, Miss Burroughs, Mona Burroughs of Chicago, Ill., R. B. McMahon of Greenville, Miss., and Mrs. Jennie L. Cornish.

Notes and Personals.

Miss Mollie Beyley Wilson, contralto in the choir of the Immanuel Presbyterian Church has returned from a visit to San Francisco.

Mrs. J. F. Kanst of No. 432 Westlake avenue, who has been in a hospital for a considerable period, has recovered sufficiently to be at home again.

Harry Oldham has returned from spending the summer vacation with his relatives in Kentucky. He and his brother will be located for the winter at Harvard School, as Mrs. Oldham leaves in a week or two to spend the season in the East.

Mr. and Mrs. John Falvelle and niece, Miss Nunziella Zottarelli, of No. 701 South Hill street, have returned from the San Antonio Mountains, where they spent the summer, the two ladies will now be at home to friends.

Mrs. J. H. Brenner will be at home today at her residence, No. 937 South Burlington avenue.

ALMOST A RIOT AT THE CIRCUS.

POLICE SAVE TICKET WAGON FROM ANGRY CROWD.

Several Thousand Disappointed Persons, Unable to Secure Seats Make Rush When Sale of Tickets Stops and Police Are Called to Drive Them Back.

Half a score of uniformed policemen, assisted by five detectives, and this force supported by twice as many circus employés had a lively ten minutes at the circus grounds last night saving one of the big ticket wagons from an angry crowd.

The trouble was due to the fact that the big tent could not hold all the people who wanted to see the show. When the sale of tickets suddenly stopped, there were more than 3000 persons around the ticket wagon clamoring for tickets.

It is a rule of the Barnum & Bailey people to sell no more tickets than the capacity of their big tent justifies. Each ticket is numbered and, at all times, the ticket sellers know how many tickets have been disposed of. When the limit is reached the sale stops, and, no matter who is disappointed, no additional tickets are sold.

The uptown sale of seats yesterday nearly reached the limit for all sales placed by the circus management, and when the crowd began surging around the ticket wagon at the grounds, there were comparatively few tickets to be sold. Due warning was given the crowd that the sale would stop at a certain time, and stop it did.

Then things began to look squally. The big crowd surged about the wagon until it was almost overturned. Those in the wagon called for help and a score or more of circus employés responded, but they could do nothing in such a jam. Police whistles sounded by the circus employés brought nearly all the uniformed patrolmen within hearing to the scene, and these, with the detectives, forced their way to the wagon, braced themselves against it, and by main force held off the crowd. Those nearest the wagon found it impossible to get out of the crush, and the police could not use their clubs to drive the people back. Other officers were summoned, and after fifteen minutes' struggling the wagon was taken under one of the small tents.

CIRCUS-TICKET SCALPING.

The Law Violated—Messenger Boys on the Carpet at Police Station.

Ticket speculators who bought up circus tickets at wholesale and resold them at a profit yesterday stand a fine chance of being arrested and punished.

The attention of the police was called to the fact that the last Legislature passed a law against ticket speculating, the statute reading as follows:

"Every person who sells, or offers for sale, any ticket or tickets to any theater or other public place of amusement, at a price in excess of that charged originally by the management of such theater or public place of amusement, is guilty of a misdemeanor."

It was too late, however, when the police were reminded of this law, to put a stop to most of the graft.

As early as midnight the line began to form in front of the ticket window. Messengers had formed syndicates for grafting. Hundreds of dollars were squeezed out of honest people by these leeches. Messenger boys would buy $100 worth of tickets and sell them in a short time for $200; then buy again.

The regular price of the ticket speculators was $2 for a $1 ticket.

During the day, several messenger boys were brought into the office of the Chief of Police. These were on the carpet, not for speculating but on suspicion. Last year these same boys took people's money under orders to buy tickets, then coolly resold the tickets, sometimes stealing the original money; sometimes returning it after using it to work their speculative games. These boys were pulled out of line this year by virtue of their previous records.

Capt. Bradish stated that no arrests were made for pure speculating. He admitted that the law was a "new one on me."
